Gender Perspectives On Property Inheri:

Gender Perspectives on Property and Inheritance Rights Wambui Kanyi, Maina Ngunjiri, 2002 Gender Perspectives on Property and Inheritance Sarah Cummings, 2001 Extrait de la couverture Legal and customary arrangements and practices govern women's rights and access to resources such as land and housing This book highlights women's unequal position in formal and customary laws and practices and the way in which gender relations affect women's and men's access to property through inheritance The introduction examines how gender relations define ownership and control of property and the attention that the issue of gender equality has received in the development agenda Five reviews from Latin America Ivory Coast South Africa the Middle East and India focus on the disjuncture between law and practice in terms of women's property and land rights inheritance access to resources marriage and employment These contributions also reflect on the importance of women's participation in decision making forums and the need for women's political organization and mobilization in order to redress gender imbalances in land and inheritance rights Gender Perspectives on Property and Inheritance Sarah Cummings, 2001 This title features contributions from the South addressing gender equality and inheritance rights at the household level Disparities between customary law family law and the official legal system are discussed with regard to property rights marriage land rights and inheritance Each article covers the current situation and experiences of violation of women's personal rights and provides policy tools to bring about improvement Material from across the developing world is included in the annotated bibliography and the resources section Published in association with KIT Publishers Perspectives on Global Development 2012 Social Cohesion in a Shifting World OECD, 2011-11-18 This report analyses the impact of Shifting wealth on social cohesion largely focusing on high growth converging countries

Comparative Property Law Michele Graziadei, Lionel Smith, 2017-01-27 Comparative Property Law provides a comprehensive treatment of property law from a comparative and global perspective The contributors who are leading experts in their fields cover both classical and new subjects including the transfer of property the public private divide in property law water and forest laws and the property rights of aboriginal peoples This Handbook maps the structure and the dynamics of property law in the contemporary world and will be an invaluable reference for researchers working in all domains of property law Negotiations of Gender and Property through Legal Regimes (14th-19th Century), 2021-04-26 This volume explores familial wealth arrangements and gendered property from the fourteenth to the nineteenth centuries in Italian German and Austrian territories including Florence Trento Tyrol and Vienna Nordic countries Western Pyrenees and England Family property as capital in the form of houses land movables financial assets and rights were of great importance in the past Arrangements of such property were characterised by a high degree of negotiating competence but likewise they entailed competition between the parties involved and were highly conflict prone Fifteen contributors from Austria Finland France Germany Italy and the UK address different marital property regimes in relation to the practices and legal regulations of inheritance patterns with consideration to inter familial negotiation conflict and resolution Contributors are Marie Pierre Arrizabalaga Laura Casella Isabelle Chabot Siglinde Clementi Simona Feci Ellinor Forster Andrea Griesebner Christian Hagen Margareth Lanzinger Janine Maegraith Silvia Mattivi Beatrice Moring Craig Muldrew Regina Sch fer and Georg Tschannett Women, Law and Human Rights Fareda Banda, 2005-10-04 Africa with its mix of statute custom and religion is at the centre of the debate about law and its impact on gender relations This is because of the centrality of the gender question and its impact on the cultural relativism debate within human rights It is therefore important to examine critically the role of law broadly constructed in African societies The book focuses on women s experiences in the family This is because the lives of women continue to be lived out largely in the private domain where the right to privacy is used to conceal unequal treatment of women which is justified by invoking custom and tradition The book shows how law and its interpretation is used to disenfranchise women resulting in their being deprived of land and other property which they may have helped to accumulate It also considers issues of violence within the home reproductive rights and examines the issue of female genital cutting The role of women in development is explored as is their participation in politics and the NGO sector A major theme of the book is a consideration of the linkages of constitutional and international human rights norms with local values This is done using feminist tools of analysis The book considers the provisions of the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and People s Rights on the Rights of Women which was adopted by the African Union in July 2003 Harmful Practices and Human Rights: An International Perspective Ebenezer Durojaye, Satang Nabaneh, Johanna Bond, 2025-07-02 Harmful Practices and Human Rights examines different forms of harmful practices globally which constitute human rights violations as guaranteed in international and regional human rights instruments Drawing examples from Africa Asia North America Europe and Australasia it demonstrates how these practices undermine the right to health including sexual and reproductive health and also impugn the dignity and autonomy of women and girls Using diverse harmful practices as case studies the book critically examines the factors that drive harmful practices in developing and developed countries Specifically this book focuses on a selection of harmful practices including dowry payments ukuthwala intimate partner violence harmful tobacco use and its gendered implications trafficking in persons widowhood practices the chinamwari khomba practice and child marriage from both the Global South and North Its intent is to demonstrate the prevalence of these abuses and underscore the urgent need for states to take decisive steps toward eradication Owning Land, Being Women Amrita Mondal, 2021-04-06 Owning Land Being Women enquires into the processes that establish inheritance as a unique form of property relation in law and society It focuses on India examining the legislative processes that led to the 2005 amendment of the Hindu Succession Act 1956 along with several interconnected welfare policies Scholars have understood these Acts as a response to growing concerns about women s property rights in developing countries In re reading these Acts and exploring the wider nexus of Indian society in which the legislation was drafted this study considers how questions of family structure and property rights contribute to the creation of legal subjects and demonstrates the significance of the politico economic context of rights formulation On the basis of an ethnography of a village in West Bengal this book brings the moral axis of inheritance into sharp focus elucidating the interwoven dynamics of bequest distribution of family wealth and reciprocity of care work that are integral to the logic of inheritance It explains why inheritance rights based on the notion of individual property rights are inadequate to account for practices of inheritance Mondal shows that inheritance includes normative structures of affective attachment and expectations i e evaluatively charged imaginaries of the future that coordinate present practices These insights pose questions of the dominant resource based conceptualisation of inherited property in the debate on women s empowerment In doing so this work opens up a line of investigation that brings feminist rights discourse into conversation with ethics enriching the liberal theory of gender justice

