Gunner Inglorious Jim Henderson, 1957      Gunner Inglorious 24563 Jim Henderson, 1984      Gunner Inglorious Jim Henderson, 1945      Along for the Ride Tony Simpson, 2017-04-13 Tony Simpson's memoir as a unionist and public servant of New Zealand life and society from the 1970s through to the new millennium One of New Zealand's best known social historians Tony is the author of many published books including the award winning Sugarbag Years But through his working life he has also been a witness to and participant in major events shaping current New Zealand society irritating Muldoon watching Thatcher's rise during his OE seeing off the Lange government and its Rogernomics and ultimately serving as senior advisor to Alliance and Progressive Party leader and Deputy Prime Minister Jim Anderton With dollops of wry wit Along for the Ride offers us a politically committed kiwi insider's probing insights into some of recent history's most momentous changes traversing employment in public broadcasting and customs public service union work and his life as a writer an international foodie and a gay man      Politics of Forgetting Martyn Brown, 2019-04-24 Greece was a poor country in turmoil and pain during the 1940s A military dictatorship was followed by invasion and terrifying occupation by Germany and its allies starvation civil war political unrest and mutiny in its free military armed forces New Zealand entered this arena and found a bond with a people that it still celebrates to this day Absent from the New Zealand national storytelling is the complex divisive and sometimes violent and surreal relationship between the two countries and the inescapable influence of Britain The New Zealand Greek story stretches from the mountains and open country of Greece and Crete to Middle East deserts autumn swept plains of Italy and the blood splattered streets of post liberated Athens New Zealand official state memory emphasizes some things and ignores the unpalatable It also conceals its assertiveness with Britain over the latter's Greek policies      A Job to Do John Gordon, 2014-10-01 What was it really like for the soldiers of 2 New Zealand Division in World War Two How did they spend their time and how did they see their lives as servicemen from training at home and sailing off to war to setting up camp relaxing off duty fighting in hostile environments and possibly being taken prisoner This anthology is a personal selection of material describing the experiences of these men almost all written from within its ranks Colloquially known to its members as The Div it was by far the major part of New Zealand's Second Expeditionary Force making it our main contribution to the war Naturally it had a distinctly New Zealand character and despite being caught in several difficult situations in its early years and not necessarily of its own doing it gained an international reputation for courage reliability and achievement In this book John Gordon presents a lively and illuminating selection of the published words of members of The Div or those with close associations The chosen extracts are drawn from memoirs fiction verse news reports and magazine articles penned by soldiers of all ranks The result is a compilation of the written views and experiences of over 80 insiders creating an intimate glimpse of life and war within The Div supported by a host of photographs and cartoons from the period From the declaration of war to the return home this is a sample of the experiences of well over 100 000 New Zealand men who served in the division how they coped with discipline and disaster sacrifice and success They write with the same frankness humour wry cynicism and understatement that they used to cope with the challenges of their war

The Dark Dad Mary Kisler,2025-03-13 Art historian Mary Kisler grew up in the early 1950s with a father who talked little whose affection she cherished and whose anger she feared She later came to understand the trauma that lay behind his dark moods rejection and violence in his childhood and the brutal experience of being a prisoner of war in Italy and then Germany from late 1941 to 1945 In this affecting memoir she traces back through her father's life and war record discovering a man who had suffered but who ultimately found peace of mind among the people he loved most

Ambiguity & Innocence Tony Simpson,2013-07-01 This book is an account of the context within which the New Zealand Division 2NZEF occupied the Adriatic city of Trieste in May and June 1945 in the face of opposition from the Yugoslav partisan army of Marshall Josip Tito The resulting standoff almost led to further fighting between these erstwhile allies although the Yugoslavs ultimately realised they could not have sustained this and withdrew It was the last episode of the Second World War in Europe and simultaneously the first episode of what has become known as the Cold War Although it focuses initially on the two months of confrontation and draws on the experience of the New Zealand soldiers the civilians in the city at the time and some of the partisans who took part it then draws back and explains the chequered history of the region and the curiously ambiguous character of Trieste itself and of the Italians Germans and Serbo Croats who laid claim to it

