Black Conservative Intellectuals in Modern America Michael L. Ondaatje,2011-11-29 In the last three decades a brand of black conservatism espoused by a controversial group of African American intellectuals has become a fixture in the nation s political landscape its proponents having shaped policy debates over some of the most pressing matters that confront contemporary American society Their ideas though have been neglected by scholars of the African American experience and much of the responsibility for explaining black conservatism s historical and contemporary significance has fallen to highly partisan journalists Typically those pundits have addressed black conservatives as an undifferentiated mass proclaiming them good or bad right or wrong color blind visionaries or Uncle Toms In Black Conservative Intellectuals in Modern America Michael L Ondaatje delves deeply into the historical archive to chronicle the origins of black conservatism in the United States from the early 1980s to the present Focusing on three significant policy issues affirmative action welfare and education Ondaatje critically engages with the ideas of nine of the most influential black conservatives He further documents how their ideas were received both by white conservatives eager to capitalize on black support for their ideas and by activists on the left who too often sought to impugn the motives of black conservatives instead of challenging the merits of their claims While Ondaatje's investigation uncovers the themes and issues that link these voices together he debunks the myth of a monolithic black conservatism Figures such as Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas the Hoover Institution's Thomas Sowell and Shelby Steele and cultural theorist John McWhorter emerge as individuals with their own distinct understandings of and relationships to the conservative political tradition

Almost 15,000 entries to books, articles, dissertations, and other materials are organized under 87 subject headings. In addition, there are author and ethnic racial indexes.
