The return of elephants to currently protected areas of their former range has greatly influenced vegetation locally and the resulting potential negative effects on biodiversity are causing concern among stakeholders managers and scientists This book focuses on the ecological effects of the increasing elephant population in northern Botswana presenting the importance of the elephants for the heterogeneity of the system and showing that elephant ecology involves much wider spatiotemporal scales than was previously thought Drawing on the results of their research the authors discuss elephant caused effects on vegetation in nutrient rich and nutrient poor savannas and the potential competition between elephants on the one hand and browsers and mixed feeders on the other Ultimately this text provides a comprehensive review of ecological processes in African savannas covering long term ecosystem changes and human wildlife conflicts It summarises new knowledge on the ecology of the sub humid African savanna ecosystems to advance the general functional understanding of savanna ecosystems across moisture and nutrient gradients Our Paper ,1907 A Richard Selzer Reader Kevin Kerrane, 2017-07-31 A Richard Selzer Reader Blood and Ink is a career spanning collection including major short stories and essays by the renowned doctor author In the 1960s while practicing as a general surgeon and teaching surgery at the Yale School of Medicine Richard Selzer began publishing unique creative work in magazines such as Harper's and Esquire By 1985 when he retired as a physician to devote himself completely to writing Selzer was already recognized as a pioneer in the field of medical humanities When he died in 2016 as the author of 13 books his influence was acknowledged by a younger generation of doctor writers like Abraham Verghese and Atul Gawande Selzer's unusual style fuses scientific and poetic language Drawing on favorite readings from the King James Bible to the tales of Edgar Allen Poe he used this style to convey a sense of awe at the beauty and complexity of the human body even in the midst of suffering While describing himself as an atheist Selzer always searched for sacramental moments of courtesy courage and grace in medical encounters Because he often looked critically at the failure of doctors to regard the full humanity of their patients Selzer's work has become required reading in many medical training programs A Richard Selzer Reader includesseveral of the author's most famous essays and stories as well as two dozen selections that have not been collected in his previous books Chronologically the material ranges from apprenticeship stories as far back as
