Human Rights And Religious Values:

Human Rights and Religious Values, 1995 Sects and new religious movements Women's Rights and Religious Law
Fareeda Banda, Lisa Fishbayn Joffe, 2016-02-12 The three Abrahamic faiths have dominated religious conversations for millennia but the relations between state and religion are in a constant state of flux This relationship may be configured in a number of ways Religious norms may be enforced by the state as part of a regime of personal law or conversely religious norms may be formally relegated to the private sphere but can be brought into the legal realm through the private acts of individuals Enhanced recognition of religious tribunals or religious doctrines by civil courts may create a hybrid of these two models One of the major issues in the reconciliation of changing civic ideals with religious tenets is gender equality and this is an ongoing challenge in both domestic and international affairs Examining this conflict within the context of a range of issues including marriage and divorce violence against women and children and women's political participation this collection brings together a discussion of the Abrahamic religions to examine the role of religion in the struggle for women's equality around the world The book encompasses both theory and practical examples of how law can be used to negotiate between claims for gender equality and the right to religion It engages with international and regional human rights norms and also national considerations within countries This book will be of great relevance to scholars and policy makers with an interest in law and religion gender studies and human rights law International Handbook of Learning, Teaching and Leading in Faith-Based Schools Judith D. Chapman, Sue McNamara, Michael J. Reiss, Yusef Waghid, 2014-07-10 The International Handbook on Learning Teaching and Leading in Faith Based Schools is international in scope It is addressed to policy makers academics education professionals and members of the wider community The book is divided into three sections 1 The Educational Historical Social and Cultural Context which aims to Identify the educational historical social and cultural bases and contexts for the development of learning teaching and leadership in faith based schools across a range of international settings Consider the current trends issues and controversies facing the provision and nature of education in faith based schools Examine the challenges faced by faith based schools and their role and responses to current debates concerning science and religion in society and its institutions 2 The Nature Aims and Values of Education in Faith based Schools which aims to Identify and explore the distinctive philosophies characteristics and guiding principles values concepts and concerns underpinning learning teaching and leadership in faith based schools Identify and explore ways in which such distinctive philosophies of education challenge and expand different norms and conventions in their surrounding societies and cultures Examine and explore some of the ways in which different conceptions within and among different religious and faith traditions guide practices in learning teaching and leadership in various ways 3 Current Practice and Future Possibilities which aims to Provide evidence of current educational practices that might help to inform and shape innovative and successful policies initiatives and strategies for the development of quality learning teaching and leadership in faith based schools Examine the ways in which the professional learning of teachers and educational leaders in faith based settings might be articulated and developed Consider the ways in which coherence and alignment might be achieved between key national priorities in education and the identity beliefs and the commitments of faith based schools Examine what international experience shows about the place of faith based schools in culturally rich and diverse communities and the implications of faith based schooling for societies of the future

Religion, Law, and Freedom Yahya Kamalipour, Joel Thierstein, 2000-09-30 Religion Law and Freedom A Global Perspective introduces readers to diverse perspectives on the interplay of religion law and communications freedom in different cultures around the world Through discussion and analysis of the religious mores and cultural values that a nation adheres to a greater understanding of that nation its laws and its freedoms can be cultivated Rather than suggesting that harmony can be achieved without conflict the essays in this volume seek to present the reader with a variety of perspectives from which to view and understand the relationships among religion law and freedom in various cultures This multifaceted analysis therefore helps readers draw their own conclusions as to the best way to resolve cultural conflict brought about by the growing global community The book consists of fifteen chapters authored or coauthored by 17 international scholars representing China Germany Israel Iran Japan Latvia Nigeria Singapore the United Kingdom and the United States The chapters are organized into four parts Perspectives on Eastern and Western Religions Press Freedom in Religious and Secular Societies Journalism Advertising and Ethical Issues and Religion Politics Media and Human Rights This important contribution will especially appeal to researchers and students in such fields as mass communications legal studies cultural studies political science religion intercultural communications international communications and journalism

