

A dramatic landscape photograph featuring a sunset or sunrise over a body of water. The sky is filled with dark, heavy clouds, with a bright orange and yellow glow from the sun breaking through near the horizon. The water in the foreground is dark and reflects the light from the sky. The overall mood is contemplative and powerful.

One of the tests of leadership is the ability to recognize a problem before it becomes an emergency.

The elderly represent the fastest growing segment of the population in developed countries reflected in the patient population presenting to EDs and hospitals These patients more often than not have greater co morbidities more complicated workups and utilize more laboratory and radiologic services This text is designed to teach emergency physicians how best to care for this specific demographic of patients It addresses physiologic changes high risk conditions and atypical presentations associated with elderly patients in the ED that result in frequent misdiagnosis or delays in diagnosis It instructs the readers how best to care for elderly patients in order to minimize morbidity and mortality addressing some of the difficult psychosocial issues that confront health care providers that care for elderly patients such as psychiatric disease and end of life care The utility of this text is not limited to emergency physicians but it should be useful to all health care providers involved in the treatment of elderly patients with acute medical or surgical conditions Biomedical Research Studies in Acceleration, Impact, Weightlessness, Vibration and Emergency Escape and Restraint Systems Civil Aeromedical Research Institute (U.S.),1963 Doing Research in Emergency and Acute Care Michael P. Wilson,Kama Z. Guluma,Stephen R. Hayden,2015-11-09 A practical guide to understanding and navigating the unique challenges faced by physicians and other professionals who wish to undertake research in the ED or other acute care setting Focusing on the hyper acute and acute care environment and fulfilling two closely related needs 1 the need for even seasoned researchers to understand the specific logistics and issues of doing research in the ED and 2 the need to educate clinically active physicians in research methodology This new text is not designed to be a complex encyclopedic resource but instead a concise easy to read resource designed to convey key need to know information within a comprehensive framework Aimed at the busy brain either as a sit down read or as a selectively read reference guide to fill in knowledge gaps chapters are short compartmentalized and are used strategically throughout the text in order to introduce and frame concepts This format makes it easy and even entertaining for the research novice to integrate and absorb completely new and typically dry material The textbook addresses aspects of feasibility efficiency ethics statistics safety logistics and collaboration in acute research Overall it grants access for the seasoned researcher seeking to learn about acute research to empathically integrate learning points into his or her knowledge base As the ED is the primary setting for hyper acute and acute care and therefore a prime site for related clinical trial recruitment and interventions the book presents specific logistical research challenges that researchers from any discipline including physicians research nurse coordinators study monitors or industry partners need to understand in order to succeed Nancy Caroline's Emergency Care in the Streets Nancy L. Caroline,Bob Eling,2013 This fully updated edition covers every competency statement of the National EMS education standards for paramedics with clarity and precision in a concise format that ensures student comprehension and encourages critical thinking This edition emphasizes the ideal that becoming a paramedic is a continual pursuit of growth and excellence throughout an entire career Emergency School Aid Act of 1970 United States.
