History And Value The Clarendon Lectures And The Northcliffe Lectures 1987:

History and Value Frank Kermode, 1988 Frank Kermode here returns to the literature of his youth to ask why we seem to have forgotten how urgent and powerful this literature was during a time of economic crisis and imminent world war discussing bourgeois left wing writing in England in the 1930s and to a lesser extent in the United States and addressing the more general question of how literature dies or survives and how we decide whether to attribute value to it History and Value Frank Kermode, 1989 Frank Kermode returns to the literature of his youth to ask why we appear to have forgotten how urgent and powerful it seemed in a time of economic crisis and imminent world war He also looks at postmodernism as a rejection of wholeness and a catastrophic break with the past Literature, History and Identity in Post-Soviet Russia, 1991-2006 Rosalind J. Marsh, 2007 The aim of this book is to explore some of the main pre occupations of literature culture and criticism dealing with historical themes in post Soviet Russia focusing mainly on literature in the years 1991 to 2006 introd The Cambridge History of English Poetry Michael O'Neill, 2010-04-29 A literary historical account of English poetry from Anglo Saxon writings to the present The Canon and the Archive Wadda C. Ríos-Font, 2004 R os Font re reads nineteenth and twentieth century Spanish texts and authors that have tested the boundary between high and low repositioning them within Spanish critical tradition Through these self reflexive readings the book explores how the definition of literature has changed in more than two centuries of modernity in Spain and the institutional and cultural negotiations behind this change Jacket Byron, Poetics and History Jane Stabler, 2002-12-05 Jane Stabler offers the first full scale examination of Byron s poetic form in relation to historical debates of his time Responding to recent studies of publishing and audiences in the Romantic period Stabler argues that Byron s poetics developed in response to contemporary cultural history and his reception by the English reading public Drawing on extensive new archive research into Byron s correspondence and reading Stabler traces the complexity of the intertextual dialogues that run through his work For example Stabler analyses Don Juan alongside Galignani s Messenger Byron s principal source of news about British politics while in Italy and refers to hitherto unpublished letters between Byron s publishers and his friends to reveal a powerful impulse among his contemporaries to direct his controversial poetic style to their own conflicting political ends This fascinating study will be of interest to Byronists and more broadly to scholars of Romanticism in general The New Cambridge Companion to Joseph Conrad J. H. Stape, 2015 This volume offers both students and scholars a comprehensive overview of the most recent developments in Conrad studies The 1930s: A Decade of Modern British Fiction Nick Hubble, Luke Seaber, Elinor Taylor, 2021-01-14 With austerity biting hard and fascism on the march at home and abroad the Britain of the 1930s grappled with many problems familiar to us today Moving beyond the traditional focus on the Auden generation this book surveys the literature of the period in all its diversity from working class women queer and postcolonial writers to popular crime and thriller novels In this way the book explores the uneven processes of modernization and cultural democratization that characterized the decade A major critical re evaluation of the decade the book covers such writers as Eric Ambler Mulk Raj Anand Katharine Burdekin Agatha Christie Lewis Grassie Gibbon Christopher Isherwood Storm Jameson Ethel Mannin Naomi Mitchison George Orwell Christina Stead Evelyn Waugh and many others Poetry for historians Carolyn Steedman, 2018-04-13 This is a book about the conflict between history and poetry and historians and poets in Atlantic World society from the end of the seventeenth century to the present day Blending historiography and theory it proceeds by asking what is the point of poetry as far as historians are concerned The focus is on W H Auden's Cold War era history poems but the book also looks at other poets from the seventeenth century onwards providing original accounts of their poetic and historical educations An important resource for those teaching undergraduate and postgraduate courses in historiography and history and theory Poetry for historians will also be of relevance to courses on literature in society and the history of education General readers will relate it to Steedman's Landscape for a Good Woman 1987 and Dust 2001 on account of its biographical and autobiographical insights into the way history operates in modern society

Sacrifice and Modern War Literature Alex Houen, Jan-Melissa Schramm, 2018-06-14 Sacrifice and Modern War Literature is the first book to explore how writers from the early nineteenth century to the present have addressed the intimacy of sacrifice and war It has been common for critics to argue that after the First World War many of the cultural and religious values associated with sacrifice have been increasingly rejected by writers and others However this volume shows that literature has continued to address how different conceptions of sacrifice have been invoked in times of war to convert losses into gains or ideals While those conceptions have sometimes been rooted in a secular rationalism that values lost lives in terms of political or national victories spiritual and religious conceptions of sacrifice are also still in evidence as with the martyrdom operations of jihadis fighting against the war on terror Each chapter presents fresh insights into the literature of a particular conflict and the contributions explore major war writers including Wordsworth Kipling Ford Madox Ford and Elizabeth Bowen as well as lesser known authors such as Dora Sigerson Richard Aldington Thomas Kinsella and Nadeem Aslam The volume covers multiple genres including novels poetry particularly elegy and lyric memoirs and some films The contributions address a rich array of topics related to wartime sacrifice including scapegoating martyrdom religious faith tragedy heroism altruism bare life atonement and redemption Comrades and Critics Candida Rifkind, 2009-01-01

