Human Development in South Asia 1997 Mahbub ul Haq, 1997 Human Development in South Asia, 2001

Contributed articles presented at a seminar organized by Institute of Social Sciences New Delhi India The Post-Colonial States of South Asia Amita Shastri, A. Jeyaratnam Wilson, 2013-01-11 This text discusses the principal political and constitutional questions that have arisen in the states of Bangladesh India Pakistan and Sri Lanka following fifty years of independence In Sri Lanka the pressing problems have been around the inter ethnic civil war experiments with constitutional designs widespread prevalence of corruption and the recrudescence of Buddhist militancy In India it has been corruption Hindu nationalism and general political instability In Bangladesh and Pakistan it has been the role of the military the state and religion A general theme is an analysis of the malaise that is prevalent and how and why this was inherited despite the colonial legacy of parliamentary democracy the steel framework of a trained bureaucracy the independence of the judiciary and the rule of law Human Development in South Asia 2004 Mahbub ul Haq Human Development Centre, 2005

Mahbub ul Haq s Human Development Centre s 2004 Report on the challenge of health underlies the imperative of focusing on a human centred economic growth policy in South Asia that is based on improved health and education The Post-Colonial States of South Asia NA NA, 2016-09-27 The chapters in this volume analyse issues relating to political governance national identity economic development and regional security that have preoccupied the states of South Asia in the fifty years following independence India has been faced with the challenge of developing effective democratic structures in the world s most diverse and populous society It confronts tensions in its efforts to carry out economic reforms in a competitive resource scarce context and to maintain its commitment to secularism in the face of the growing influence of Hindu nationalism The role of the military and of religion have complicated the task of stabilising democratic structures and socio economic development in Pakistan and Bangladesh Sri Lanka s political problems have escalated due to the failures of its leadership unsuccessful constitutional experiments and unresolved ethnic differences The transition of Nepal from a centralised monarchy to a participatory political system has generated stresses in its traditional social relations and group rankings The essays by an international groups of scholars explore these themes with a view to highlighting the complex processes of political change and development that are underway in the South Asian states Human Development in South Asia 2008 The Mahbub ul Haq Human Development Centre, 2009-10-01 The Report presents an analysis of the diffusion and adoption of technology particularly ICT in the region and its impact on overall economic growth employment poverty reduction as well the provision of health and education services in the region The report draws from several interesting case studies particularly from India and Bangladesh that illustrate how ICT is being used innovatively to improve the efficiency and transparency in the delivery of public services The Report however reiterates that technology by itself does not result in wonders It has to be accompanied with an educated and skilled population as well as basic infrastructure Human

Development in South Asia 2006 Mahbub ul Haq Human Development Centre, 2007 Mahbub ul Haq Human Development Centre's 2006 Report on poverty in South Asia underlines the imperative of focusing on alleviating poverty in order to sustain the current economic growth in the region Human Development in South Asia 1999, 1999 Human Security in South Asia P. R. Chari, Sonika Gupta, 2003 The word security has a military connotation and refers to the activities involved in protecting or defending a country in which the State has a central role This book argues that the State provides as well as threatens security and that by broadening the concept of security to include both military and non military threats such as those related to ecological social economic and political causes a system of checks and balances can be introduced to regulate the State Human Development Report 1997 , Human Development in South Asia 2000 , 2000 This third report on human development in South Asia presents a comprehensive profile of education in the region analyses current educational policies and programmes and presents a five year plan to achieve universal primary education in the area

Poverty and Governance in South Asia Syeda Naushin Parnini, 2014-11-20 Across South Asia in the last two decades there has been widespread emphasis on governance reforms aiming to reduce poverty through Millennium Development Goals MDGs The recent development agenda has had great impact over the region and this book finds that it largely widens the gap between the rich and poor which combined with rising inflation contributes to political instability The book analyses the discourses of development agenda and governance crisis and provides a survey of the region by not only focusing on India Pakistan and Bangladesh but also on the smaller countries in the region such as Bhutan Explaining three components of the development agenda as criteria for economic development poverty reduction governance reforms and civil society participation through liberal democracy this book explores the consequences of the neo liberal democracy and recent development agenda coupled with governance reforms This work argues that the political economy of South Asia is largely derived from experiences of historical colonialism and recent changes driven by contemporary rise of India as a global power after the triumph of new liberal democracy and market capitalism in the post cold war era It proposes a strengthening of the instruments of endogenous governance and people's participation in South Asian countries to reduce poverty through MDGs and other development goals in combination with top down and bottom up approaches Offering an understanding of governance and development in the context of the South Asia this book will be of interest to academics in the fields of Political Economics International Development Studies Political Science and Governance Studies as well as policy makers

