From the Inside Ruth Wyner,2003      Understanding Prison Staff Jamie Bennett,Ben Crewe,Azrini Wahidin,2013-05-13
The past decade has seen dramatic growth in every area of the prison enterprise Yet our knowledge of the inner life of the prison remains limited This book aims to redress this research gap by providing insight into various aspects of the daily life of prison staff It provides a serious exploration of their work and in doing so will seek to draw attention to the variety value and complexity of work within prisons This book will provide practitioners students and the general reader with a comprehensive and accessible guide to the contemporary issues and concerns facing prison staff      The Prisoner Ben Crewe,Jamie Bennett,2012-03-12 Little of what we know about prison comes from the mouths of prisoners and very few academic accounts of prison life manage to convey some of its most profound and important features its daily pressures and frustrations the culture of the wings and landings and the relationships which shape the everyday experience of being imprisoned The Prisoner aims to redress this by foregrounding prisoners own accounts of prison life in what is an original and penetrating edited collection Each of its chapters explores a particular prisoner sub group or an important aspect of prisoners lives and each is divided into two sections extended extracts from interviews with prisoners followed by academic commentary and analysis written by a leading scholar or practitioner This structure allows prisoners voices to speak for themselves while situating what they say in a wider discussion of research policy and practice The result is a rich and evocative portrayal of the lived reality of imprisonment and a poignant insight into prisoners lives The book aims to bring to life key penological issues and to provide an accessible text for anyone interested in prisons including students practitioners and a general audience It seeks to represent and humanize a group which is often silent in discussions of imprisonment and to shine a light on a world which is generally hidden from view      Analysing Women's Imprisonment Pat Carlen,Anne Worrall,2004 Focusing on England and Wales it looks at the history of women s imprisonment data contemporary issues theories alternatives to custody feminist theories of imprisonment and penal politics and research methods      Prisons and Imprisonment Cormac Behan,Abigail Stark,2023-01-01 This textbook examines prisons and imprisonment Historically prisons and prisoners have been a source of interest to the general public However despite near universal acceptance of imprisonment as a feature of society we know relatively little about the reality of prison life or the effects it has on individuals and communities Using academic scholarship empirical research government papers policy reports and accounts from lived experiences of the institution this book analyses the complexities and contradictions of prison life the place of the prison in twenty first century society and its prospects for the future This book will introduce readers to key debates surrounding the use of imprisonment and challenge readers to interrogate conventional perspectives on an institution that reflects the society in which it is situated      Freeing Tammy Jody Raphael,2013-03-12 The latest volume in the popular trilogy of books about women poverty and violence      The Prisoner Society Ben Crewe,2012-01-19 While the use of imprisonment continues to rise in developed nations we have little sociological knowledge of the prison's inner world. Based on extensive fieldwork in a medium security prison, The Prisoner Society: Power, Adaptation and Social Life in an English Prison provides an in-depth analysis of the prison's social anatomy. It explains how power is exercised by the institution, individualizing the prisoner community and demanding particular forms of compliance and engagement. Drawing on prisoners' life stories, it supplies a detailed typology of adaptive styles, showing how different prisoners experience and respond to the new range of penal practices and frustrations. It then explains how the prisoner society, its norms, hierarchy, and social relationships, is shaped both by these conditions of confinement and by the different backgrounds, values, and identities that prisoners bring into the prison environment. Through this analysis, this meticulously researched book aims to revive and update the dormant tradition of prison ethnography. It provides an empirical snapshot of a modern prison, documenting the aims and techniques of contemporary imprisonment and illuminating the social structures and behaviours that they generate. Through a penetrating account of power relations throughout the institution, the author documents the pains of modern imprisonment, the new techniques of survival, and the prison's distinctive forms of trade, friendship, and everyday culture. In the Shadow of Prison Helen Codd, 2013-05-13. This book provides an up-to-date, accessible introduction to the relationship between families, prisons, and penal policies in the United Kingdom. It explores current debates in relation to prisoners and their families and introduces the reader to relevant theoretical approaches. Interdisciplinary in nature, the book incorporates perspectives drawn from criminology, sociology, social work, and law. The book includes a current exploration of key aspects of the consequences of imprisonment for prisoners and their families, an assessment of the role of current prison policies and practices in promoting and maintaining family relationships, a summary of the current law in relation to prisoners and their families with reference to the relevant legislation and recent case law. Criminal Justice Andrew Sanders, Richard Young, Mandy Burton, 2010-07-15. This text concentrates on the apprehension, investigation, and trial of suspected offenders, overlaying its analysis with a critical appraisal of the system and suggesting pointers to improvement. My Brother's Keeper Jonathan Burnside, Joanna Adler, Nancy Loucks, Gerry Rose, 2013-06-17. This book is the first major study of the global phenomenon of faith-based prison units. Exploring the roots of faith-based units in South America, it explains why the Prison Service of England and Wales set up the first Christian-based unit in the western world in 1997 and why there was subsequently a rapid expansion of faith units across the Western world. The book presents a vision of justice that is not just concerned with building more prisons but with rebuilding more prisoners. Caged Emotions Ben Laws, 2022-05-04. This book focuses on the emotional experience of imprisonment. In no uncertain terms, prisons seethe with emotions and feelings. Based on two empirically rigorous studies, this book analyses how prisoners attempt to adapt and control their emotions. It begins with an account of male and female prisoners held in medium security prisons and then moves to the particular case of emotions in solitary confinement. There has been a turn towards emotions in criminology, but this is the first book to centralize the subject of prisoner emotions in a detailed manner The ethnographic study of feelings has much to contribute to broader debates about survival in prison and pathways to desistence Most importantly it emphasizes that full blooded depictions of prisoners belong at the heart of academic inquiry Stuart: A Life Backwards Alexander

