Media, Power and Empowerment Tereza Pavlíčková, Irena Reifová, 2014-10-16 This collection brings together 71 papers by 83 authors from 20 countries presented at the 5th Central and Eastern European Communication and Media Conference titled Media Power and Empowerment in Prague Czech Republic in April 2012 It maps out trends in CEE media research across the entire region and provides insight into the broad span of relevant topics The contributors to the volume successfully voice the multiple yet specific questions relevant to the CEE countries the papers offer original research results to the reader and invite them to participate in further debate on CEE media and communications research To date there have not been many publications dedicated to outlining the media and communications research interests across the region This collection shows that the countries of the region indeed have a lot in common historically politically and socially while also discussing the differences among them including the multiple political particularities within the unifying label the East and variations in the transformation process and the consequences for concerned societies and their media scenes as well as the individual lived experiences of the people of the CEE countries

The Media and Terrorism Duncan Mainye Omanga, 2016 The editorial cartoon perhaps one the most enduring features of the African newspaper carries perception of a less cerebral form of journalism consigned to laughter and flippancy However editorial cartoons effectiveness goes beyond laughter This book not only responds to the call for a broader debate on media and terrorism but also examines how editorial cartoons in Kenya between 1998 and 2008 contributed to the discursive construction of terrorism and the so called war on terror Drawing from events surrounding major terror attacks at the high noon of al Qaida terrorism this book highlights how editorial cartoons in Kenya provided insights into the vicissitudes that characterized terrorism and its war Dissertation Series Contributions to African Research Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 67 Subject Politics Media Studies African Studies

Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 Parts one and two of this volume present the theoretical lenses used to study the social contexts of education These include long established foundations disciplines such as sociology of education and philosophy of education as well as newer theoretical perspectives such as critical race theory feminist educational theory and cultural studies in education Parts three four and five demonstrate how these theoretical lenses are used to examine such phenomena as globalization media popular culture technology youth culture and schooling This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study This book is appropriate as a reference volume not only for scholars in the social foundations of education but also for scholars interested in the cultural contexts of teaching and learning formal and informal It is also appropriate as a textbook for graduate level courses in Social Foundations of Education School and Society Educational Policy Studies Cultural Studies in Education and Curriculum and Instruction

STRUKTURAL 2020 Nina Setyaningsih, Sri Mulatsih, Neni Kurniawati, 2021-09-10 We proudly present the proceedings of 2nd International Seminar on Translation Studies Applied Linguistics Literature and Cultural Studies 2020 STRUKTURAL 2020 It focuses on how disruptive era influences participants field of researches especially in Humanities and Social Studies As we know the world today is changing and the world we are facing now is the one where everything is connected Not only are our PCs our tablets our hand phones and other devices connected but everything that happens in societies is also now connected Today even a robbery incident in a small village has a possibility to make a city in another part of the world collapse This butterfly effect of social change may also give a big impact in our understanding and our field of study of social sciences and humanities More than 70 manuscripts were presented at this conference with around 41 of them selected to be published in proceedings We hope by this conference discussions on how research on humanities and social studies is possible in a disruptive era will give a perspective for the social and humanities studies development

Mass Media James B. Martin, 2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes

Interpreting News Graham Meikle, 2017-09-16 This core introductory text offers a comprehensive overview of how news has been theorised and understood in key media studies traditions It explores how news is constructed distributed and received and includes up to date examples and discussion of contemporary issues such as the uses of new technologies in news media

Media and Society Nicholas Carah, 2021-05-05 How do media platforms organise social life How do media empower or disempower our identities How do we understand the impact of algorithms How are media audiences produced and managed Media Society introduces the role of the media in social cultural political and economic life unpacking the increasing entanglement of digital media technology with our everyday lives It explores the relationship between meaning and power in an age of participatory culture social media and digital platforms An age where we both create and consume content and where we both give and gain attention translating our social lives into huge flows of data Associate Professor Nicholas Carah shows how a critical approach to power helps us not only to understand the role media play in shaping the social but also how we can become critically informed media citizens ourselves able to participate and be heard in meaningful ways Media Society expertly introduces all the key concepts and ideas you need to know and then puts theory into practice by tying them to contemporary case studies From using Ghostery to track how your personal data is being collected to exploring misinformation on social media via Youtube to the reality of internships and freelancing in today's digital media industry It is essential reading for students of media communication and cultural studies