The Economy of South Asia Tirthankar Roy, 2017-08-05 This book explores the historical roots of rapid economic growth in South Asia with reference to politics markets resources and the world economy Roy posits that after an initial slow period of growth between 1950 and the 1980s the region has been growing rapidly and fast catching up with the world on average levels of living Why did this turnaround happen Does it matter Is it sustainable The author answers these questions by drawing connections comparisons and parallels between the five large countries in the region India Pakistan Bangladesh Sri Lanka and Nepal It shows why despite differences in political experience between these countries similarities in resources and markets could produce similar trajectories Home to a fifth of the world's population South Asia's transformation has the power to change the world Most accounts of the process focus on individual nations but by breaking out of that mould Roy takes on the region as a whole and delivers a radical new interpretation of why the economy of South Asia is changing so fast

Human Development in the Era of Globalization J. K. Boyce, Keith B. Griffin, James K. Boyce, 2006 This volume provides a very high quality set of papers on the relationship between globalization and human development any one with interest in this wide ranging subject matter would find the volume an interesting and engaging read Global Business Review Honoring Keith Griffin's more than 40 years of fundamental contributions to the discipline of economics the papers in this volume reflect his deep commitment to advancing the well being of the world's poor majority and his unflinching willingness to question conventional wisdom as to how this should be done Four overarching themes recur in Keith Griffin's work and this book the need to both eradicate poverty and redress inequalities in the distribution of wealth within and among nations the impact of growth on inequality and conversely inequality's impact on growth the political economy of policy making and the need for openness to heterogeneity in both analytic tools and in policy recommendations The volume begins with an introduction by the editors followed by a paper by Keith Griffin In succeeding chapters the contributors explore strategies for reducing poverty and inequality and provide perspectives on issues such as human development the rural urban divide in China and biodiversity and sustainability Students researchers policymakers and NGO analysts exploring issues in development economics development studies alternative economic systems globalization environmental sustainability inequality and well being will find this book of great interest

Labour, Employment, and Human Development in South Asia Ashoka Chandra, 1998 Contributed articles presented at a conference

Apostles of Development David Engerman, 2025-08-20 Apostles of Development offers a bold new history of one of the most important enterprises of the 20th century the project to end global poverty through the lives and work of six of its most innovative practitioners all former classmates at Cambridge University and all from the Global South Deftly combining global history and biography it shows how development began not in Washington or London or Paris but in the crowded cities and isolated villages of South Asia home to some of the world's poorest countries in the mid twentieth century Sweeping in scope Apostles of Development details how these six individuals shaped the entire project of international development across the Cold War and post Cold War eras Which World Allen Hammond, 2014-04-08 Today humanity faces a fundamentally different challenge that of managing a planet and a global human civilization in ways that will sustain both indefinitely What makes this task less than easy are the pace and complexity of change Over the next half century human society will undergo a profound demographic transformation experience fundamental shifts in the global balance of economic and political power and cope with nearly continuous technological change These transformations are inevitable the forces that compel them are already in place but their outcomes are far from fixed This book is about the future but not in the sense of making predictions Rather it suggests how to think about the future Because human destiny is not predetermined this book explores not just one but several possible worlds each embodying a very different vision of the future Implicit in these contrasting visions is a choice which world do we prefer which world do we want to pass on to our children and grandchildren From chapter 1

Social Investment and Economic Growth Patrick Watt, 2000 This book argues with examples that absolute poverty is not an inevitable consequence of economic growth that equitable economic growth is necessary to secure the eradication of poverty and that the benefits of economic growth need to be invested in developing socio political structures that can foster sustainable democracy and accountability
