Minority Language Planning and Micronationalism in Italy Paolo Coluzzi, 2007. Issues of language planning and minority nationalism or micronationalism are becoming increasingly important in a globalized world. Yet minority language planning in Italy and its relation to minority nationalism has so far attracted relatively limited academic attention despite the particularly interesting changes that have taken place since Law 482 on the protection of minority languages was passed in 1999. This book presents the situation in Italy in three case studies and compares them with similar cases in Spain: Friulian compared with Galician, Cimbrian compared with Aranese and Western Lombard compared with Asturian. Analysis of these case studies is preceded by a clear and thorough introduction to terminology, legislation in the two countries, nationalism, the discipline of language planning and bilingual education both in general terms and with specific reference to the Italian and Spanish cases. This first part introduces and defines the crucial distinction between minority and regional languages, between macro and micronationalism both in their conservative and progressive strands and between majority and minority language planning among other things.

Taking Stance in English as a Lingua Franca Maicol Formentelli, 2017-06-23. English is undoubtedly the lingua franca of global communication today and plays a major role in the internationalisation of universities where it is increasingly being used as the medium of instruction. The use of English as a Lingua Franca (ELF) in higher education has spread at different speeds throughout Europe over recent decades with Nordic and central western countries leading the way and the regions of southern Europe lagging behind. In Italy, English taught programmes are a rather new and emerging phenomenon which needs to be empirically investigated to uncover the complex mechanisms of classroom interaction in this foreign language. The present volume focuses on one aspect of ELF academic exchanges that is deemed crucial in the transmission of knowledge in the educational setting: namely the management of interpersonal relations and the expression of interpersonal stance in the classroom. To this end, a model has been developed along the four dimensions of formality, power, social distance and respect and has been applied to the analysis of a corpus of ELF lectures recorded in an Italian university. The examination of naturally occurring ELF lectures reveals a complex combination of linguistic strategies that lecturers exploit at the macro level of discourse, interpersonal episodes and at the micro level of lexis and morpho-syntax: direct questions, comprehension checks, imperatives, personal pronouns and terms of address to express interpersonal meanings and build rapport with their students in response to specific expressive and communicative requirements brought about by ELF academic interaction Syllable and Word Languages Javier Caro Reina, Renata Szczepaniak, 2014-10-24 This is the first volume concerned with the phonological typology of syllable and word languages based on the model of a complex multi layered and hierarchically structured phonological system The main typological claim is that the phonetic and phonological make up of a language depends on the relevance of the prosodic categories In previous research the syllable and the phonological word have already proved to be typologically important The contributions in this volume discuss theoretical questions and address issues such as the variable structure of the phonological word the interplay between phonetics and phonology as well as the effect of a language s phonological make up on its morphology or lexicon The volume provides detailed synchronic and diachronic analyses of Non Indo European languages which will serve as a basis for further typological research

Philology and Criticism Vishwa Adluri, Joydeep Bagchee, 2018-06-29 Philology and Criticism contrasts the Mah bh rata s preservation and transmission within the Indian scribal and commentarial traditions with Sanskrit philology after 1900 as German Indologists proposed a critical edition of the Mah bh rata to validate their racial and nationalist views Vishwa Adluri and Joydeep Bagchee show how in contrast to the Indologists unscientific theories V S Sukthankar assimilated the principles of neo Lachmannian textual criticism to defend the transmitted text and its traditional reception as a work of law philosophy and salvation The authors demonstrate why after the edition s completion no justification exists for claiming that an earlier heroic epic existed that the Brahmins redacted the heroic epic to produce the Mah bh rata or that they interpolated sectarian gods such as Vis n u and iva into the work By demonstrating how the Indologists committed technical errors cited flawed and biased scholarship and used circular argumentation to validate their racist and anti Semitic theories Philology and Criticism frees readers to approach the Mah bh rata as the principal monument of bhakti Madeleine Biarreau The authoritative guide to the critical edition s correct use and interpretation Philology and Criticism urges South Asianists to view Hinduism as a complex debate about ontology and ethics rather than through the lenses of Brahmanism and sectarianism It launches a new world philology one that is plural and self reflexive rather than Eurocentric and ahistorical
