United States Trustee Program United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law, 2009 California's New School Funding Flexibility Margaret Weston, 2011 Spurred by a deep recession and large budget shortfalls the California Legislature in 2009 enacted what was arguably the largest change to California's school finance system in decades relaxing spending restrictions on more than 40 categorical programs through 2012-13 extended later to 2014-15 Categorical funding which gives school districts money in addition to the general funds they already receive from the state had been limited to specific narrow purposes buying textbooks or providing summer school for example Under the 2009 changes districts could begin spending these funds for any educational purpose When the law expires the legislature will be faced with a decision whether to return to the previous tightly restricted categorical fund system or transition to a permanent version of the flexibility now in use Because they were part of legislative negotiations over the state budget not education policy the decisions made in 2009 were far from optimal for K-12 schools A more systematic and less political reconsideration of categorical flexibility could result in a more equitable and transparent distribution of funds while also reserving targeted aid for students who need supplemental services In addition under the 2009 provisions districts could spend categorical funds on any educational purpose Both state policymakers and local district officials have expressed concern about the impact of completely flexible funds on the collective bargaining process specifically that those funds would be used inappropriately to increase teacher salaries and benefits rather than to provide additional services or materials for students This report offers three recommendations to improve current flexibility provisions that the legislature could consider should it pursue categorical flexibility beyond the program's sunset date 1 Distribute these less restricted categorical funds more equally 2 Apply clear criteria for flexibility and consider alternative configurations and 3 Consider some restrictions on flex item funds These recommendations would create a more equitable and transparent source of revenue This would provide local school districts with increased flexibility in meeting student needs and would be consistent with several recent major school finance reform proposals as well as Governor Brown's campaign plan for K-12 education Contains 6 figures 5 tables and 36 footnotes For California's New School Funding Flexibility Technical Appendices see ed519504 Education, 1972 Administrative Education Analyst National Learning Corporation, 2018 The Administrative Education Analyst Passbook R prepares you for your test by allowing you to take practice exams in the subjects you need to study It provides hundreds of questions and answers in the areas that will likely be covered on your upcoming exam including but not limited to Analysis of problems in personnel administration labor relations budgeting and management analyst in an education environment including methodology research and data collection techniques program planning and evaluation in an education environment comprehension and interpretation of complex pertinent written materials including technical data and more Office of Education, Federal Security Agency,
