Human Guinea Pigs, by Kenneth Mellanby: A Reprint with Commentaries Lisa M. Rasmussen, 2020-06-10. This book reprints Human Guinea Pigs by Kenneth Mellanby, a seminal work in the history of medical ethics and human subject research that has been nearly unavailable for over 40 years. Detailing the use of World War II conscientious objectors who volunteered for experimentation on scabies transmission, Mellanby's book offers insight into one approach to human subject experimentation before the development of ethical oversight regulations. His work was initially published prior to the articulation of the Nuremberg Code, which makes his subsequent position as a reporter for the British Medical Journal at the Nuremberg Trials very interesting, particularly given his sometimes controversial opinions on Nazi medical experimentation. This book reprints the second edition together with commentary essays that situate Mellanby's ethical approach in historical context and relative to contemporary approaches. This volume is of particular interest to scholars of the history of human subject research. Bulletin, 1912 British Medical Journal, 1924 The American Journal of the Medical Sciences, 1901 Annual Medical and Sanitary Report Nigeria. Division of Research Grants, 1973 Conversations With Food Dorothy Chansky, Sarah W. Tracy, 2021-02-02. Conversations With Food offers readers an array of essays revealing the power of food and its absence to transform relationships between the human and non-human realms to define national, colonial, and postcolonial cultures to help instantiate race, gender, and class relations and to serve as the basis for policymaking Food functions in these contexts as items in religious or secular law as objects with which to bargain or over which to fight as literary trope and as a way to improve or harm health individual or collective The anthology ranges from Ancient Greece to the posthuman fairy underworld from the codifying of French culinary heritage to the strategic marketing of 100 calorie snacks from the European famine after the Second World War to the lush and exotic cuisines of culinary tourism today Conversations With Food will engage anyone interested in discovering the disciplinary breadth and depth of food studies The anthology is ideally suited for introductory and advanced courses in food studies as it includes essays in a range of humanities and social science disciplines and each author draws cross disciplinary linkages between their own work and other essays in the volume This thematic and conceptual intercalation when read with the editors introduction makes the collection an exceptionally strong representation of the field of food studies
