The book is about future cities and possible scenarios for city futures. A question central to this book is how to face urban challenges while providing and safeguarding positive outcomes concerned with the improvement of the quality of urban life. How can future cities be made more liveable, sustainable, and resilient? How can cities continue to provide a wide range of opportunities for all necessities of life? To tackle these complex questions, the book includes a collection of 25 articles written by 37 emerging voices in urban design and research. Together, they contribute from a diverse spectrum of interest, expertise, academic disciplines, and practice. They approach the built environment from a socio-cultural, respectively socio-economic perspective from the viewpoint of urban policy and public health with environmental concerns for urban sustainability and circularity in mind and through the lens of urban computer and data science, providing a take on urban digitalization and transformation of cities into smart cities.
