James Castle Structures:

James Castle James Castle, 2002 Silent Days, Silent Dreams Allen Say, 2017-10-31 Caldecott Medal winner Allen Say brings his lavish illustrations and hybrid narrative and artistic styles to the story of artist James Castle. James Castle was born two months premature on September 25, 1899, on a farm in Garden Valley, Idaho. He was deaf, mute, autistic, and probably dyslexic. He didn't walk until he was four; he would never learn to speak, write, read, or use sign language. Yet today, Castle's artwork hangs in major museums throughout the world. The Philadelphia Museum of Art opened James Castle: A Retrospective in 2008. The 2013 Venice Biennale included eleven works by Castle in the feature exhibition The Encyclopedic Palace. And his reputation continues to grow. Caldecott Medal winner Allen Say, author of the acclaimed memoir Drawing from Memory, takes readers through an imagined look at Castle's childhood, allowing them to experience his emergence as an artist despite the overwhelming difficulties he faced, and ultimately reveals the triumphs that he would go on to achieve. The Architecture of James Stirling and His Partners James Gowan and Michael Wilford Geoffrey Howard Baker, 2011 Sir James Stirling was one of the greatest British architects of the twentieth century. This book provides a comprehensive critical survey of Stirling's work, charting the development of his ideas over four turbulent architectural decades. Using archival material, analytical examination of key buildings, and extensive interviews with Stirling's partners, the book sheds new light on Stirling's philosophy, working method, and design strategy, and the atelier structure of his office. "The Castles of England, Their Story and Structure" James D. Mackenzie, Baronet of Scatwell and Tarbat, 1897 The castles of England, their story and structure Sir James Dixon Mackenzie (bart.), 1897 The Architecture of Robert & James Adam (1758-1794) Arthur Thomas Bolton, 1922 Understanding Architecture Leland M. Roth, Amanda C. Roth Clark, 2024-07-18 The widely acclaimed and beautifully illustrated Understanding Architecture is now revised and expanded in its fourth edition, vividly examining the structure, function, history, and meaning of architecture from prehistory to the present in ways that are both accessible and engaging. Significant features of the fourth edition include: Expanded global essays outlining the encounters and interchanges, conflicts, and accommodations between disparate global communities; A brand new final chapter addressing the twenty-first century, during which Western and global architectural developments have increasingly become one broad, interwoven expression; This chapter includes sections on CAD, Contemporary Architecture of the Twenty-First Century, Architects' Contemporary Architectural Prizes, Architecture and Energy Consumption, and Architecture Integrated with Nature; New sections on Frank Lloyd Wright and Late Twentieth Century Expressionism; Thoroughly revised and expanded illustration, including over 700 images, over half of which are in full color, and 120 original line art drawings. Understanding Architecture continues to be the only text in the field to examine architecture as a cultural phenomenon as well as an artistic and technological achievement, with its straightforward two-part structure: The Elements of Architecture and The History and Meaning of Architecture. Comprehensive and clearly written, Understanding Architecture is both a primer for visual environmental literacy and a classic survey of architecture This is an essential book for anyone interested in our built environment and the layered historical meaning embodied within it The Impact of the Edwardian Castles in Wales Diane Williams, John R. Kenyon, 2009-12-16 The Impact of the Edwardian Castles in Wales publishes the proceedings of a conference held in 2007 a year that marked the seventh centenary of the death of King Edward I which set out to review recent scholarship on castles that he built in north Wales after two wars in 1277 and 1282-83 and a Welsh uprising in 1294-95 and to rethink the effect that their building had upon Wales in the past present and future Building upon the seminal work of Arnold Taylor whose study of the buildings and documentary evidence has been pivotal to Edwardian castle studies for more than fifty years the volume includes papers which call into question the role of Master James of St George as the architect of the king's new castles the role of Richard the Engineer the nature of royal accommodation in the thirteenth century and a detailed look at how households worked especially in the kitchen and accounting departments New approaches to castle studies are encouraging a more holistic understanding of the Edwardian castles and their context and to this end papers consider their impact on Welsh society and its princes in the thirteenth century notably Llywelyn ab Iorwerth Fawr the Great and his grandson Llywelyn ap Gruffudd prince of Wales Their symbolism and meaning through the words of Welsh poets and the mythology behind Caernarfon Castle are also examined so too is the role of Welshmen in Edward I's armies The