Lines Of Power Limits Of Language:

Lines of Power - Limits of Language Gunnar Olsson,1991 GO: On the Geographies of Gunnar Olsson Martin Gren,2016-04-22 Since the early 1960s the internationally acclaimed and highly distinguished Swedish geographer Gunnar Olsson has made substantial contributions to his own discipline In addition because of the transgressive nature of his work and writing which often borders to art and philosophy his ideas and approaches have reached a wider audience of those interested in the history and geography of ideas culture and human reasoning Olsson s recent masterpiece Abysmal is a minimalist guide to the territory of Western culture In it he investigates how cartographical reason enables people to think about and navigate the abstract world of invisible human relations in much the same way as they are able to study and traverse the physical Earth by using maps and mapping This book presents a comprehensive introduction to and overview of the entire range of Olsson s geography from the early days of spatial science to his contemporary engagement with and critique of cartographical reasoning It includes selected samples of Olsson s own writings including rarities together with a consolidated bibliography of his publications It also contains critical engagements from leading scholars such as Michael Dear Michael Watts Chris Philo and Marcus Doel with Olsson s geography from a variety of perspectives which are particularly valuable to those readers who already know his work It is structured and written in a way that makes Olsson s geography accessible to a wide readership including those who are not already familiar with Olsson s work Lines of Power/limits of Language Gunnar Olsson,1991 Olsson attacks the basic structures that determine the organization of knowledge vis a vis disciplinary boundaries and demonstrates on the one hand the imbrication of language and the body and on the other the various bridges between concrete experiences of everyday life and the institutions of the state apparatus Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Poststructuralist Geographies Marcus Doel,1999-08-30 This work is the first attempt to integrate poststructuralist thought with the insights of critical human geography Doel does not seek to make conventional approximations of poststructuralist concepts but to rethink and rewrite the world through them

