

A modern, multi-level residential building with a prominent wooden cantilevered upper floor and a dark grey exterior. The house is set on a grassy hillside with trees and a clear blue sky in the background. A wide set of concrete steps leads up to the entrance. In the foreground, there is a small, shallow, circular water feature. The text "RIDGE RESIDENCE" is overlaid in a large, white, serif font.

Lebbeus Woods: Exquisite Experiments, Early Years Aleksandra Wagner, Neil Spiller, 2024-03-18 American architect Lebbeus Woods 1940 2012 remains a quiet hero not only among his colleagues but also for architectural students intrigued by the ideas and fluent beauty of his powerful graphic verve as well as of his writing His projects from the mid 1980s until the end of his life have been widely published However this AD in collaboration with the Estate of Lebbeus Woods explores the earlier period beginning in the late 1960s when Woods was honing his draughtsmanship and theoretical positions while experimenting with a variety of themes and different modes of expression When he burst onto the international architectural scene with a solo exhibition and accompanying catalogue Lebbeus Woods Origins at the Architectural Association London in 1985 some wondered how anyone could emerge so fully formed from nowhere Working against the logic of nowhere this issue charts his early trajectory through the largely unpublished drawings and texts linking them with what came after Aiming to generate new scholarship its roster of international interdisciplinary critics and commentators offer a new understanding of Woods's work and of his formative years also shining a light on how we might think about the early work of any architect's career Contributors Joseph Becker Aaron Betsky Peter Cook Mark Dorrian Riet Eeckhout Kevin Erickson Joerg Gleiter Sharon Irish Eliyahu Keller Lawrence Rinder Ashley Simone Ben Sweeting The Autopoiesis of Architecture, Volume II Patrik Schumacher, 2012-04-24 This is the second part of a major theoretical work by Patrik Schumacher which outlines how the discipline of architecture should be understood as its own distinct system of communication Autopoiesis comes from the Greek and means literally self production it was first adopted in biology in the 1970s to describe the essential characteristics of life as a circular self organizing system and has since been transposed into a theory of social systems This new approach offers architecture an arsenal of general comparative concepts It allows architecture to be understood as a distinct discipline which can be analyzed in elaborate detail while at the same time offering insightful comparisons with other subject areas such as art science and political discourse On the basis of such comparisons the book insists on the necessity of disciplinary autonomy and argues for a sharp demarcation of design from both art and engineering Schumacher accordingly argues controversially that design as a discipline has its own sui generis intelligence with its own internal logic reach and limitations Whereas the first volume provides the theoretical groundwork for Schumacher's ideas focusing on architecture as an autopoietic system with its own theory history medium and its unique societal function the second volume addresses the specific contemporary challenges and tasks that architecture faces It formulates these tasks looking specifically at how architecture is seeking to organize and articulate the complexity of post fordist network society The volume explicitly addresses how current architecture can upgrade its design methodology in the face of an increasingly demanding task environment characterized by both complexity and novelty Architecture's specific role within contemporary society is explained and its relationship to politics is clarified Finally the new global style of Parametricism is introduced and theoretically grounded Artspace, 1992
