Wright presents this collection of six essays on aspects of black history Each essay is based upon a critical historical methodology that is comprised of among other things a racial analysis an intersectional analysis rigorous logic conceptual integrity and a critical analysis of ideas words and images Critical of the romantic approach to the subject Wright seeks to uncover a deeper analysis knowledge and truth regarding aspects of black history even when it involves the presentation of material and viewpoints that some might find objectionable He predicates these pieces on the idea that history is still a valuable subject firmly rejecting the postmodern view that it has lost its validity Wright demonstrates that black history is a vital and necessary subject not only for black people but for all Americans A critical black history is itself Wright contends a device to evaluate American history in a critical manner to get into the subject more deeply and to adduce deeper knowledge and truths about it These essays show the author s interest in strengthening that critical capacity of black historical writing and his belief that this is a primary and necessary means to maintain the viability and productivity of the academic discipline and to ward off its detractors

Black History and Black Identity William D. Wright, 2002-02-28 This study contends that historians and intellectuals failed to understand the difference between race and ethnicity which has in turn impaired their ability to understand who Black people are in America The author argues that Black Americans are to be distinguished from other categories of black people in the country black Africans West Indians or Hispanics While Black people are members of the black race as are other groups of people they are a distinct ethnic group of that race This conceptual failure has hampered the ability of historians to define Black experience in America and to study it in the most accurate authentic and realistic manner possible This confusing situation is aggravated further by the fact that many scholars tend to describe Black people in an arbitrary manner as Africans African Americans Afro Americans black or Black which is insufficient for precision They sometimes downplay the historical evidence regarding African identity and the identity of Blacks in America Wright offers a new methodological basis for undertaking Black history namely the framework of historical sociology He argues that this approach will produce a more useful history for Black people and others in America Themes in Modern African History and Culture Lars

James E. Turner,2014-08-01 The year of 1980 marked a pivotal turning point in the American political landscape the electoral victory of presidential candidate Ronald Reagan the beginnings of the public hysteria and eventual legislative dismantling of affirmative action and other civil rights initiatives the dawn of the ruthless reign of neo conservatism and in some ways serving as the glue the ascent of neo liberalism as the prevailing ideology and standard logic of viewing and ordering the world Some thirty five years later it is almost difficult to remember a world and more precisely a moment in United States history when these things were not so dominant When thinking about the lasting impact of that moment David Harvey writes Future historians may well look upon the years 1978 1980 as a revolutionary turning point in the world s social and economic history revolutionary impulses seemingly spread and reverberated to remake the world around us in a totally different image In short this was an instance of profound transformation it was the dawn of the counterrevolution By no means immune to the changes in the larger political landscape Black activists and intellectuals also felt the ground moving beneath their feet in 1980 as many would gradually shift from an all out advance towards liberation to a posture concerned with what James Turner described as the preservation of the modest gains made by African Americans over the last decade The previous decade witnessed an obvious waning in the Black liberation movement a slew of high profile manhunts arrests court cases and outright criminalizing of radical activists the unearthing of Cointelpro the blooming of the liberation movement in Southern Africa a taxing debate around various articulations of Marxism and Black nationalism the full swing of feminism and a full decade of Africana Studies which also meant institutionalized space to foster such discussions It was these changing times that provided the context for the important gathering of Black activists and intellectuals in Ithaca New York during September 1980 at the Africana Studies and Research Center at Cornell and the content for this book Bound together by the dual purposes of both assessing the road traveled and preparing for the journey ahead the ensemble in attendance gathered to ponder the Next Decade as the conference theme spelled out plainly A quick glance at the conference s list of attendees demonstrates the extraordinary sphere of activity that was the Africana Studies and Research Center at Cornell Participants and attendees at this historic meeting included Toni Cade Bambara Lerone Bennett Johnella Butler John Henrik Clarke Gayla Cook Louis Farrakhan Hoyt Fuller Ewart Guinier Vincent Harding Robert Harris Stephen Henderson Robert Johnson George Kent George Lamming Tilden Lemelle Bernard Magubane Manning Marable William Nelson William Sales Michael Thelwell Bettie Collier Thomas Eleanor Traylor Ivan Van Sertima Ronald Walters Shirley Weber Sylvia Wynter Howard Dodson William Strickland and two of the visual artists featured in this book David Bradford and Bertrand Phillips This book is both a contribution to the historiography of the Black African Studies movement and an intellectual treasure representing the ideas and visions of many of the best minds at a crucial juncture in the African world US Black Engineer & IT, 1998

Making Black History Jeffrey Aaron Snyder, 2018 Making Black History focuses on the engine behind the early black history movement in the Jim Crow era Carter G Woodson and his Association for the Study of Negro Life and History Ebony, 1991-02 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine

Perspectives of Black Histories in Schools LaGarrett J. King, 2019-11-01 Concerned scholars and educators since the early 20th century have asked questions regarding the viability of Black history in k 12 schools Over the years we have seen k 12 Black history expand as an academic subject which has altered research questions that deviate from whether Black history is important to know to what type of Black history knowledge and pedagogies should be cultivated in classrooms in order to present a more holistic understanding of the group s historical significance Research around this subject has been stagnated typically focusing on the subject s tokenism and problematic status within education We know little of the state of k 12 Black history education and the different perspectives that Black history encompasses The book Perspectives on Black Histories in Schools brings together a diverse group of scholars who discuss how k 12 Black history is understood in education The book s chapters focus on the question what is Black history and explores that inquiry through various mediums including its foundation curriculum pedagogy policy and psychology The book provides researchers teacher educators and historians an examination into how much k 12 Black history has come and yet how long it still needed to go
