Transnational Mobility in China Roberto Castillo, 2020-12-29 Considering the African presence in China from an ethnographic and cultural studies perspective this book offers a new way to theorise contemporary and future forms of transnational mobilities while expanding our understandings around the transformations happening in both China and Africa. The author develops an original argument and new theoretical insights about the significance of the African presence in Guangzhou and presents an invaluable case study for understanding particular modes of transnational mobility. More broadly it challenges forms of representing and producing knowledge about subjects on the move and it transforms existing theorisations and critical understandings of mobility and its shaping power. Through an ethnographic approach the book brings us closer to a number of practices, features and objects that while characterising the lives of Africans in Guangzhou are also evidence of the interplay between individual aspirations and the structural constraints embedded in contemporary regimes of transnational mobility. Raising critical questions about ways of unbelonging in the precarious settings of neoliberal modernity and the future of African mobilities this book will be of interest to scholars of transnational African and Chinese Studies.

Beijing Film Academy 2020 Journal of Beijing Film Academy, 2022-12-16 The annual Beijing Film Academy Yearbook highlights the best academic debates, discussions and research from the previous year as previously published in the highly prestigious Journal of Beijing Film Academy. This volume brings together specially selected articles appearing for the first time in English to bridge the gap in cross-cultural research in cinema and media studies. The book is the latest in the Intellect China Library series to produce work by Chinese scholars that have not previously been available to English language academia. Covering the subjects of film studies, visual arts, performing arts, media and cultural studies, the series aims to foster intellectual debate and to promote closer cross-cultural intellectual exchanges by introducing important works of Chinese scholarship to readers.

Chinese Ibsenism Kwok-kan Tam, 2019-09-10 This book is a study of the relation between theatre art and ideology in the Chinese experimentations with new selfhood as a result of Ibsen's impact. It also explores Ibsenian notions of self, women and gender in China and provides an illuminating study of Chinese theatre as a public sphere in the dissemination of radical ideas. Ibsen is the major source of modern Chinese selfhood which carries notions of personal and social liberation and has exerted great impacts on Chinese revolutions since the beginning of the twentieth century. Ibsen's idea of the self as an individual has led to various experimentations in theatre, film and fiction to project new notions of selfhood in particular women's selfhood throughout the history of modern China. Even today China is experimenting with Ibsen's notions of gender, power, individualism and self. Kwok-kan Tam is Chair Professor of English and
