A Genealogy of Marion's Philosophy of Religion Tamsin Jones, 2011-02-15 Tamsin Jones believes that locating Jean Luc Marion solely within theological or phenomenological discourse undermines the coherence of his intellectual and philosophical enterprise Through a comparative examination of Marion's interpretation and use of Dionysius the Areopagite and Gregory of Nyssa Jones evaluates the interplay of the manifestation and hiddenness of phenomena By placing Marion against the backdrop of these Greek fathers Jones sharpens the tension between Marion's rigorous method and its intended purpose a safeguard against idolatry At once situated at the crossroads of the debate over the turn to religion in French phenomenology and an inquiry into the retrieval of early Christian writings within this discourse A Genealogy of Marion's Philosophy of Religion opens up a new view of the phenomenology of religious experience

Key Theological Thinkers Svein Rise, 2016-04-22 The 20th and 21st Centuries have been characterized by theologians and philosophers rethinking theology and revitalizing the tradition This unique anthology presents contributions from leading contemporary theologians including Rowan Williams Fergus Kerr Aidan Nichols G R Evans and Tracey Rowland who offer portraits of over fifty key theological thinkers in the modern and postmodern era Distinguished by its broad ecumenical perspective this anthology spans arguably one of the most creative periods in the history of Christian theology and includes thinkers from all three Christian traditions Protestant Catholic and Orthodox Each individual portrait in this anthology includes a biographical introduction an overview of theological or philosophical writing presentation of key thoughts and contextual placing of the thinker within 20th Century religious discourse Overview articles explore postmodern theology radical orthodoxy ecumenical theology feminist theology and liberation theology A final section includes portraits of important thinkers who have influenced Christian thought from other fields not least from Continental philosophy and literature

Reading the Church Fathers Morwenna Ludlow, Scot Douglass, 2011-04-28 Reading the corpus of texts written by the Fathers of the Church has always been a core area in Christian theology However scholars and academics are by no means united in the question how these important but difficult authors should be read and interpreted Many of them are divided by implicit but often unquestioned assumptions about the best way to approach the texts or by underlying hermeneutical questions about the norms limits and opportunities of reading Ancient Christian writers This book will raise profound hermeneutical questions surrounding the reading of the Fathers with greater clarity than it has been done before The contributors to this volume are theologians and historians who have used contemporary post modern approaches to illuminate the Ancien corpus of texts The chapters discuss issues such as What makes a good reading of a church Father What constitutes a responsible reading Is the reading of the Fathers limited to a specialist audience What can modern thinkers contribute to our reading of the Fathers

The Experience of God Robyn Horner, 2022-10-20 Belief and credal commitment sometimes seem to make less and less sense in the West A kind of cultural amnesia has taken hold where formal religious adherence begins to seem almost unthinkable This is especially so for the idea of divine revelation Robyn Horner argues this means we need to re evaluate how theology proceeds focusing not so much on beliefs but on experience Exploring ways in which the experiential might open human beings up to divine possibility the author turns to phenomenology especially in the French philosophical tradition because it seeks to examine unrestrictedly what is given through involved encounter Bringing phenomenology and poststructuralism together Horner develops the idea of revelation as an event wherein God interrupts and exceeds human experience affecting and transforming it This striking concept named but largely unexplored by theology articulates a notion of supernatural revelation which now starts to appear both coherent and plausible

Rabbinic Discourse as a System of Knowledge Hannah Hashkes, 2015-03-10 In Rabbinic Discourse as a System of Knowledge Hannah Hashkes employs contemporary philosophy in describing rabbinic reasoning as a rational response to experience Hashkes combines insights from the philosophy of Quine and Davidson with the semiotics of Peirce to construe knowledge as systematic reasoning occurring within a community of inquiry Her reading of the works of Emmanuel Levinas and Jean Luc Marion allows her to create a philosophical bridge between a discourse of God and a discourse of reason This synthesis of pragmatism hermeneutics and theology provides Hashkes with a sophisticated tool to understand Rabbinic Judaism It also makes this study both unique and pathbreaking in contemporary Jewish philosophy and Rabbinic thought

