Getting There From Here:

You Can Get There From Here Bob Stanhope, 2017-12-11 I'd always wanted to travel except that I didn't know it. After graduating from college getting a job and setting out on my own I made some sporadic attempts to see some of the world. It took a while to figure out how and it was only after I got married that the two of us came upon a strategy that worked for us. This book is a collection of stories about my mostly modest opportunities to travel. This is not a how-to book. There will be no listings of the best places to go. You will not find even a slightly comprehensive guide to locations, National Parks, interesting cities, countries, or anything else particularly useful. However, I hope you will find some interesting and amusing stories about surprises that we encountered along the way.

You Can't Get There from Here David Patrick Cook, 1993 You Can Get There from Here Shirley MacLaine, 1975. Invited to visit the People's Republic of China, the author and a group of American women were not prepared for what they saw and learned.

Can't Get There from Here Todd Strasser, 2010-05-11. Her street name is Maybe. She lives with a tribe of homeless teens, runaways, and throwaways, kids who have no place to go other than the cold city streets and no family except for one another. Abused, abandoned, and forgotten, they struggle against the cold, hunger, and constant danger. With the frigid winds of January comes a new girl, Tears, a twelve-year-old whose mother doesn't believe her stepfather abuses her. As the other kids start to disappear, victims of violence, addiction, and exposure, Maybe tries to help Tears get off the streets if it's not already too late.

Todd Strasser, author of the powerful and disturbing Give a Boy a Gun, again focuses on an important social issue as he tells a thought-provoking, heart-wrenching story of young lives lost to the streets and of a society that has forgotten how to care.

What Got You Here Won't Get You There Marshall Goldsmith, Mark Reiter, 2007-02-22. Whether you are near the top of the ladder or still have a ways to climb, this book serves as an essential guide to help you eliminate your dysfunctions and move to where you want to go. Marshall Goldsmith is an expert at helping global leaders overcome their sometimes unconscious annoying habits and attain a higher level of success. His one-on-one coaching comes with a six-figure price tag. But in this book, you get Marshall's great advice without the hefty fee. Marshall Goldsmith is one of the most credible thought leaders in the new era of business. The Economist: For over a decade I have worked with Marshall in corporations and seen him teach. In my opinion, he is the best at what he does, bar none. He has that rare combination that makes a great teacher, thought leadership, classroom management, and presence.

Vijay Govindarajan, professor and director, Center for Global Leadership, Tuck School, Dartmouth University. America's preeminent executive coach, Fast Company.

Last Stand in Lychford Paul Cornell, 2024-03-26. Celestial beings and human witches clash for the future of the human and fairy worlds in Paul Cornell's Last Stand in Lychford. There are changes in the air, both in Lychford and in the land of fairy. The magical protections previously employed by the town are gone, and the forces of darkness are closing in, both figuratively and literally. Can Autumn and Lizzie save their community and, well, the world? Exploding fairies, the architect of the universe, and a celestial bureaucratic blunder make this a satisfying conclusion to the ever popular Witches of Lychford series      Spellbound Cate Tiernan,2007-03-22 Morgan knows that a great battle is to come More immediately she senses that someone is out to harm Hunter Is it a human or a witch      Between Here and There B. Writing Lovers Méira Cook, 2005 Is it possible to capture something as ephemeral as love with mere words M ira Cook draws on Lacan Derrida Barthes and Kristeva to wrestle with the theoretical problems of representing the unrepresentable In Writing Lovers she searches for a language adequate to articulating the discourse of passion desire and longing in the love poetry of Dionne Brand Elizabeth Smart Daphne Marlatt Dorothy Livesay Kristjana Gunnars and Nicole Markotic In writings by the French post structuralists rhetorical tropes such as speechlessness fragmentation and deflection testify to the writer's difficulty in broaching the subject of love Similarly Cook shows that love poetry proceeds out of a profound failure of language resulting from the opacity of discourse its lack of neutrality or the fugitive transparency of reference Writing Lovers also explores race ethnicity age and sexual identity within the context of the passionate excesses of amatory discourse
