Jacl In Quest Of Justice:

JACL in Quest of Justice Bill Hosokawa, 1982 This history of the Japanese American Citizens League was written not only for its thirty thousand members but also to answer JACL's critics notably the Sansei third generation Japanese Americans many of whom believe their fathers should have resisted the Evacuation during World War II Did JACL chart a wise course of cooperation with the federal government or did it betray American principles and its own constituents by urging them to accept evacuation to U S Army operated concentration camps One of the most important purposes of the book is to take the Sansei back to those tragic controversial years and show them exactly what their fathers confronted Not only did they meet that crisis in what seemed the only way feasible at the time but JACL has fought for full rights of citizenship for Japanese Americans ever since the war with remarkable success an extraordinary record of accomplishment despite limited resources and membership This book is for everyone concerned about ways in which Congress and the Supreme Court can fail to uphold the Constitution and for those who will appreciate the story of one minority group's total and nonviolent victory over discrimination Dust jacket

Justice at War Peter Irons, 1993-06-10 Justice at War irrevocably alters the reader's perception of one of the most disturbing events in U S history the internment during World War II of American citizens of Japanese descent Peter Irons exhaustive research has uncovered a government campaign of suppression alteration and destruction of crucial evidence that could have persuaded the Supreme Court to strike down the internment order Irons documents the debates that took place before the internment order and the legal response during and after the internment

Keeper of the Concentration Camps Richard Drinnon, 1989-01-24 Analyzing the career of Dillon S Myer Director of the War Relocation Authority during WWII and Commissioner of the Bureau of Indian Affairs from 1950-53 Richard Drinnon shows that the pattern for the Japanese internment was set a century earlier by the removal confinement and scattering of Native Americans

Nisei Naysayer James Matsumoto Omura, 2018-08-28 Among the fiercest opponents of the mass incarceration of Japanese Americans during World War II was journalist James Jimmie Matsumoto Omura In his sharp penned columns Omura fearlessly called out leaders in the Nikkei community for what he saw as their complicity with the U S government's unjust and unconstitutional policies particularly the federal decision to draft imprisoned Nisei into the military without first restoring their lost citizenship rights In 1944 Omura was pushed out of his editorship of the Japanese American newspaper Rocky Shimpo indicted arrested jailed and forced to stand trial for unlawful conspiracy to counsel aid and abet violations of the military draft He was among the first Nikkei to seek governmental redress and reparations for wartime violations of civil liberties and human rights In this memoir which he began writing towards the end of his life Omura provides a vivid account of his early years his boyhood on Bainbridge Island summers spent working in the salmon canneries of Alaska riding the rails in search of work during the Great Depression honing his skills as a journalist in Los Angeles and San Francisco By the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor Omura had already developed a reputation as one of the Japanese American Citizens League's most adamant critics and when the JACL leadership acquiesced to the mass incarceration of American born Japanese he refused to remain silent at great personal and professional cost Shunned by the Nikkei community and excluded from the standard narrative of Japanese American wartime incarceration until later in life Omura seeks in this memoir to correct the cockeyed history to which Japanese America has been exposed Edited and with an introduction by historian Arthur A Hansen and with contributions from Asian American activists and writers Frank Chin Yosh Kuromiya and Frank Abe Nisei Naysayer provides an essential firsthand account of Japanese American wartime resistance

Trans-Pacific Japanese American Studies Yasuko Takezawa, Gary Y. Okihiro, 2016-09-30 Trans Pacific Japanese American Studies is a unique collection of essays derived from a series of dialogues held in Tokyo Kyoto and Los Angeles on the issues of racializations

