Human Services At Risk Administrative Strategies For Survival:

Human Services at Risk Felice Davidson Perlmutter, 1984 Management and Information Systems in Human Services Richard K. Caputo, 1988 Aimed at human services managers and students of administration this highly challenging book demonstrates how computer use and information systems can alter the bases of power and decision making authority as they currently exist in an organization Author Richard Caputo explores the changes in the availability nature and use of information that have had important implications not only for administrators but for direct service professionals as well Management and Information Systems in Human Services examines the kinds of organizational problems likely to result from the implementation of automated information systems and identifies effective solutions It will further challenge your thinking by elaborating the operational premises that the distribution of the decision load reflects the organizational structure of an agency and that the introduction of an information system in any organization challenges the legitimacy upon which that structure rests This important textbook is an ideal core or supplementary text for students in the human services including education social welfare public administration and public policy programs Working Effectively with Administrative Groups Ronald W. Toseland, Paul H. Ephross, 1987 Two leaders in the field of social work with groups address the need for more knowledge about the collective processes and practices centered around the task of work objectives In this important book the editors have assembled a rich collection of articles on work with administrative groups Contributors demonstrate how groups in the workplace particularly those in social welfare agencies can be facilitated in achieving objectives by the professional approach of the skilled group worker Concepts are presented for analyzing the group processes and group dynamics found in administrative groups The practical skills needed for serving as effective leaders and members of administrative groups are discussed as well as qualitative and quantitative approaches for examining the efficacy of administrative group meetings Connecting the Dots Richard K. Caputo, 2017-11-21 Richard K Caputo an under the radar social work scholar shares lessons about finding his voice as a scholar overcoming obstacles and navigating the rigors and expectations of academia in this memoir From his days as an undergraduate to a graduate student from being a paraprofessional at Arizona State Hospital and Division of Behavioral Health Services to a professional social worker at a family service agency then known as United Charities of Chicago and from an agency based professional to an academic he reveals the trials tribulations and tradeoffs that went with each transition He also pays homage to the mentors that helped him succeed in his various roles including being a junior faculty member at the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Work a continuing contract faculty member at the Barry University School of Social Work and finally as a tenured faculty member at the Yeshiva University Wurzweiler School of Social Work Join the author as he chronicles his journey navigating the political and social environment from the 1960s through the 2010s and juggling the demands of university life in Connecting the Dots Handbook of Crisis and Emergency Management Ali Farazmand, 2001-06-22 Including