Comrades and Critics is the first full length study of Canada's 1930s literary left Graham Greene's Thrillers and the 1930s Brian Diemert, 1996 In Graham Greene's Thrillers and the 1930s Brian Diemert examines the first and most prolific phase of Graham Greene's career demonstrating the close relationship between Greene's fiction and the political economic social and literary contexts of the period Situating Greene alongside other young writers who responded to the worsening political climate of the 1930s by promoting social and political reform Diemert argues that Greene believed literature could not be divorced from its social and political milieu and saw popular forms of writing as the best way to inform a wide audience Diemert traces Greene's adaptation of nineteenth century romance thrillers and classical detective stories into modern political thrillers as a means of presenting serious concerns in an engaging fashion He argues that Greene's popular thrillers were in part a reaction to the high modernism of writers such as James Joyce Gertrude Stein and Virginia Woolf whose esoteric experiments with language were disengaged from immediate social concerns and inaccessible to a large segment of the reading public

Rosamond Lehmann and Her Critics Wendy Pollard, 2017-11-28 This study of contemporary and later critical responses to the work of the novelist Rosamond Lehmann 1901-1990 offers an original approach to twentieth century literary history by foregrounding the cultural and commercial fields in which Lehmann's writing was situated Wendy Pollard examines the effect recent developments in literary theory and movements from modernism to feminism have had on Lehmann's literary reception She also considers the interpolation of a damning third category between the and popular culture namely middlebrow a widening gender divide in readership controversies within book reviewing changes in the publishing world and the introduction of popularist means of book marketing While considering the general privileging of male authors from the 1920s to the 1950s Lehmann's most prolific period Pollard argues that her novels have been unfairly subjected to specific forms of neglect and their exclusion from many academic comparative studies is due to a diversity of form and content that can also be considered their strength

Rewriting the Thirties Keith Williams, Steven Matthews, 2014-09-25 Rewriting the Thirties questions the myth of the anti-modernist decade Conversely the editors argue it is a symptomatic transitional phase between modern and post-modern writing and politics at a time of cultural and technological change The text reconsiders some of the leading writers of the period in the light of recent theoretical developments through essays on the ambivalent assimilation of Modernist influences among proletarian and canonical novelists including James Barke and George Orwell and among poets including Auden MacNeice Swingler and Bunting and in the work of feminist writers Vera Brittain and Winifred Holtby In this substantial remapping the complexity and scope of literary critical debate at the time is discussed in relation to theatrical innovation audience attitudes to the mass medium of modernity cinema the poetics of suburbia consumerism and national ideology as well as the discursive strategies of British and American documentarism

Change and Development Eric Amsel, K. Ann Renninger, Ann Renninger, 2013-05-13 This book and the symposium on which it was based were designed to cross the boundaries of subdiscipline and theoretical orientation to address four critical issues in understanding development explanation of change and development the nature and process of change forms of variability in performance and the promotion of change through application The chapters suggest that change and development in target systems from cells to selves may not be explainable assessable or promotable without careful reference to the context social and otherwise of the system and that the process of change and development may involve variability of the system in addition to periods of stability Together the chapters harken back to the spirit of the grand theory Instead of proposing a grand theory they provide an excellent foundation for considering the importance of an individual's or particular group's context and variability and discussions to facilitate thinking about what still needs to be worked out History and Value Frank Kermonde, 1990 The Consumption of Culture, 1600-1800 Ann Bermingham, John Brewer, 1995 Other Renaissances B. Schildgen, Z. Gang, S. Gilman, 2006-12-11

Other Renaissances is a collection of twelve essays discussing renaissances outside the Italian and Italian prompted European Renaissance of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries The collection proposes an approach to reframing the Renaissance in which the European Renaissance becomes an imaginative idea rather than a particular moment in time

Romantic Poetry and the Fragmentary Imperative Christopher A. Strathman, 2012-02-01 Romantic Poetry and the Fragmentary Imperative locates Byron and to a lesser extent Joyce within a genealogy of romantic poetry understood not so much as imaginative self expression or ideological case study but rather as what the German romantics call romantische poesie an experimental form of poetry loosely based on the fragmentary flexibility and acute critical self consciousness of Socratic dialogue The book is therefore less an attempt to present yet another theory of romanticism than it is an effort to recover a more precise sense of the relationship between Byron's fragmentary or workless poetic and romantic poetry generally and to articulate connections between romantic poetry and modern literature and literary theory The book also argues that the exigency or imperative of the fragmentary works of Schlegel Byron Joyce and Blanchot is not so much the expression of a style as it is an acknowledgment of what remains unthought in thinking Twentieth-century European Cultural Theorists Paul Hansom, 2001 Presents biographies of the men and women who wrestled with the complex theoretical problems of twentieth century culture Many of the theorists treated in this volume are concerned with the effects of mass culture technology and consumerism