wider context is considered with papers on the Edwardian towns in Wales the baronial castles in north Wales and Edward I in Scotland and Gascony The castles still have powerful resonance and the Minister for Heritage in the Welsh Assembly Government considers their role and presentation in Wales today and in the future Robert Liddiard concludes that the volume not only takes our knowledge of the Edwardian castles forward but also informs the study of castles in the British Isles Robert and James Adam, Architects of the Age of Enlightenment Ariyuki Kondo, 2015-10-06 During the second half of the eighteenth century British architecture moved away from the dominant school of classicism in favour of a more creative freedom of expression At the forefront of this change were architect brothers Robert and James Adam Kondo's work places them within the context of eighteenth century intellectual thought We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger, 2022-10-04 A richly illustrated history of self-taught artists and how they changed American art Artists without formal training who learned from family community and personal journeys have long been a presence in American art But it wasn't until the 1980s with the help of trailblazing advocates that the collective force of their creative vision and bold self-definition permanently changed the mainstream art world In We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger traces the rise of self-taught artists in the twentieth century and examines how despite wide-ranging societal racial and gender-based obstacles they redefined who could be rightfully seen as an artist and revealed a much more diverse community of American makers Lavishly illustrated throughout We Are Made of Stories features more than one hundred drawings paintings and sculptures ranging from the narrative to the abstract by forty-three artists including James Castle Thornton Dial William Edmondson

Howard Finster Bessie Harvey Dan Miller Sister Gertrude Morgan the Philadelphia Wireman Nellie Mae Rowe Judith Scott and Bill Traylor The book centralizes the personal stories behind the art and explores enduring themes including self definition cultural heritage struggle and joy and inequity and achievement At the same time it offers a sweeping history of self taught artists the critical debates surrounding their art and how museums have gradually diversified their collections across lines of race gender class and ability Recasting American art history to embrace artists who have been excluded for too long We Are Made of Stories vividly captures the power of art to show us the world through the eyes of another Published in association with the Smithsonian American Art Museum Exhibition Schedule Smithsonian American Art Museum Washington DC July 1 2022 March 26 2023 Riverside Lonnie Sacchi, Constance Guardi, 2012 The unrelenting industrialization of America in the 19th century brought undreamed of wealth and abundance to the nation as it emerged as a major world power after the trauma of a bloody civil war however the wealth was unevenly distributed and industrialization inevitably produced the undesirable side effects of overcrowded tenement life pollution and the general degradation of the environment This in turn set some of the nation's great thinkers on the path to coming up with answers to alleviate the ill effects of a rapidly industrializing and urbanizing society Frederick Law Olmsted's answer in 1868 was the conception of a suburb for Chicago that combined the best aspects of urban life with that of rural life So he created Riverside an ideal environment for civilization to flourish Construction, 1917 History of Scottish Architecture Miles Glendinning, 2019-07-30 At last here is a single volume authoritative history of Scottish architecture This compact yet comprehensive account combines factual description of the vast and fertile range of visual forms and key architects in each period with a wide ranging analysis of their social ideological and historical context As Scotland has often been closely involved with new trends in western architecture this book highlights the interaction of Scottish developments with broader European and international movements From the beginnings of the Renaissance in the 15th century right up to the 1990s this much needed survey covers the entire post medieval story in one volume Northern Europe Trudy Ring, Noelle Watson, Paul Schellinger, 2013-10-28 First published in 1996 Volume 2 of the International Dictionary of Historical Places covers Northern Europe British Isles to Russia out of a set of five The dictionary spans from Aachen to Ypres and includes an index by country This five volume set presents some 1 000 comprehensive and fully illustrated histories of the most famous sites in the world Entries include location description and site details and a 3 000 to 4 000 word essay that provides a full history of the site and its condition today An annotated further reading list of books and articles about the site completes each entry Proceedings of the 3rd World Congress on Integrated Computational Materials Engineering (ICME) Warren Poole, Steve Christensen, Surya Kalidindi, Alan A.
