Hughes, 2022-01-06 In Teaching for Spiritual Formation church historian and experienced Christian educator Kyle R Hughes advances a fresh vision of Christian teaching and learning by drawing upon the riches of the Christian tradition synthesizing the wisdom of the early church fathers with contemporary efforts to cultivate a distinctively Christian approach to education Of interest to a wide range of Christian educators this book examines how the writings of five significant church fathers can illuminate our understanding of the vocation of teachers the nature of students the purpose of curriculum decisions about pedagogy and how spiritual formation works Besides reimagining these aspects of Christian education Hughes also offers habits and practices that can help bring this vision of Christian teaching and learning to life challenging Christian educators to sharpen their approach to the integration of faith and learning in practical and accessible ways Christian Faith, Formation and Education Ros Stuart-Buttle, John Shortt, 2017-11-13 This book discusses the relationship between faith formation and education Rooted in a variety of discourses the book offers original insights into the education and formation of the human person both theoretical and practical Issues are considered within a context of contemporary tensions generated by an increasingly pluralist society with antipathy to religious faith and debated from interdenominational Christian perspectives Including chapters by an international team of experts the volume demonstrates how Christian faith holds significance for educational practice and human development It argues against the common assumption that there can be a neutral approach to education whilst at the same time advocating a critical dimension to faith education It brings fresh thinking about faith and formation which demands attention given the fast changing political educational and socio cultural forces of today It will appeal to students and researchers involved in Christian educational practice Christian Formation James R. Estep, Jonathan H. Kim, 2010-05-01 For Christian education professors and students Christian Formation provides a composite view of human development and learning from integrated theory theology and educational practices in the church By design the book integrates these elements into a cohesive foundational piece for Christian education Contributors include James Estep

Terry Linhart, 2016-10-18 How Ministers Can Be Excellent and Effective Teachers Effective teaching is important not only to the Christian faith but to the success and impact of Christian ministry. This book champions the role of teaching as a necessary skill for ministers to develop, equipping them to work effectively for the spiritual growth of young people. Terry Linhart, who has more than twenty-five years of experience training youth workers, brings together expert Christian educators representing a broad array of evangelical institutions and traditions to show how teaching connects to discipleship and the church in current contexts. Designed for the classroom, the book covers a wide range of topics and includes helpful illustrative diagrams, tables, line drawings, and charts. Teaching the Faith, Forming the Faithful Gary A. Parrett, S. Steve

Kang, 2013-03-05 With the decline of traditional Sunday school and education programs in recent years, many Christians have not learned the fundamental doctrinal content of the faith. In this text, Gary Parrett and Steve Kang set forth a thoroughly biblical vision for intentional teaching of the Christian faith that attends to both the content and process of educational and formational ministries. A Many Colored Kingdom Elizabeth Conde-Frazier, S. Steve Kang, 2004-03-01

How do ethnic and cultural diversity affect spiritual formation? The authors of A Many Colored Kingdom explore Christian formation and teaching in the church with a particular focus on intercultural and interethnic relationships. Well-qualified to speak on issues of diversity, the authors describe relevant aspects of their own personal journeys, key issues emerging from their studies, and teaching germane to race, culture, and ethnicity, and teaching implications that bring right practice to bear on church ministry. A final chapter contains a conversation among the authors responding to one another's insights and concerns. This book will be required reading for those engaged in, as well as those preparing for, a life of teaching and ministry in our increasingly multicultural world. Online Small Groups as Sites of Teaching Simon Hallonsten, 2024-04-25

Centered around a reflective narrative recounting the experiences of a participatory action research project into leading online small groups for adults in the Church of Sweden Diocese of Stockholm during 2021 and 2022, the dissertation argues for the need to reconceptualize and reemphasize teaching as an important aspect in Christian religious education. Employing creative non-fiction methods, the dissertation aims to broaden the scope of the initial Online Small Groups project by inviting readers to join into a learning journey. The narrative account is complemented with more traditional forms of analysis that connect experiences from online small groups in the Church of Sweden to similar research from Anglo-Saxon countries, noting especially how notions of community diverge due to different ecclesiological understandings. Insights are then synthesized into eight teaching strategies aimed at communicating actionable knowledge to small group leaders, before noting how the study complements research on Christian religious education and particularly the current debate about learning and teaching in the Church of Sweden. Educating People of Faith John H. Van Engen, 2004