Masters,2006-05-30 In this extraordinary book Alexander Masters has created a moving portrait of a troubled man an unlikely friendship and a desperate world few ever see A gripping who done it journey back in time it begins with Masters meeting a drunken Stuart lying on a sidewalk in Cambridge England and leads through layers of hell back through crimes and misdemeanors prison and homelessness suicide attempts violence drugs juvenile halls and special schools to expose the smiling gregarious thirteen year old boy who was Stuart before his long sprawling dangerous fall Shocking inspiring and hilarious by turns Stuart A Life Backwards is a writer s quest to give voice to a man who beneath his forbidding exterior has a message for us all that every life even the most chaotic and disreputable is a story worthy of being told Convict Voices

Anne Schwan,2014-12-02 In this lively study of the development and transformation of voices of female offenders in nineteenth century England Anne Schwan analyzes a range of colorful sources including crime broadsides reform literature prisoners own writings about imprisonment and courtroom politics and conventional literary texts such as Adam Bede and The Moonstone Not only does Schwan demonstrate strategies for interpreting ambivalent and often contradictory texts she also provides a carefully historicized approach to the work of feminist recovery Crossing class lines genre boundaries and gender roles in the effort to trace prisoners authors and female communities imagined or real Schwan brings new insight to what it means to locate feminist or protofeminist details arguments and politics In this case she tracks the emergence of a contested and often contradictory feminist consciousness through the prism of nineteenth century penal debates The historical discussion is framed by reflections on contemporary debates about prisoner perspectives to illuminate continuities and differences Convict Voices offers a sophisticated approach to interpretive questions of gender genre and discourse in the representation of female convicts and their voices and viewpoints Body Studies in Canada Valerie Zawilski,2021-07-20

How do we perceive ourselves and our bodies in relation to our physical geographical social cultural political psychological and spiritual environments Body Studies in Canada uses intersectional methodological and theoretical frameworks to discuss the political and socio historical discourses that shape body studies in Canadian society This edited volume delves into a variety of timely topics including postcolonial othering of the body social discourses around healthy and un healthy bodies intersections of aging gender race class and size the fitness industries promotion of the ideal body the gendering of bodywork symbols and expressions in carceral environments and self awareness of the body in social and digital media In thirteen chapters editor Valerie Zawilski brings together scholars from a wide variety of disciplines and expertise to provide an interdisciplinary perspective on how the body interacts reflexively with society This collection is a foundational text for sociology of the body and body studies courses as well as gender studies political science and health studies FEATURES provides a uniquely Canadian perspective on body studies and the surrounding historical and political issues with a focus on decolonization racialization masculinities engagement with critical weight scholarship and immigration pedagogical features include section introductions boxed inserts highlighting key concepts learning objectives questions for critical thinking and a glossary

Sanders and Young's Criminal Justice Lucy Welsh, Andrew Sanders, Layla Skinns, Alpa Parmar, Ed Cape, 2021 Sanders and Young's Criminal Justice is an engaging account and a rigorous critique of the criminal justice system drawing on a wide breadth of research in the field

Unlocking the Prison Muse Julian Broadhead, 2006 Unlocking The Prison Muse examines the history of prisoners writing in the UK from Oscar Wilde to the present day It details the inspirations and motivations for prison writers the facilitating and disabling factors involved in writing for publication while in prison and the effects on the writers on the victims of their offending on wider society and on penal reform The book covers autobiography and memoir fiction drama poetry and journalism and considers whether writing success can assist rehabilitation It covers the inconsistency of censorship in the prison system and the moral and practical implications of criminals profiting by writing about their offences

BOOK JACKET

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

Young Men's Experiences of Long-Term Imprisonment Rachel Tynan, 2019-01-15 Long sentenced young people are a small but significant part of the juvenile prison population The current approach to young people convicted of serious crime speaks to wider issues in criminal and social justice including the idealisation of some childhoods processes of racialisation and identity and the sociology of the body Analysing the relationships between biography trauma and habitus reveals the ways in which class racial and legal status are experienced and resisted Young Men's Experiences of Long Term Imprisonment Living Life considers the need for the reinvigoration of prison ethnography and calls for a phenomenological approach to understanding youth crime and punishment An insightful ethnographic study on imprisoned 15 to 17 year olds in England this volume examines how young people experience long term imprisonment manage their time and imagine and shape their futures Drawing on observations interviews and correspondence Tynan situates long term imprisonment of young men within the wider social context of criminal and social justice and analyses constructs and practices that locate responsibility for crime with individuals and communities Young Men's Experiences of Long Term Imprisonment Living Life will be of interest to students and researchers interested in the sociology of prisons punishment and youth justice and qualitative research methodology