Media, Minorities, and Meaning Debra L. Merskin, 2011 Foundations Introduction Constructing categories of difference Minorities meaning and mass media Articulations of difference The articulation of difference Country music and redneck woman The construction of Arabs as enemies Perpetuation of the hot Latina stereotype in Desperate housewives Commodified racism brand images of Native Americans The pornographic gaze in mainstream American magazine and fashion advertising Women lipstick and self presentation Sun also rises Stereotypes of the Asian American woman on Lost Coon songs the Black male stereotype in popular American sheet music 1850 1920 Homosexuality and horror the lesbian vampire film Television news coverage of Day without an immigrant Media Discourses Donald Matheson,2005-09-16 Some of the most important questions regarding the relationship between media and culture are about communication How are the meanings which make up a culture shared in society How is power performed in the media What identities and relationships take shape there Media Discourses introduces readers to discourse analysis to show how media communication works Written in a lively style and drawing on examples from contemporary media it discusses what precisely gets represented in mediatexts who gets to do the talking what knowledge people need to share in order to understand the media and how power relations are reinforced or challenged Each chapter discusses a particular media genre including news advertising reality television and weblogs At the same time each chapter also introduces a range of approaches to media discourse from analysis of linguistic details to the rules of conversation and the discursive construction of selfhood A glossary explains key terms and suggestions for further reading are given at the end of each chapter This is a key text for media studies mass communication communication studies linguistics and journalism studies students The History of Islam Terence Lovat, Amir Moghadam,2017-09-05 This book applies philosophical and critical textual scholarship to the traditional Islamic narrative in an attempt to distinguish between its historical and interpretive elements It allows the narrative to be preserved with due respect for its significance and distinctiveness but in a way that frees it from the ease with which it can slip into the hands of literalists and fundamentalists in order to serve a purpose which is at odds with its original spirit and intention When radical Islamists use social media to try and convert young followers to a Jihadist cause they refer often to the narrative about the Prophet the original Islamic community Ummah and the holy book Qur'an The references usually imply that these are under threat by infidels either non Muslim Westerners or Muslims themselves who follow allegedly errant forms of Islam The narrative itself is however never questioned it is taken as merely factual with every word to be taken literally including words that appear intolerant of difference and given to violence As such it can serve well the forms of fundamentalism that lie at the heart of radical Islamism and Jihadism Because of a shortage of critical scholarship about Islam's central narrative the radical Islamist understanding of it differs too little from that of mainstream Muslims Neither tends to take sufficient account of the context of the writing its original purpose or the many interpretive elements that have been overlain This makes it difficult for mainstream Islamic authorities to counter effectively the radical Islamist discourse or to distinguish moderate and liberal forms of religious practice from radical breakaway forms In turn this causes confusion among Muslims who know the radical Islamists are in error but find it hard to say just why and even greater confusion and angst among non Muslims for whom the allegation that all of Islam is inherently violent and to be feared is clearly being heard by an increasing number. This book sets out to address this problem by applying forms of scholarship that can preserve the best of the Islamic narrative while at the same time illustrating just how errant is the radical Islamist understanding of it. Animate(d) Architecture Vahid Vahdat, 2024-03-25. At their peak architectural marvels such as the Sagrada Família, the Tower of London, the Mosque-Cathedral of Córdoba and the Eiffel tower had a combined annual visit of almost 16.4 million people. The animated icebound castle in Disney's 2019 Frozen had 116.4 million views from one single YouTube trailer in less than 24 hours. The spaces of such massively consumed animation have for generations informed the architectural imagination of people across the globe and from very early in their lives. Yet not only have the architectural disciplines remained rather absent in the design of these massively consumed spaces, architectural theory has likewise failed to articulate a framework to approach the architecture of animation. To address this void, this book offers an interdisciplinary approach to survey the role of space in animation including in creating humorous moments in early cartoon shorts, generating action and suspense in Japanese anime and even stimulating erotic pleasure in pornographic Hentai. Exploring the imagined architecture of animation from early motion picture to digital animation and from computer graphics to game engines offers an analytical frame to reconceptualize space. An Open Access version of Yuko Yoshida's chapter Animated Embodiments of Witnessing An Architectural Narrative of Silence is available on the Liverpool University Press website.

