Register of the War Department United States. War Department, 1886 The Local Authorities Handbook of New Zealand for the Year ... New Zealand. Department of Statistics, 1927 Terms in Context Jennifer Pearson, 1998-05-15

Terms in Context applies the methodology that has been developed over the last two decades in corpus linguistics to the relatively new and still little developed field of corpus based terminography While corpora are already being used by some terminologists for the identification of terms and retrieval of contextual fragments this book describes the first attempt to use corpora for terminography in much the same way as large general reference corpora are already being used for general language lexicography The author goes beyond the standard problem of identifying terms as opposed to non terminological lexical items in text and focuses on identifying metalanguage patterns which point to the presence in text of parts of reusable definitions of terms The author examines these patterns and shows how the information which they contain can be retrieved and used as input for terminological entries Terms in Context should be of interest to traditional terminologists who have not previously considered adopting a corpus based approach to their work or at least not on the scale proposed here to modern terminologists who use text primarily for the identification of terms and the retrieval of contextual examples to those in the corpus linguistic community who have hitherto used general language corpora for the purposes of lexicography and have not previously considered using special purpose corpora for more specific lexicography studies and to academics in the ESP LSP community who are interested in showing students how to use text as a means of ascertaining the meaning of terms FCC Record United States. National Bureau of Standards,1934 Energy and Structure Richard Newbold Adams,2014-02-19 All social structures are essentially power structures dependent on energy The concept of power and the role of energy in social organization are crucial and timely concerns especially in light of the current apprehension about future energy resources In Energy and Structure Richard N Adams argues that social power affects humanity s approach to ecological economic and political problems directing people to seek solutions that are often deceptively shortsighted Adams an anthropologist proposes that social power is directly derived from control over energy processes He identifies how power and mentalistic structures constitute fundamental determinants that shape the lives of people at all stages of cultural development forcing them to accept alternatives often far removed from their desires His central thesis is that the amount of power in any system varies with the amount of control exercised over the environment and that increasing power and control lead to increasing centralization of decision making social marginalization and environmental despoliation Thus the more highly developed societies by virtue of their greater controls are responsible for the greater ultimate subordination and destruction of human potential as humanity combines technological advances with a growing inability to exercise good judgment with respect to our own survival Energy and Structure begins with an examination of the basic theory of social power what it is and how it works Adams defines and differentiates between the concepts of power and control authority and legitimacy power domains and levels He then examines the underlying metatheory of energetic and mentalistic structures and provides an analytic model of the evolution of power from the primitive band to modern nations He predicts the emergence of supranational blocs and discusses other future possibilities Throughout his theoretical points are solidly supported by examples drawn from a wide range of cultures
