The Language of Dogs and Other Canines Megan Kopp,2016-07-15 Dogs wolves jackals and foxes are all part of the canine family While some animals live together in packs others spend most of their lives alone From barks to howls this book explains what some of these sounds and signals mean and how humans study canine communication      Folklore of Tribal Communities N. Patnaik,2002 The Unwritten Literary World of Tribal Communities is nothing but the Oral Literature or Folklore It covers stories legends myths song dances riddles proverbs metaphors and such other aspects of their culture which are in their memory and handed down from generation to generation These sources of their literary world speak of their spiritual world and the eco system The older persons are the store house of of their oral literature and from these sources the literary world of theirs is disseminated among the youngsters This book gives the folklore of four tribal communities namely the Kharias the Oraons the Santals and the Mundas of Orissa The Kharias are a hunting and food gathering community the Oraons are noted for the dance and music and the Santals are well known as hard working cultivators and skilled in wall painting and noted for their sense of beauty The cultural patterns of these tribal communities and their life ways and thought ways are different from one another as revealed in the analysis of their oral literature Even though they lead a life full of wants and difficulties they are very labourious and joyful by virtue of which they forget their sorrows and miseries      Five Years of a Hunter's Life in the Far Interior of South Africa Roualeyn