Abysmal Gunnar Olsson,2010-03-15 People rely on reason to think about and navigate the abstract world of human relations in much the same way they rely on maps to study and traverse the physical world Starting from that simple observation renowned geographer Gunnar Olsson offers in Abysmal an astonishingly erudite critique of the way human thought and action have become deeply immersed in the rhetoric of cartography and how this cartographic reasoning allows the powerful to map out other people s lives A spectacular reading of Western philosophy religion and mythology that draws on early maps and atlases Plato Kant and Wittgenstein Thomas Pynchon Gilgamesh and Marcel Duchamp Abysmal is itself a minimalist guide to the terrain of Western culture Olsson roams widely but always returns to the problems inherent in reason to question the outdated assumptions and fixed ideas that thinking cartographically entails A work of ambition scope and sharp wit Abysmal will appeal to an eclectic audience to geographers and cartographers but also to anyone interested in the history of ideas culture and art New Lines Matthew W. Wilson, 2017-11-15 New Lines takes the pulse of a society increasingly drawn to the power of the digital map examining the conceptual and technical developments of the field of geographic information science as this work is refracted through a pervasive digital culture Matthew W Wilson draws together archival research on the birth of the digital map with a reconsideration of the critical turn in mapping and cartographic thought Seeking to bridge a foundational divide within the discipline of geography between cultural and human geographers and practitioners of Geographic Information Systems GIS Wilson suggests that GIS practitioners may operate within a critical vacuum and may not fully contend with their placement within broader networks the politics of mapping the rise of the digital humanities the activist possibilities of appropriating GIS technologies and more Employing the concept of the drawn and traced line Wilson treads the theoretical terrain of Deleuze Guattari and Gunnar Olsson while grounding their thoughts with the hybrid impulse of the more than human thought of Donna Haraway What results is a series of interventions fractures in the lines directing everyday life that provide the reader with an opportunity to consider the renewed urgency of forceful geographic representation These five fractures are criticality digitality movement attention and quantification New Lines examines their traces to find their potential and their necessity in the face of our frenetic digital life Encyclopedia of Geography Barney Warf, 2010-09-21 Simply stated geography studies the locations of things and the explanations that underlie spatial distributions Profound forces at work throughout the world have made geographical knowledge increasingly important for understanding numerous human dilemmas and our capacities to address them With more than 1 200 entries the Encyclopedia of Geography reflects how the growth of geography has propelled a demand for intermediaries between the abstract language of academia and the ordinary language of everyday life The six volumes of this encyclopedia encapsulate a diverse array of topics to offer a comprehensive and useful summary of the state of the discipline in the early 21st century Key Features Gives a concise historical sketch of geography s long rich and fascinating history including human geography physical geography and GIS Provides succinct summaries of trends such as globalization environmental destruction new geospatial technologies and cyberspace Decomposes geography into the six broad subject areas physical geography human geography nature and society methods models and GIS history of geography and geographer biographies geographic organizations and important social movements Provides hundreds of color illustrations and images that lend depth and realism to the text Includes a special map section Key Themes Physical Geography Human Geography Nature and Society Methods Models and GIS People Organizations and Movements History of Geography This encyclopedia strategically reflects the enormous diversity of the discipline the multiple meanings of space itself and the diverse views of geographers It brings together the diversity of geographical knowledge making it an invaluable resource for any academic library Geography and Enlightenment David N. Livingstone, Charles W. J. Withers, 1999-12-15 Geography and Enlightenment explores both the Enlightenment as a geographical phenomenon and the place of geography in the Enlightenment From wide ranging disciplinary and topical perspectives contributors consider the many ways in which the world of the long eighteenth century was brought to view and shaped through map and text exploration and argument within and across spatial and intellectual borders The first set of chapters charts the intellectual and geographical contexts in which Enlightenment ideas began to form including both the sites in which knowledge was created and discussed and the different means used to investigate the globe Detailed explorations of maps created during this period show how these new ways of representing the world and its peoples influenced conceptions of the nature and progress of human societies while studies of the travels of people and ideas reveal the influence of far flung places on Enlightenment science and scientific credibility The final set of chapters emphasizes the role of particular local contexts in Enlightenment thought Contributors are Michael T Bravo Paul Carter Denis Cosgrove Stephen Daniels Matthew Edney Anne Marie Claire Godlewska Peter Gould Michael Heffernan David N Livingstone Dorinda Outram Chris Philo Roy Porter Nicolaas Rupke Susanne Seymour Charles Watkins and Charles W J Withers

Cartographic Humanism Katharina N. Piechocki, 2021-09-13 Piechocki calls for an examination of the idea of Europe as a geographical concept tracing its development in the 15th and 16th centuries What is Europe and when did it come to be In the Renaissance the term Europe circulated widely But as Katharina N Piechocki argues in this compelling book the continent itself was only in the making in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries

Cartographic Humanism sheds new light on how humanists negotiated and defined Europe's boundaries at a momentous shift in the continent's formation when a new imagining of Europe was driven by the rise of cartography. As Piechocki shows, this tool of geography, philosophy and philology was used not only to represent but more importantly also to shape and promote an image of Europe quite unparalleled in previous centuries. Engaging with poets, historians and mapmakers, Piechocki resists an easy categorization of the continent, scrutinizing Europe as an unexamined category that demands a much more careful and nuanced investigation than scholars of early modernity have hitherto undertaken. Unprecedented in its geographic scope, Cartographic Humanism is the first book to chart new itineraries across Europe as it brings France, Germany, Italy, Poland and Portugal into a lively interdisciplinary dialogue. Geographical Voices Peter Gould, Forrest R. Pitts, 2002-03-01. These highly personal essays reflect experiences and insights of key geographers of the past half century. Contributors not only document the growing concern for research on social conditions and social justice, they also prove that scholarly commitment is still vibrant and healthy in the discipline. A unique contribution in North American geographical publishing, this book is ideal for undergraduate courses in the history and philosophy of geography and for early graduate seminars on recent developments in geographic thought. Geography and Geographers Ron Johnston, James Sidaway, 2015-12-22. Explores the relationship between human and physical geography. All chapters updated in the new edition to reflect new literature and changes in the discipline. Chapter One systematically considers representations of geographical thought. The closing chapter develops an explicit argument about what has made human geography distinctive. Draws on a wide reading of the geographical literature produced during a fifty year period characterised by both growth in the number of academic geographers and substantial shifts in conceptions of the discipline's scientific rationale.

