Duran, 2017-07-05 The first English language monograph on Il Fronte Nuovo delle Arti this study explores the rise and fall of this postwar Italian artists group as a representative instance of the tensions facing Italian painting during the transition out of two decades of Fascism and into the global divisions of the Cold War Adrian Duran argues that the binary structures of the era realism vs abstraction Communism vs democracy conformism vs freedom have monopolized the discourse surrounding the Fronte Nuovo and with it the historiography of Italian painting during this period 1944 50 Beginning with the dialogues that framed the formation of the Fronte Nuovo this book reconsiders artists works correspondence critical writings and manifestos These are married to examinations of specific exhibitions the most important of which are the group s 1947 inaugural exhibition and the 1948 and

1950 Venice Biennali The critical responses to these exhibitions are reconsidered in light of their groundings in the heated political debates of the period In total these diverse sources reveal the vast divide between the internal discourse of the arts generated by the participant artists and their works and the surrounding politics of Cold War Italy Vedova de America Germano Celant,2019-11-28 De America is a series of some fifty paintings on paper and canvas created by Emilio Vedova in Venice between 1976 and 1977 subject of the exhibition organized by the Galleria dello Scudo and the Fondazione Emilio e Annabianca Vedova After the war New York encouraged a dialog between American Abstract Expressionism and European art activities It happened between Venice and America too Industrious collectors came to Venice to acquire the best proposals of the time and the Biennale also undertook an intense activity of promotion in South American countries This exhaustive catalog offers an occasion for reconstructing the steps of an American itinerary in which Vedova's painting was influenced by the radical transformations which above all in the 1960s and 1970s deeply affected the country's social context

Of the post war post serialist generation of European composers it was Luigi Nono who succeeded not only in identifying and addressing aesthetic and technical questions of his time but in showing a way ahead to a new condition of music in the twenty first century His music has found a listenership beyond the ageing constituency of contemporary music In Nono's work the audiences of sound art improvisation electronic experimental and radical musics of many kinds find common cause with those concerned with the renewal of Western art music His work explores the individually and socially transformative role of music its relationship with history and with language the nature of the musical work as distributed through text time technology and individuals the nature and performativity of the act of composition and above all the role and nature of listening as a cultural activity In many respects his music anticipates the new technological state of culture of the twenty first century while radically reconnecting with our past His work is itself a case study in the evolution of musical activity and the musical object from the period of an apparently stable place for art music in Western culture to its manifold new states in our century Routledge Handbook to Luigi Nono and Musical Thought seeks to trace the evolution of Nono's musical thought through detailed examination of the vast body of sketches and to situate this narrative in its personal cultural and political contexts

Rethinking Medical Humanities Rinaldo F. Canalis, Massimo Ciavolella, Valeria Finucci, 2022-12-19 Medical Humanities may be broadly conceptualized as a discipline wherein medicine and its specialties intersect with those of the humanities and social sciences As such it is a hybrid area of study where the impact of disease and healing science on culture is assessed and expressed in the particular language of the disciplines concerned with the human experience However as much as at first sight this definition appears to be clear it does not reflect how the interaction of medicine with the humanities has evolved to become a separate field of study In this publication we have explored through the analysis of a group of selected multidisciplinary essays the dynamics of this process The essays predominantly address the interaction of literature philosophy art art history ethics and education with medicine and its specialties from the classical period to the present Particular attention has been given to the Medieval Early Modern and Enlightenment periods To avoid a rigid compartmentalization of the book based on individual fields of study we opted for a fluid division into multidisciplinary sections reflective of the complex interactions of the included works with medicine

Exhibiting Italian Art in the United States from Futurism to Arte Povera Raffaele Bedarida, 2022-06-28 This volume explores how Italian institutions dealers critics and artists constructed a modern national identity for Italy by exporting literally and figuratively contemporary art to the United States in key moments between 1929 and 1969 From artist Fortunato Depero opening his Futurist House in New York City to critic Germano Celant launching Arte Povera in the United States Raffaele Bedarida examines the thick web of individuals and cultural environments beyond the two more canonical movements that shaped this project By interrogating standard narratives of Italian Fascist propaganda on the one hand and American Cold War imperialism on the other this book establishes a more nuanced transnational approach The central thesis is that beyond the immediate aims of political propaganda and conquering a new market for Italian art these art exhibitions publications and the critical discourse aimed at American audiences all reflected back on their makers they forced and helped Italians define their own modernity in relation to the world's new dominant cultural and economic power The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history social history exhibition history and Italian studies Heinz Tesar, Sammlung Essl, Klosterneuburg Heinz Tesar, Gottfried Knapp, 2000 Text in English and German Heinz Tesar's buildings occupy a very particular place on the Austrian architectural scene which is anyway populated by a lot of individualists There is a great deal of creative imagination at work here which always operates outside the scope of modern routine The town of Klosterneuburg north of Vienna has become something like an artistic home for Tesar The Schomerhaus an office building whose huge oval central hall leaves convention far behind and the Protestant church which has a rounded floor plan like a tear drop were now followed by the impressive museum he has built here to house 4000 objects from the private Essl collection which includes the most important collection of Austrian art after 1945 The floor plan is based on a triangle Above a storage floor that runs the whole length of the building three individually shaped architectural entities are grouped around a green courtyard The elaborately orchestrated section of the building on the short leg of the triangle accommodates the entrance foyer staircase library offices and a flat The long side of the triangle contains the hall for temporary exhibitions extending over two storeys on the lower floor it is glazed on the courtyard side and in the upper storey it is lit partly from the side and partly from the skylights in the slightly undulating roof The hypotenuse is made up of a sequence of parallel galleries they are topped by lanterns which admit a great deal of daylight Finally Tesar gives the cubic building an organic touch with a curved flourish at the tip of the triangle Following Gehry and Zumthor who have recently made important contributions to the theme of art museums Tesar is now offering a variant that responds very physically to its surroundings

creating individual spaces with a variety of light

Electroacoustic Music Thomas Licata, 2002-09-30 Electroacoustic music a flourishing medium for over half a century remains today in a wide array of technological forms one of the major areas of creative activity in music However it has long been overlooked in theoretical studies possibly in part because it does away with traditional scores and notation In this landmark collection a group of distinguished composers and theorists who have actively worked in the field present detailed analyses of important electroacoustic works while also demonstrating some recent approaches to the analysis of the music of this medium Included here are discussions of such significant works as Karlheinz Stockhausen's Gesang der Jünglinge 1955-56 Iannis Xenakis Diamorphoses 1957 and Jean Claude Risset's Contours 1982 Overall the collection aims to elucidate the sonic design of each of the electroacoustic music works under investigation using its best examples as a lens through which to examine an unduly neglected genre Demonstrating recent techniques in the analysis of electroacoustic music the volume also considers various compositional approaches as well as computer applications that have become an irreplaceable tool in the composing of this music So little has been written about this 20th century art form that Electroacoustic Music Analytical Perspectives is at once a fresh bold step forward in musicology and analysis