A much-needed addition to the emerging literature on the formative power of religious practices, Educating People of Faith creates a vivid portrait of the lived practices that shaped the faith of Jews and Christians in synagogues and churches from antiquity up to the seventeenth century This significant book is the work of Jewish Roman Catholic Orthodox and Protestant scholars who wished to discover and describe how Jews and Christians through history have been formed in religious ways of thinking and acting Rather than focusing solely on either intellectual or social life the authors all use the concept of practices as they attend to the embodied contextual character of religious formation Their studies of religious figures community life and traditional practices such as preaching sacraments and catechesis are colorful detailed and revealing The authors are also careful to cover the nature of religious education across all social levels from the textual formation of highly literate rabbis and monks engaged in Scripture study to the local formation of illiterate medieval Christians for whom the veneration of saints shrines street performances of religious dramas and public preaching by wandering preachers were profoundly formative Educating People of Faith will benefit scholars and teachers desiring a fuller perspective on how lived practices have historically formed people in religious faith It will also be useful to practical theologians and pastors who wish to make the resources of the past available to practitioners in the present Contributors John C Cavadini Anne L Clark Lawrence S Cunningham Joseph Goering Robert Goldenberg Stanley Samuel Harakas Robert M Kingdon Blake Leyerle Michael A Signer Philip M Soergel David C Steinmetz John Van Engen Lee Palmer Wandel Robert Louis Wilken Elliot R Wolfson

Children's Ministry in the Way of Jesus David M. Csinos, Ivy Beckwith, 2013-10-04 Attract kids to church the logic often goes and you get parents in the pews All that's left is to get the kids out of the way Here children's ministers David Csinos and Ivy Beckwith draw on research in human development and spiritual formation to show how children become disciples and churches become centers of lifelong discipleship

Luetz, Tony Dowden, Beverley Norsworthy, 2018-07-04 This book is an arresting interdisciplinary publication on Christian education comprising works by leading scholars professionals and practitioners from around the globe It focuses on the integrated approaches to Christian education that are both theoretically sound and practically beneficial and identifies innovative pedagogical methods and tools that have been field tested and practice approved It discusses topics such as exploring programmes and courses through different lenses learning challenges and opportunities within organisational management theology of business Christian models of teaching in different contexts job preparedness developing different interpretive or meaning making frameworks for working with social justice people with disability non profit community organisations and in developing country contexts It offers graduate students teachers school administrators organisational leaders theologians researchers and education practitioners a fresh and inspiring reimagining of Christian education perspectives and practices and the ramifications of their application to life long learning Deep Reading Rachel B. Griffiths, Julie Ooms, Rachel M. De Smith Roberts, 2024-05-28 This book helps readers develop practices that will result in deep formative and faithful reading so they can contribute to the flourishing of their communities and cultivate their own spiritual and intellectual depth The authors present reading as a remedy for three prevalent cultural vices distraction hostility and consumerism that impact the possibility of formative reading Informed by James K A Smith's work on the spiritual power of habit Deep Reading provides resources for engaging in formative and culturally subversive reading practices that teach readers how to resist vices love virtue and desire the good Rather than emphasizing the spiritual benefits of reading specific texts such as Dante's Divine Comedy or Adventures of Huckleberry Finn the authors focus on the practice of reading itself They examine practices many teachers students and avid readers employ such as reading lists reading logs and discussion and demonstrate how such practices can be more effectively and intentionally harnessed to result in deep reading The practices apply to any work that is meant to be read deeply Learning the Way Cassandra Carkuff Williams, 2009-03-31 How should the church respond to the changing cultural and societal changes going on around it Should it reject the historical traditions that served the early Christian church or should it turn a blind eye to the changes happening in modern society Neither as Cassandra D Carkuff Williams advocates it should and it must recover and reclaim our foundations and reinterpret them in light of present day realities In Learning the Way Reclaiming Wisdom from the Earliest Christian Communities Williams suggests that the biggest problems facing the church today are the victim mentality created out of its own presumptions and that we have allowed our cultures and societies to dictate the way in which we lead our churches Williams explores early Christian communities and their practices in order to create principles for discipleship formation She then offers expert advice on how to approach modern day issues of Christian education and the nurturing of disciples based on the examples set forth by our earliest forebears in the faith As Williams states Discipleship is a way of being grounded in vocation nurtured within community and guided by tradition This book provides an overview of the past in order that we might take the proven example and apply it toward our present and our future