Colonising Te Whanganui ā Tara and Marketing Wellington, 1840-1849 Patricia Thomas, 2019-11-08. This book examines the advertising posters, town plans and geographical views that encouraged middle class emigration to New Zealand in the 1840s. It explores how the New Zealand Company exploited visual literacy to advertise its settlement in Te Whanganui Tara, Wellington. A tale of two towns: prospective English settlers looked to Wellington to make their homes, while Te Whanganui Tara was already home to numerous Māori sub-tribes. The book explores the worlds of each to ask how the images produced by the New Zealand Company were complicit in transferring Māori land into English ownership. Not seeking blame, it works instead to understand and investigate processes of redress, offering hope for a post-post colonial future in Aotearoa New Zealand. This book will interest scholars and students of migration, visual culture and print history. Power Lines Aimee Carrillo Rowe, 2008-09-25. Argues for the importance of understanding identity as relational rather than static, in encouraging feminist alliances across race, class and ethnicity. The Limits of Power Christine Meisner Rosen, 2003-12-04. This book examines the rebuildings of Chicago, Boston and Baltimore following great fires. By Northern Lights Anne Buttner, Tom Mels, 2017-05-15. Swedish society has recurrently shown a keen geographical sense, meticulously documenting all matters relating to environments resources and human activities through space and time from the sixteenth century on Throughout the twentieth century in particular Sweden won international acclaim for its groundbreaking geographic work on spatial planning climate change time space modelling and landscape history by the likes of Ahlmann De Geer Enequist H gerstrand Kant Olsson and William Olsson More recently with the rising tide of post modernity and multiple processes of globalization there has been a good deal of debate about novel lines of enquiry into nature and culture issues of gender identity and diversity justice and environmental concern all of these have sparked a renewed interest in the history and philosophy of the field Following on from Anne Buttimer s renowned Geography and the Human Spirit this book not only offers the first book length contextual account of the development of geographic thought in Sweden but also provides a narrative thread which traces continuity and change in both cognitive styles and professional practices of geography in general

Negotiation and Power in Dialogic Interaction Edda Weigand, Marcelo Dascal, 2001-09-06 The topic of negotiation has turned out to be of crucial interdisciplinary interest for our understanding of what we are doing in language use Are we exchanging meanings defined in advance and presupposing equal understanding on the basis of a rule governed system or are we negotiating meaning and understanding in the framework of an open dialogic universe Negotiation on the one hand can be taken as the name of a specific dialogue type or action game of bargaining On the other hand it represents a methodological concept for describing and explaining dialogic interaction which replaces the orthodox view of pattern transference The papers collected in this volume deal with both versions of the concept of negotiation This volume contains a selection of papers presented at the International Conference on Pragmatics and Negotiation at Tel Aviv University and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem in June 1999 The dialogic aspect was taken as the key concept to guide the present selection

Antipode, 2003 Redrawing the Lines Reed Way Dasenbrock, 1989 Redrawing the Lines was first published in 1989 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Since 1970 literary theory has experienced a period of rich interaction with both Anglo American analytic and Continental philosophy particularly deconstruction Yet these two philosophical schools have regarded each other with hostility if at all as in the 1977 exchange between John Searle and Jacques Derrida over the work of J L Austin Since then the two philosophical traditions have begun to interact as each has influenced literary theory and some suggest that they are not diametrically opposed Redrawing the Lines the first book to focus on that interaction brings together ten essays by key figures who have worked to connect literary theory and philosophy and to reassess the relationship between analytic and Continental philosophy The editor s introduction establishes the debate s historical context and his annotated bibliography directs the interested reader to virtually everything written on this issue The contributors Reed Way Dasenbrock Henry Staten Michael Fischer Charles Altieri Richard Shusterman Samuel C Wheeler III Jules David Law Steven Winspur Christopher Norris Richard Rorty and Anthony J Cascardi Reed Way Dasenbrock is associate professor