Property Law and Economics Boudewijn Bouckaert, 2010-01-01 This book contains illuminating and carefully written literature reviews on the central topics of the economics of property rights and institutions As a bonus it includes two fascinating chapters on topics off the beaten path slavery and new types of property rights in environmental goods This book will be indispensable for students and experienced scholars alike Eric Posner University of Chicago Law School US This study covers property law and property rights providing a full summary and comprehensive bibliography of the existing law together with discussion from an economic perspective on the most important aspects of property law Leading experts have brought together their knowledge and insight on a full range of issues including comparative property law and the history of property law to create a truly autonomous interdisciplinary resource This essential reference work will strongly appeal to scholars and students enrolled in academic programmes of law and economics Academic lawyers involved in research and teaching of private common law practicing lawyers in the field of real estate law as well as economists involved in researching development economics and transition economics will also find this an invaluable resource

Gender Relations in Public and Private E. Stina Lyon, Lydia Morris, 2016-07-27 This collection of papers from the 1993 BSA Research Imaginations conference explores the interpenetration of the public and private spheres The book comprises two sections one dealing with aspects of employment and finance the other with domesticity and intimacy Topics covered include the changing emotional geography of workplace and home the gendering of aspects of employment and organisation marital finance and gendered inheritance the management of food and domestic labour researching the emotions and understanding intimate violence

