Fielding And The Nature Of The Novel:

Fielding and the Nature of the Novel Robert Alter, 1968 A History of English Prose Fiction, from Sir Thomas Malory to George Eliot Bayard Tuckerman, 2025-08-11 Reprint of the original first published in 1882 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage Eloquent Reticence Leona Toker, 2021-11-21 The importance of the ethics of form in literature has only recently gained broad recognition and has thus far been explored mainly from the position of moral philosophy and critical theory Leona Toker develops a narratological approach to the subject based on studying reticence in works of fiction Reticence consists in narrative techniques through which writers create information gaps that build interest enhance tension and control the reader's comprehension of theme character and event Using novels by Fielding Austen Dickens Conrad Forster and Faulkner Toker demonstrates how the withholding of information affects readers' attitudes stimulates their reassessment and leads to a self-critical reorientation and how such manipulation of attention has specific ethical and aesthetic significance Drawing on descriptive poetics reader response criticism and information theory Toker marks the parallel situations of the characters in the fiction she analyzes and of the readers who encounter it and presents a novel approach to the issue of first and repeated readings The inquiry into the twofold role of the reader opens the discussion of narrative techniques to ethical issues Through her analysis of silences in representative works Toker makes a meaningful contribution to modern narrative study and offers new insights into a number of familiar novels This well-informed sensitive and judicious study will appeal to scholars interested in narrative theory and ethical criticism and to students of Faulkner and of the classical English novel Scepticism Society

And The Eighteenth-Century Novel Eve Tavor, 1986-12-15 The Treatment of Nature in the More Important Novels Between 1740-1798 Irene Mary Stanley Parkell, 1923 Between Sacred and Profane Christine van Boheemen-Saaf, 2021-11-08 Henry Fielding's Novels and the Classical Tradition Nancy A. Mace, 1996 In this study author Nancy A. Mace rectifies the lack of scholarly attention given Henry Fielding's use of the classical tradition in his novels periodical essays and miscellaneous writings Although scholars have extensively studied the affinities between Henry Fielding's novels and such modern genres as the romance travel literature and criminal biography they have paid surprisingly little attention to his use of the classical tradition in developing both his narrative theory and practice An Ecological and Postcolonial Study of Literature R. Marzec, 2015-12-11 This book argues that humanity's relationship to the land has undergone a fundamental and calamitous change Marzec reveals how the historical phenomenon known as the enclosure movement has effected not only the ecosystems and the geopolitics of the Twenty First century but on how we relate to the earth and conceive of ourselves as human Nature's Simple Plan Chauncey Brewster Tinker, 1922 The Sanctification of Don Quixote Eric Ziolkowski, 2008-01-18 Ziolkowski explores the religious implications of the figure of Don

Quixote in Western literature from Cervantes to the present While scholars and critics in the past have often called attention to the secularizing tendency of modern literature to the numerous fictional adaptations of the Christ figure on the one hand and the innumerable literary descendants of Don Quixote on the other this study is the first to examine a lineage of characters in whom the images of the alleged savior and the mad knight are combined After considering Don Quixote as the first modern novel and taking into account its relationship to religion society and censorship in seventeenth century Spain Ziolkowski traces the history and fate of Don Quixote the character through a series of religious transformations over the centuries focusing on three novels that adapt the Quixote figure Henry Fielding s Joseph Andrews Fyodor Dostoevsky s The Idiot and Graham Greene s Monsignor Quixote Ziolkowski argues that given the increased secularization and decline of religious consciousness over the last several centuries any pursuit of religious values or ideas becomes questionable and this appears quixotic insofar as it stands in contradiction to the sociohistorical context He concludes that religious existence for the few who pursue it in suffering which means that the religious person feels temporally displaced for adhering to a seemingly obsolete faith and lifestyle A Topical Survey of English Literature , Inspiration in the Age of

Enlightenment Sarah Eron,2014-03-20 Inspiration in the Age of Enlightenment reconsiders theories of apostrophe and poetic authority to argue that the Augustan age created a new form of inspiration one that not only changed the relationship of literary production to authority in the modern period but also crucially contributes to defining the movement of secularization in literature from the Renaissance to Romanticism Seeking to redefine what we mean by secularization in the early stages of modernity Eron argues that secularization s link to enthusiasm or inspiration often associated with Romanticism begins in the imaginative literature of the early eighteenth century If Romantic enthusiasm has been described through the rhetoric of transport or unworlding then Augustan invocation appears more akin to a process of worlding in its central aim to appeal to the social other as a function of the eighteenth century belief in a literary public sphere By reformulating the passive structure of ancient invocation and subjecting it to the more dialogical methods of modern apostrophe and address authors such as the Third Earl of Shaftesbury Alexander Pope Henry Fielding and Anna Laetitia Barbauld formally revise inspiration in a way that generates a new and distinctive representation of the author In this context inspiration becomes a social gesture an apostrophe to a friend or judging spectator or an allusion to the mental or aesthetic faculties of the author himself his genius Articulating this struggle toward modernity at its inception this book examines modern authority at the moment of its extraordinariness when it was still tied to the creative energies of inspiration to the revelatory powers that marked the awakening of a new age an era and an ethos of Enlightenment CliffsNotes on Fielding's Joseph Andrews Michael B.