Religion, Law and Intolerance in Indonesia Tim Lindsey,Helen Pausacker,2016-05-20 Despite its overwhelmingly Muslim majority Indonesia has always been seen as exceptional for its diversity and pluralism In recent years however there has been a rise in majoritarianism with resurgent Islamist groups pushing hard to impose conservative values on public life in many cases with considerable success This has sparked growing fears for the future of basic human rights and in particular the rights of women and sexual and ethnic minority groups There have in fact been more prosecutions of unorthodox religious groups since the fall of Soeharto in 1998 than there were under the three decades of his authoritarian rule Some Indonesians even feel that the pluralism they thought was constitutionally guaranteed by the national ideology the Pancasila is now under threat This book contains essays exploring these issues by prominent scholars lawyers and activists from within Indonesia and beyond offering detailed accounts of the political and legal implications of rising resurgent Islamism in Indonesia Examining particular cases of intolerance and violence against minorities it also provides an account of the responses offered by a weak state that now seems too often unwilling to intervene to protect vulnerable minorities against rising religious intolerance

Universal Ethics Göran Bexell,Dan-Erik Andersson,2021-08-04 Questions on universal ethics are of utmost importance for peaceful relations between nations cultures and religions Are there common values or are all morals just expressions for various political economic or religious interests In this book scholars from different academic fields and with various views discuss questions that in different ways concern both the possibilities and risks of universal or common ethics The book is divided into five parts philosophical and ethical perspectives human rights perspectives universal ethics and religion globalization and global governance universal ethics and Nordic values Scholars from such fields as philosophy ethics human rights history political science sociology and theology are represented All of the authors are active researchers at Scandinavian universities This collection of articles is directed to professionals in various disciplines but can also serve as an introduction to the subject of universal ethics

Challenging the Secular State Arskal Salim, 2008-09-30

Challenging the Secular State examines Muslim efforts to incorporate shari'a religious law into modern Indonesia's legal system from the time of independence in 1945 to the present The author argues that attempts to formally implement shari'a in Indonesia the world's most populous Muslim state have always been marked by tensions between the political aspirations of proponents and opponents of shari'a and by resistance from the national government As a result although pro shari'a movements have made significant progress in recent years shari'a remains tightly confined within Indonesia's secular legal system The author first places developments in Indonesia within a broad historical and geographic context offering a provocative analysis of the Ottoman empire's millet system and thoughtful comparisons of different approaches to pro shari'a movements in other Muslim countries Saudi Arabia Iran Pakistan He then describes early aspirations for the formal implementation of shari'a in Indonesia in the context of modern understandings of religious law as conflicting with the idea of the nation state Later chapters explore the efforts of Islamic parties in Indonesia to include shari'a in national law Salim offers a detailed analysis of debates over the constitution and possible amendments to it concerning the obligation of Indonesian Muslims to follow Islamic law A study of the Zakat Law illustrates the complicated relationship between the religious duties of Muslim citizens and the nonreligious character of the modern nation state Chapters look at how Islamization has deepened with the enactment of the Zakat Law and demonstrate the incongruities that have emerged from its implementation The efforts of local Muslims to apply shari'a in particular regions are also discussed Attempts at the Islamization of laws in Aceh are especially significant because it is the only province in Indonesia that has been allowed to move toward a shari'a based system The book concludes with a review of the profound conflicts and tensions found in the motivations behind Islamization

Identity and Religion in Peace Processes Karina V. Korostelina, Marc Gopin, Jeffrey W. Helsing, Alpaslan Özerdem, 2024-08-01 This book examines the complex role identity and religion play in global peace processes Based on multiple case studies this book unveils the complex role identity and religion play in peace processes across the globe It demonstrates that the success and sustainability of a peace process depends on the systemic application of the BRIDGE model that is introduced here This model describes five major strategies Bonding Reassuring Involving Determining Guides and Equalizing and numerous tactics for how peace processes and accords can deal with the central issues as well as important common challenges that run through identity based ethnonational or religious conflicts This represents the first comprehensive account of how the transition from enemies to neighbors is achieved and how intergroup relations and engagement are transformed in peace processes impacting power access to resources legitimacy and representation in national identity The model also discusses what forms of peacebuilding authentically represent the interests needs and values of religious constituencies and what can be learned from how religious constituencies escalate and de escalate conflict The book demonstrates why religion must also be included in peace processes and permanent solutions owing to religion s capacity to enhance commitment to bonding and peaceful values such as justice compassion nonviolence stability care for children and care for the environment for the sick the wounded the traumatized and the bereaved This book will be of much interest to students of peace studies intra state conflict religion studies and International Relations Textual, Comparative, Sociological, and Cognitive Approaches Peter Antes,Armin W.
