The 3-Degree Putting Solution Michael Breed, 2011-09-29 The award winning

Golf Channel instructor and host of The Golf Fix revives a long lost technique for adjusting your putter's loft with winning results. Acclaimed instructor Michael Breed resurrects the crucial lessons of negative loft 3 degrees of it to be precise and shows how it can revolutionize any player's short game. Drawn from years of self-funded technical research, The 3 Degree Putting Solution presents the key to fixing putting woes once and for all. The secret is to change the loft on the putter face from 4 degrees of positive loft as conventional wisdom dictates to a negative loft of 3 degrees. The result: Backspin is greatly reduced, ensuring a more consistent speed and a truer roll. And by leaning the putter shaft forward, golfers can all but eliminate the ball's pesky air jump immediately after impact. Shrinking the chance of error on each putt, Breed has perfected the 3 Degree technique to incorporate optimal grip posture and alignment as well as intuitive skills such as mental conditioning and how to read the green. This breakthrough guide offers practice drills with dozens of photographs and illustrations, making the 3 Degree technique a powerful lesson in shaving crucial points off your score. Giving readers access to the proven wisdom of a world-class instructor, The 3 Degree Putting Solution is sure to spark new dialogues on how to putt like a pro.

NGO Field Workers in Bangladesh Mokbul Morshed Ahmad, 2017-11-22. This title was first published in 2002. NGOs are receiving increasing international attention and resources from policy makers, donors, academics, and others. The New Policy Agenda accepts NGOs as agents for social welfare alongside the state and as fostering democracy in the Developing World. Astonishingly, however, there have been very few studies and no books on NGO field workers. This study of field workers in Bangladesh provides excellent insights into this neglected field. Bangladesh is an excellent example as, since independence in 1971, it has been a donor-dependent country both financially and functionally, and since the 1980s has concentrated this funding towards NGOs rather than to the state. The book shows how field workers are seen simply as implementers carrying out directions given by their superiors and never being consulted on how best to achieve their goals. The book examines four types of NGOs: international, national, regional, and small local, in a number of sample locations. It compares the benefits and facilities provided by each NGO to their field workers, then explores the socio-economic background of both field workers and their mid-level managers and examines the interactions between these two groups and between field workers and their clients. It also looks at the field workers' personal and professional lives and problems and details their opinions on their NGO's activities and policies and on development. The findings show that NGO managers and donors lack knowledge of the realities in the field and do not realise how certain policies, such as their positive discrimination of women, can have negative results. It proposes that NGO field workers should be more active in policy making and puts forward several recommendations for changes in the management and structure of future NGOs.
