Pfenninger, Olga Timofeeva, Anne-Christine Gardner, Alpo Honkapohja, Marianne Hundt, Daniel Schreier, 2014-09-11 The papers in this volume aim at facilitating exchange between three fields of inquiry that are of great importance in historical linguistics language change socio linguistic research on variation and contact linguistics Drawing on a range of recently developed methodological innovations such as methods for quantifying the linguistic variation that is a prerequisite for language change or new corpus based methods for investigating text type variation the contributors are able to trace linguistic change in different periods and contact situations demonstrate how variation occurs and in how far language change results out of this variation Thus the chapters go beyond core issues of language variation and change focusing on the boundary between word and grammar discourse and ideology in the history of the English language Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ... Languages do not exist beyond their speakers but the history of individual languages has often been told as if they had a life of their own emerging from other languages growing and sometimes dying When applied to Spanish this story line commonly begins in spoken Latin with the language taking shape in medieval Spain before spreading beyond Europe in the colonial period This book proposes a new take on this narrative Instead of seeing Spanish as a linguistic entity with linear development what would its history look like if we think of it as a centuries long constellation of contact events A History of Spanish as a Contact Language revisits the evolution of Spanish from the perspective of the ecology of language centring speakers as the only historical agents of language transmission and change Taking the speakers vantage point opens up exciting possibilities to rethink what Spanish is how it has changed and who has played a role in this process American Book Publishing Record , 1988 Spanish and English in Small Town and Rural America Daniel James Smith, 2024-12-26