The Phenomenology of Love and Reading Cassandra Falke, 2018-05-31 The current revival of interest in ethics in literary criticism coincides fortuitously with a revival of interest in love in philosophy The literary return to ethics also coincides with a spate of neuroscientific discoveries about cognition and emotion But without a philosophical grounding this new work cannot speak convincingly about literature's relationship to our ethical lives Jean Luc Marion's articulation of a phenomenology of love provides this philosophical grounding The Phenomenology of Love and Reading accepts Jean Luc Marion's argument that love matters for who we are more than anything more than cognition and more than being itself Cassandra Falke shows how reading can strengthen our capacity to love by giving us practice in love's habits attention empathy and a willingness to be overwhelmed Confounding our expectations literature equips us for the confounding events of love which Falke suggests are not rare and fleeting but rather constitute the most meaningful and durable part of our everyday life

Aquinas, Education and the East Thomas Brian Mooney, Mark Nowacki, 2013-03-12 A confluence of scholarly interest has resulted in a revival of Thomistic scholarship across the world Several areas in the investigation of St Thomas Aquinas however remain under explored This volume contributes to two of these neglected areas First the volume evaluates the contemporary relevance of St Thomas's views for the philosophy and practice of education The second area explored involves the intersections of the Angelic Doctor's thought and the numerous cultures and intellectual traditions of the East Contributors to this section examine the reception creative appropriation and various points of convergence between St Thomas and the East

Placing Nature on the Borders of Religion, Philosophy and Ethics Dr Forrest Clingerman, Mr Mark H Dixon, 2013-06-28 The natural world has been humanized even areas thought to be wilderness bear the marks of human impact But this human impact is not simply physical At the emergence of the environmental movement the focus was on human effects on nature More recently however the complexity of the term nature has led to fruitful debates and the recognition of how human individuals and cultures interpret their environments This book furthers the dialogue on religion ethics and the environment by exploring three interrelated concepts to recreate to replace and to restore Through interdisciplinary dialogue the authors illuminate certain unique dimensions at the crossroads between finding value creating value and reflecting on one's place in the world Each of these terms has diverse religious ethical and scientific connotations Each converges on the ways in which humans both think about and act upon their surroundings And each radically questions the damaging conceptual divisions between nature and culture human and environment and scientific explanation and religious ethical understanding This book self consciously reflects on the intersections of environmental philosophy environmental theology and religion and ecology stressing the importance of how place interprets us and how we interpret place In addition to its contribution to environmental philosophy this work is a unique volume in its serious engagement with theology and religious studies on the issues of ecological restoration and the meaning of place

Radical Apophasis Todd Ohara, 2020-08-17 This book exhibits the richness and sophistication of Plotinian and Dionysian apophatic theologies by explicating their respective internal logics It articulates the unique metaphysical status and explanatory role that the One and God respectively play in Plotinus's and Dionysius's reflections showing the way in which apophasis is generated and sustained by the metaphysical explanatory lines of thought in which the One Plotinus and God Dionysius function as the ultimate unconditioned source of everything else In the context of explanation negation serves to convey the incomparable reality of the One or of God as beyond being However the metaphysical and explanatory lines of thought are themselves situated within the broader context of the soul's ascent to mystical union with the One or with God From this broader perspective the discursive practice of negation constitutes the basis of preparing the soul for mystical union Preparation for mystical union involves the cognitive and trans cognitive practice of negation which enables the soul to progress towards and become united with the One or God This study is motivated by the desire to more deeply understand apophasis as deployed in different philosophical theological and religious contexts including the work of contemporary thinkers such as Jean Luc Marion

The Experience of Atheism: Phenomenology, Metaphysics and Religion Claude Romano, Robyn Horner, 2021-05-06 Religious and atheistic belief are presented anew in a volume of essays from leading phenomenologists in both France and the UK Atheism often presented as the negation of religious belief is here engaged with from a phenomenologically informed notion of experience The focus on experience sparks new debates in readings of belief faith and atheism as they relate to and complicate each other What unites the contributors is their relationship to phenomenology as it has developed in France in the wake of Heidegger and Husserl Leading French intellectuals from this context Jean Luc Nancy Quentin Meillassoux and Catherine Malabou amongst others contribute arresting ideas on atheistic faith the death of God and anarchic faith opening up new areas of understanding in a field whose parameters and core concepts are ever shifting Revealing the extent to which religious and atheistic belief must be seen to influence and on a fundamental level to co create one another the pluralistic society in which religious belief is counted as one option amongst many is given primacy The fact that religious faith has become not only

optional but also in many contexts strangely alienated from society deeply modifies the experience of the believer as much as that of the non believer A focus on experience over and above belief moves us towards a mode of experiential knowledge which refuses to privilege the atheistic believer and deride the reality of religious belief