gender communities and the positionalities of scholars involved in Japanese American studies The book brings together some of the most renowned scholars of the discipline in Japan and North America It seeks to overcome past constraints of dialogues between Japan and U S based scholars by providing opportunities for candid extended conversations among its contributors While each contribution focuses on the field of Japanese American studies approaches to the subject vary ranging from national and village archives community newspapers personal letters visual art and personal interviews Research papers are divided into six sections Racializations Communities Intersections Borderlands Reorientations and Teaching Papers by one or two Japan based scholar s are paired with a U S based scholar reflecting the book s intention to promote dialogue and mutuality across national formations The collection is also notable for featuring underrepresented communities in Japanese American studies such as Okinawan war brides Koreans women and multiracials Essays on subject positions raise fundamental questions Is it possible to engage in a truly equal dialogue when English is the language used in the conversation and in a field where English language texts predominate How can scholars foster a mutual respect when U S centrism prevails in the subject matter and in the field s scholarly hierarchy Understanding foundational questions that are now frequently unstated assumptions will help to disrupt hierarchies in scholarship and work toward more equal engagements across national divides Although the study of Japanese Americans has reached a stage of maturity contributors to this volume recognize important historical and contemporary neglects in that historiography and literature Japanese America and its scholarly representations they declare are much too deep rich and varied to contain in a singular narrative or subject position

Free to Die for Their Country Eric L. Muller, 2003-05 One of the Washington Post s Top Nonfiction Titles of 2001 In the spring of 1942 the federal government forced West Coast Japanese Americans into detainment camps on suspicion of disloyalty Two years later the government demanded even more drafting them into the same military that had been guarding them as subversives Most of these Americans complied but Free to Die for Their Country is the first book to tell the powerful story of those who refused Based on years of research and personal interviews Eric L Muller re creates the emotions and events that followed the arrival of those draft notices revealing a dark and complex chapter of America s history

In Defense of Justice Eileen Tamura, 2013-09-30 As a leading dissident in the World War II concentration camps for Japanese Americans the controversial figure Joseph Yoshisuke Kurihara stands out as an icon of Japanese American resistance In emotional often inflammatory speeches Kurihara attacked the U S government for its treatment of innocent citizens and immigrants Because he articulated what other inmates dared not voice openly he became a spokesperson for camp inmates In this astute biography Kurihara s life provides a window into the history of Japanese Americans during the first half of the twentieth century Born in Hawai i to Japanese parents who immigrated to work on the sugar plantations Kurihara worked throughout his youth and early adult life to make a place for himself as an American seeking quality education embracing Christianity and serving as a soldier in the U S Army during World War I Though he bore the brunt of anti Japanese hostility in the decades before World War II he remained adamantly positive about the prospects of his own life in America The U S entry into World War II and the forced removal and incarceration of ethnic Japanese destroyed that perspective and transformed Kurihara As an inmate at Manzanar in California Kurihara became one of the leaders of a dissident group within the camp and was implicated in the Manzanar incident a serious civil disturbance that erupted on December 6 1942 In 1945 after three years and seven months of incarceration he renounced his U S citizenship and boarded a ship for Japan where he had never been before He never returned to the United States Kurihara s personal story illuminates the tragedy of the forced removal and incarceration of U S citizens among the West Coast Nikkei even as it dramatizes the heroic resistance to that injustice Shedding light on the turmoil within the camps as well as the sensitive and formerly unspoken issue of citizenship renunciation among Japanese Americans In Defense of Justice explores one man s struggles with the complexities of loyalty and resistance

Born in Seattle Robert Sadamu Shimabukuro, 2013-05-01 The story of the World War II internment of 120 000 Japanese American citizens and Japanese born permanent residents is well known by now Less well known is the history of the small group of Seattle activists who gave birth to the national movement for redress It was they who first conceived of petitioning the U S Congress to demand a public apology and monetary compensation for the individuals and the community whose constitutional rights had been violated Robert Sadamu Shimabukuro using hundreds of interviews with people who lived in the internment camps and with people who initiated the campaign for redress has constructed a very personal testimony a monument to these courageous organizers determination and deep reverence for justice Born in Seattle follows these pioneers and their movement over more than two decades starting in the late 1960s with second generation Japanese American engineers at the Boeing Company as they worked with their fellow activists to educate Japanese American communities legislative bodies and the broader American public about the need for the U S Government to acknowledge and pay for this wartime injustice and to promise that it will never be repeated