Whole Men Kai Jensen,1996 Kai Jensen takes a provocative look at masculinity in New Zealand literature He argues that New Zealand writing around the Second World War was shaped by excitement about masculinity as a way of challenging society Inspired partly by Marxism writers such as A R D Fairburn Denis Glover John Mulgan and Frank Sargeson linked national identity to the ordinary working man or soldier and attempted to merge artistic activity and manliness in a new ideal the whole man This masculine excitement forged a literary and intellectual culture which was powerful for thirty years and which discouraged women writers Jensen suggests that the aftermath of masculinism still influences the way New Zealand intellectuals see themselves and that the masculine tradition survives in the writing of Owen Marshall Sam Hunt Maurice Shadbolt and even Maurice Gee At the same time he argues that masculinism underwent a process of change after its high point in the 1940s Frank Sargeson's closeted homosexuality posed a complex problem for the masculine tradition and its historians and James K Baxter's symbolic Jungian poetry was also hard to reconcile with the idea that men's writing must be based on robust experience Yet Baxter prepared the masculine tradition for the 1960s and 1970s by renovating the whole man as bohemian lover Whole Men is not just about one literary movement but about how literary culture works and how New Zealand intellectuals construct their identities

A Man's Country? Jock Phillips,1987

Desert War Peter Cox,2015-05-01 Sir Geoffrey Cox described Sidi Rezegh fought during Operation Crusader in Libya over November and December 1941 as the forgotten battle of the Desert War The objective of Crusader was to retake

Cyrenaica the eastern region of Libya and ultimately drive the Italians and Germans out of North Africa The campaign also involved British and South African troops and did achieve the badly needed relief of Tobruk Despite the New Zealand Division's major role and the importance of this campaign in achieving British victory in North Africa it has largely been neglected by historians failing to receive as much attention as Crete El Alamein or Cassino Yet more New Zealand soldiers were killed or taken prisoner during Crusader than in any other campaign fought by the Div during the war Peter Cox whose father fought at Sidi Rezegh draws on his experience of twice visiting the battlefield to tell the story of this complex and costly campaign He sets the scene for the fighting in Libya describes the unforgiving and inhospitable desert landscape follows the stages of the action itself and recounts the often moving and heroic stories of the New Zealanders who fought there Many never returned home This is both a very accessible account of a significant New Zealand contribution to World War II and a tribute to the thousands of men who took part in this punishing battle

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Native Wit Hamish Keith, 2014-08-15 The lively memoir of one of New Zealand's wittiest art urbanism and social commentators Legendary art commentator Hamish Keith returned to much deserved national attention when his television series and accompanying book The Big Picture seized the imagination of New Zealanders The high rating show and bestselling book rekindled fresh enthusiasm for the complex and fascinating story of our art heritage and cemented Keith's stature as one of our most engaging confronting and witty cultural commentators Native Wit Keith's witty revealing memoir gives readers an insight into his well lived rich and immensely varied life Whether as a confrere of Colin McCahon the chairman of the Arts Council husband of Oscar winning film costume designer Ngila Dickson bon vivant and accomplished chef or arch enemy of doddering bureaucrats Keith has a dynamic personality and a trenchant analysis that makes him a

Gunner Inglorious Jim Henderson, 1984      Good Luck to All the Lads Peter Cox, 2015-04-01 Good luck to all the lads Brian Cox wrote those words in his diary on 26 August 1940 just before he and his mates from 9 Platoon of 27 Machine Gun Battalion experienced enemy action for the first time in the Western Desert A Nelson College old boy Brian enlisted to do his duty and to take part in a great adventure But when he came home like so many of his mates he seldom spoke of his experiences It was only a chance question some 25 years after Brian s death that triggered his son Peter s search to discover what his father had done during the Second World War Brian s personal diaries and the photographs he had brought home were a good start but much more was needed material from the official war histories and archives and best of all memories from men who had fought alongside Brian In 2007 Peter Cox and his wife Robin retraced Brian s war journey in Egypt Libya and Greece They visited the battlefield at Sidi Rezegh in the Libyan Desert travelled the length of Greece following the route the New Zealand Division took and stood on the hillside where Brian and his mates had been dive bombed and machine gunned More than one man s tribute to his father this is an important addition to New Zealand s military history and a fitting memorial to the young men a number of them from Nelson College who bravely served and sometimes died so far from home