The Impact of the Protocol on the Rights of Women in Africa on Violence Against Women in Six Selected Southern African Countries, 2009 Gender and Rurality Sarah Whatmore, Terry Marsden, Philip Lowe, 2023-06-08 Originally published in 1994 this book brings together papers developing feminist analyses of the rural condition from a wide range of industrialised countries informed by the national and local cultural constructions of gender and rurality which they interpret The chapters address the gendered power relations of rural households and agricultural science women s mobilisation in farming and environmental politics the intersection of domestic and rural values and practices as they shape gender identities "Good Women Do Not Inherit Land" Nitya Rao, 2008 Good women should not claim a share in the inheritance even if they have no brothers Notions such as this have in their own way and over time given the women in the Santal Parganas the resolve to wrest what is rightfully theirs This is a powerful book in the way in which it unfolds the lives and anxieties of Santal women in two villages of Dumka district Jharkhand From the very inception adivasi women come alive through separate life histories They span different situations and social patterns but all of them relate to rights in landed property and their own troubled identities in the backdrop of harsh living conditions social discrimination and lack of state support Land for the Santal women is not a mere economic resource It stands for security social position and identity and in this men have a distinct advantage Soon after writing in a personal vein the author unfolds how these anxieties of the Santal women resonate her own The author traces the relationship between Santals and their land from historic times to the modern era when they have access to both the modern legal system and their own customary laws She also examines the role of external agencies in this struggle government administrative bodies non governmental organizations and political leaders As modern influences crowd out traditional mores the author asserts that development is not always a benign process of social advancement but a highly political struggle for re negotiating power relations between men and women and among social groups The use of a community identity as adivasis has also been responsible for denying women rights to land in the context of the movement for political autonomy of Jharkhand Based on rich ethnographic material this sensitive book lays bare the reality of being an adivasi and an adivasi woman in all its nuances in the modern globalized world Decoding Gender Helga Baitenmann, Victoria Chenaut, Ann Varley, 2007-06-22 Gender discrimination pervades nearly all legal institutions and practices in Latin America The deeper question is how this shapes broader relations of power By examining the relationship between law and gender as it manifests itself in the Mexican legal system the thirteen essays in this volume show how law is produced by but also perpetuates unequal power relations At the same time however authors show how law is often malleable and can provide spaces for negotiation and redress The contributors including political scientists sociologists geographers anthropologists and economists explore these issues not only in courts police stations and prisons but also in rural organizations indigenous communities and families By bringing new interdisciplinary perspectives to issues such as the quality of citizenship and the rule of law in present day Mexico this book raises important issues for research on the relationship between law and gender more widely Women's Social and Legal Issues in African Current Affairs Victoria M. Time, 2016-12-06 This volume explores the difficulties that beset African women and inhibit them from excelling in many walks of life in the twenty first century Asymmetrical relations in society position women in subjugated and marginalized roles This is caused by customary practices that have left women in vulnerable and subsidiary positions as well as statutory provisions that fester this process Despite its richness in raw materials and minerals Africa remains slow to grow when compared to other continents The economies of most African countries is severely anemic corruption is rife poor governance is systemic and wars conflicts famine and diseases abound Stalled economies disproportionately affects women for example as nurturers women have the extra responsibility of taking care of children and members of the extended family In times of want women are more likely to give up the little they have so that their children and others may survive This book shows the various social and legal obstacles that stall women s upward mobility and offers recommendations on how these issues can be resolved Cities, Slums and Gender in the Global South Sylvia Chant,Cathy McIlwaine,2015-12-22 Developing regions are set to account for the vast majority of future urban growth and women and girls will become the majority inhabitants of these locations in the Global South This is one of the first books to detail the challenges facing poorer segments of the female population who commonly reside in slums It explores the variegated disadvantages of urban poverty and slum dwelling from a gender perspective This book revolves around conceptualisation of the gender urban slum interface which explains key elements to understanding women s experiences in slum environments It has a specific focus on the ways in which gender inequalities are can be entrenched but also alleviated Included is a review of the demographic factors which are increasingly making cities everywhere feminised spaces such as increased rural urban migration among women demographic ageing and rising proportions of female headed households in urban areas Discussions focus in particular on education paid and unpaid work access to land property and urban services violence intra urban mobility and political participation and representation This book will be of use to researchers and professionals concerned with gender and development urbanisation and rural urban migration The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Development Anne Coles,Leslie Gray,Janet Momsen,2015-02-20 The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Development provides a comprehensive statement and reference point for gender and development policy making and practice in an international and multi disciplinary context Specifically it provides critical reviews and appraisals of the current state of gender and development and considers future trends It includes theoretical and practical approaches as well as empirical studies The international reach and scope of the Handbook and the contributors experiences allow engagement with and reflection upon these bridging and linking themes as well as the examining the politics and policy of how we think about and practice gender and development Organized into eight inter related sections the Handbook contains over 50 contributions from leading scholars looking at conceptual and theoretical approaches environmental resources poverty and families women and health related services migration and mobility the effect of civil and international conflict and international economies and development This Handbook provides a wealth of interdisciplinary information and will appeal to students and practitioners in Geography Development Studies Gender Studies and related disciplines Creating Indigenous Property Angela Cameron,Sari Graben,Val Napoleon,2020-11-03 While colonial imposition of the Canadian legal order has undermined Indigenous law creating gaps and sometimes distortions Indigenous peoples have taken up the challenge of rebuilding their laws governance and economies Indigenous conceptions of land and property are central to this project. Creating Indigenous Property identifies how contemporary Indigenous conceptions of property are rooted in and informed by their societally specific norms, meanings, and ethics. Through detailed analysis, the authors illustrate that unexamined and unresolved contradictions between the historic and the present have created powerful, competing versions of Indigenous law, legal authorities, and practices that reverberate through Indigenous communities. They have identified the contradictions and conflicts within Indigenous communities about relationships to land and non-human life forms, about responsibilities to one another, about environmental decisions, and about wealth distribution. Creating Indigenous Property contributes to identifying the way that Indigenous discourses, processes, and institutions can empower the use of Indigenous law. The book explores different questions generated by these dynamics, including: Where is the public-private divide in Indigenous and Canadian law, and why should it matter? How do land and property shape local economies? Whose voices are heard in debates over property, and why are certain voices missing? How does gender matter to the conceptualization of property and the Indigenous legal imagination? What is the role and promise of Indigenous law in negotiating new relationships between Indigenous peoples and Canada? In grappling with these questions, readers will join the authors in exploring the conditions under which Canadian and Indigenous legal orders can productively co-exist.

Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India Kenneth Bo Nielsen, 2018-02-22

Over the past decade, India has witnessed a number of land wars that have centred crucially on the often forcible transfer of land from small farmers or indigenous groups to private companies. Among these, the land war that erupted in Singur, West Bengal, in 2006 went on to make national headlines and become paradigmatic of many of the challenges and social conflicts that arise when a state-led policy of swiftly transferring land to private sector companies encounters resistance on the ground. Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India analyses the movement by Singur's so-called unwilling farmers to retain and reclaim their farmland. By foregrounding the everyday politics of popular mobilization, the book sheds new light on the movement's internal politics as well as on contentious issues rooted in everyday caste, class, and gender relations.