English,2013-05-13 This is the first to book to explore Blondel s entire body of work and provides an introduction to his life and writings and their relevance to the debates surrounding the radical orthodoxy identity Detailing Blondel s impressive research output during the first half of the twentieth century this volume highlights his relevance to philosophy and religion today and his commitment that philosophy cannot be separated from a theological narrative This highly original work will be of great interest to scholars of philosophy and religion particularly the students of the radical orthodoxy movement

The Problem of Perception and the Experience of God Sameer Yadav,2015 Based on the author s thesis Th D Duke Divinity School 2014 titled The problem of perception and the perception of God John McDowell and the theology of religious experience

Violence and Nihilism Luís Aguiar de Sousa,Paolo Stellino,2022-07-05 Nihilism seems to be per definition linked to violence Indeed if the nihilist is a person who acknowledges no moral or religious authority then what does stop him from committing any kind of crime Dostoevsky precisely called attention to this danger if there is no God and no immortality of the soul then everything is permitted even anthropophagy Nietzsche too emphasised although in different terms the consequences deriving from the death of God and the collapse of Judeo Christian morality This context shaped the way in which philosophers writers and artists thought about violence in its different manifestations during the 20th century The goal of this interdisciplinary volume is to explore the various modern and contemporary configurations of the link between violence and nihilism as understood by philosophers and artists in both literature and film

Nothingness and the Meaning of Life Nicholas Waghorn,2014-08-28 What is the meaning of life Does anything really matter In the past few decades these questions perennially associated with philosophy in the popular consciousness have rightly retaken their place as central topics in the academy In this major contribution Nicholas Waghorn provides a sustained and rigorous elucidation of what it would take for lives to have significance Bracketing issues about ways our lives could have more or less meaning the focus is rather on the idea of ultimate meaning the issue of whether a life can attain meaning that cannot be called into question Waghorn sheds light on this most fundamental of existential problems through a detailed yet comprehensive examination of the notion of nothing embracing classic and cutting edge literature from both the analytic and Continental traditions Central figures such as Heidegger Carnap Wittgenstein Nozick and Nagel are drawn upon to anchor the discussion in some of the most influential discussion of recent philosophical history In the process of relating our ideas concerning nothing to the problem of life s meaning Waghorn s book touches upon a number of fundamental themes including reflexivity and its relation to our conceptual limits whether religion has any role to play in the question of life s meaning and the nature and constraints of philosophical methodology A number of major philosophical traditions are addressed including phenomenology poststructuralism and classical and paraconsistent logics In addition to providing the most thorough current discussion of ultimate meaning it will serve to introduce readers to philosophical debates concerning the notion of nothing and the appendix engaging religion will be of value to both philosophers and theologians

Brotherton, 2020-01-01 Hans Urs von Balthasar s discourse on the descent of Christ into hell and its implications for the Triune God have been disputed for half a century One of the Trinity has Suffered evaluates and revises von Balthasar s theology of divine suffering in a way that interacts with and significantly enriches contemporary Catholic theology In this book Joshua R Brotherton engages twentieth century Thomistic theology as well as the thought of Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI Joseph Ratzinger and Pope St John Paul II Drawing from the vast secondary literature on von Balthasar Brotherton offers a balanced assessment of his work on the topic of divine suffering both critical and appreciative Recognizing von Balthasar s laudable attempt to integrate mystical spirituality and systematic theology Brotherton seeks to distinguish valid insights from confused mixtures of metaphorical meta symbolic and philosophical metaphysical discourse on God particularly with respect to the classical problem of how the Creator who willed to become incarnate may be said to suffer Truly One of the Trinity has suffered and yet this mystery of faith must be carefully explained and understood in conformity with sustained Catholic reflection on divine immutability and simplicity the dual nature and unique personhood of Christ the Trinity of divine subsistent relations the freedom of God in creating and becoming man the analogy of being the problem of evil and the immensity and infinite value of Christ s redemptive suffering