Gendering Global Transformations Chima J. Korieh, Philomina E. Okeke-Ihejirika, 2008-11-19. This book employs gender as a category of analysis to capture the various ways men and women relate in society and the structures that define these relationships and place boundaries on them. It presents alternative conceptual and theoretical approaches that tease out the nuances of gender as mediated by culture, race and identity in a globalizing world.

Art and Language: Explorations in (Post) Modern Thought and Visual Culture Christiane Treichel, 2017-12-19. Art and Language: Explorations in Post Modern Thought and Visual Culture sheds new light on the symbiotic relationship between art and language by exploring how these cultured sets consociate on philosophical and art historical levels. Against the backdrop of visual semiotics, the first section of the book considers the differences between art and language from various vantage points, meaning-making, asking if art is a language. Ernst Cassirer's symbolic forms, Jan Mukařovský's signs and Gilles Deleuze's philosophy. The second section of the book deals with the works of post modern artists from diverse cultural backgrounds who unfasten traditional linguistic and artistic systems by destabilising the viewer and blurring the boundaries between art and language. The author argues that this is the most productive cutting edge aspect of the word-image relationship of that period. Language provides post modern art with its thrust and focus and offers a site for critical intervention. The artistic forays the author embarks on cover a wide range touching on Surrealism, Dada, Arabic Calligraphy and Chinese Conceptualist Art.

Representing Ageing V. Ylännä, 2012-05-22. This collection critically examines twenty-first century representations of ageing, focusing on various media images and discourses as well as individuals' own experiences and self-presentations of ageing drawing on innovative new empirical data Youth and Popular Culture in 1950s Ireland Eleanor O'Leary, 2018-04-05 Focusing on a decade in Irish history which has been largely overlooked Youth and Popular Culture in 1950s Ireland provides the most complete account of the 1950s in Ireland through the eyes of the young people who contributed slowly but steadily to the social and cultural transformation of Irish society Eleanor O'Leary presents a picture of a generation with an international outlook who played basketball read comic books and romance magazines listened to rock n roll music and skiffle made their own clothes to mimic international styles and even danced in the street when the major stars and bands of the day rocked into town She argues that this engagement with imported popular culture was a contributing factor to emigration and the growing dissatisfaction with standards of living and conservative social structures in Ireland As well as outlining teenagers resistance to outmoded forms of employment and unfair work practices she maps their vulnerability as a group who existed in a limbo between childhood and adulthood Issues of unemployment emigration and education are examined alongside popular entertainments and social spaces in order to provide a full account of growing up in the decade which preceded the social upheaval of the 1960s Examining the 1950s through the unique prism of youth culture and reconnecting the decade to the process of social and cultural transition in the second half of the 20th century this book is a valuable contribution to the literature on 20th century Irish history Advertising and Public Memory Stefan Schutt, Sam Roberts, Leanne White, 2016-08-05 This is the first scholarly collection to examine the social and cultural aspects on the worldwide interest in the faded remains of advertising signage popularly known as ghost signs Contributors to this volume examine the complex relationships between the signs and those who commissioned them painted them viewed them and view them today Topics covered include cultural memory urban change modernity and belonging local history and place making the crowd sourced use of online mobile and social media to document and share digital artefacts retro design and the resurgence in interest in the handmade The book is international and interdisciplinary combining academic analysis and critical input from practitioners and researchers in areas such as cultural studies destination marketing heritage advertising design social history and commercial archaeology Voices from the Borderland Chris Shannahan, 2016-04-01 Urban theology affirms the importance of context notably the place of the city in theological reflection However it has often been confined to particular contexts or theological camps and thus failed to engage with the fluidity of contemporary urban societies Voices from the Borderland presents an overview of urban theology arguing that the twenty first century demands a dialogical model of theology that enacts progressive change The volume draws on studies of the multicultural and multi faith British urban experience and situates these within the wider international context The works of influential theologians in the field are examined and the dialogue between theology globalisation post colonialism postmodernism and post religious urban culture critically explored The volume is unique in bringing together urban liberation theology urban black theology reformist urban theology globalisation urban theology and post religious urban theology
