The Human Landscape Geeti Sen, Ashis Banerjee, 2001 This Book Is Located Within The Contemporary Discourse Of Human Geography Ecology And The Cultural Landscape These Essays Amend Earlier Anthropocentric Perspectives On The Conquest Of Nature By Placing People In Symbiosis With Their Environment And In Doing So They Seek To Ensure A Secure Common Future For Both

Reconstructing Human-Landscape Interactions Pam Dickinson, Jason Jeandron, Lucy Wilson, 2009-03-26 Reconstructing Human Landscape Interactions demonstrates the high quality of work presented at the first Developing International Geoarchaeology conference DIG 2005 held in Saint John New Brunswick Canada and exemplifies the over riding theme of this discipline People have always used the landscape in many ways as a place to live as a place to grow crops as a source of natural resources Those actions leave their traces The characteristics of the landscape constrain which activities are possible just as social and cultural habits condition people s connection with the environment Geoarchaeology is about finding the traces of these interactions and using them to reconstruct how people in the past behaved in their environmental context The material covered in the proceedings ranges from broad themes of climate change and landscape use to more specific subjects such as river avulsion and the use of tidal ponds The papers move us from the land to the coastal margin and back onto land to examine particular techniques The final paper leads us beyond archaeology and points out that geoarchaeological data must contribute to the debate about the sustainability of present day land use practices a fitting challenge to take us into the future

Raptors in Human Landscapes David M. Bird, Daniel E. Varland, Juan Jose Negro, 1996-02-08 This book is a collection of papers highlighting ways in which Raptors have successfully adapted to man made landscapes and structures The coverage of Raptors in Human Landscapes is broad ranging from the impact of human activity on country wide scales to the particular conditions associated with urban cultivated and industrial landscapes as well as to the various schemes specifically directed towards the provision of artificial nest sites and platforms The cases described hail from a wide geographic range including North and South America Europe Africa and elsewhere and from a broad spectrum of species groups such as the falcons accipiters eagles kites and many others This is a book of immense value not only to ornithologists and conservation biologists but also to engineers and managers involved in all kinds of building and environmental work in cities power and water works agriculture and forestry Serves as a good introduction to all aspects of the subject Focuses on successful adaptations of Raptors to environmental change

Handbook of Landscape Archaeology Bruno David, Julian Thomas, 2016-06-03 Over the past three decades landscape has become an umbrella term to describe many different strands of archaeology From the processualist study of settlement patterns to the phenomenologist s experience of the natural world from human impact on past environments to the environment s impact on human thought action and interaction the term has been used In this volume for the first time over 80 archaeologists from three continents attempt a comprehensive definition of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework As a basic reference volume for landscape archaeology this volume will be the benchmark for decades to come All royalties on this Handbook are donated to the World Archaeological Congress

Human-centered Information Fusion David Lee Hall, John M. Jordan, 2010 Information fusion refers to the merging of information from disparate sources with differing conceptual contextual and typographical representations Rather than focusing on traditional data fusion applications which have been mainly concerned with physical military targets this unique resource explores new human centered trends such as locations identity and interactions of individuals and groups social networks Moreover the book discusses two new major sources of information human observations and web based information This cutting edge volume presents a new view of multi sensor data fusion that seeks to address these new developments explicitly considering the active role of a human user analyst Professionals become knowledgeable about the key inputs into this innovative information fusion process including traditional sensing resources S space dynamic communities of human observers H space and resources such as archived sensor data blogs and dynamic news reports from citizen reporters via the Internet I space

Landscape Ethnoecology Leslie Main Johnson, Eugene S. Hunn, 2012 Although anthropologists and cultural geographers have explored place in various senses little cross cultural examination of kinds of place or ecotopes has been presented from an ethno ecological perspective In this volume indigenous and local understandings of landscape are investigated in order to better understand how human communities relate to their terrestrial and aquatic resources The contributors go beyond the traditional ecological knowledge TEK literature and offer valuable insights on ecology and on land and resources management emphasizing the perception of landscape above the level of species and their folk classification Focusing on the ways traditional people perceive and manage land and biotic resources within diverse regional and cultural settings the contributors address theoretical issues and present case studies from North America Mexico Amazonia tropical Asia Africa and Europe

Rediscovery of Cultural Landscapes in Southern China Wallace P.H. Chang, 2023-04-28 This book investigates the concept of human landscape in rural settlements in Southern China where communities and their cultural landscapes are facing contemporary challenges following a period of rapid urbanization in the last 50 years While metropolitan cities such as Hong Kong are experiencing accelerated urban development underpopulated rural villages are struggling to maintain the cultural heritage of their regions Rediscovery of Cultural Landscapes in Southern China provides a detailed account into indigenous living cultures in traditional rural settlements upon natural landscapes Beginning with an overview of the theoretical framework the book presents six unique cases including Tai O Yim Tin Tsai Lai Chi Wo Nga Tsin Wai Cangdong and Meinong while illustrating a relevant comparison between Hakka and Satoyama landscape systems The spectrum of theoretical and case analyses allows for a rethinking of the evolving cultural landscape s positioning with valuable heritages in the context of a post industrial society The book is written towards reinterpreting the cultural landscape by conceptualizing the human landscape for scholars practitioners and students interested in rural cultural conservation and revitalization heritage management traditional architecture and landscape planning and urban rural development

Heritage J.D. Fladmark, 2014-02-04 This volume deals with policy methods and techniques for the stewardship of our land and our cultural assets The focus is on interpretation and presentation of heritage themes and the papers should be of interest to those concerned with school and university curricula those working in museums and galleries and those in charge of parks and tourist enterprises Individual contributions celebrate achievements and debate issues relating to the natural and built environment the future of green tourism planning and interpretation in museums parks and private estates The authors include Professor David Lowenthal on cultural landscapes Charles McKean on architecture David Macmillan on the arts John Purser on music Elisabeth Luard on cooking the Earl of Glasgow on the opening of a family estate to the public and Gordon Baxter on the heritage of one of Scotland s great enterprise stories in the food industry The main theme of the book is that we do not always take enough pride in our heritage which is often undervalued and neglected Positive action is required to raise awareness to foster respect for our inheritance and to generate a new kind of enterprise that will not endanger the heritage resources on which we depend for enjoyment and jobs

Landscapes and Landforms of Eastern Canada Olav Slaymaker, Norm Catto, 2020-02-13 This critical book focuses on the geomorphological landscapes of eastern Canada and provides a companion volume to Landscapes and Landforms of Western Canada 2017 There are a number of unique characteristics of eastern Canada s landscapes notably its magnificent coastlines the extraordinary variety and extent of wetlands the huge Great Lakes St Lawrence basin the high incidence of meteorite craters the spectacular Niagara Falls urban karst in Montreal and Ottawa youthful glaciated karst in Ontario Newfoundland Quebec and Nova Scotia the ubiquitous permafrost terrain of Nunavut Labrador and northern Quebec and the magnificent arctic fjords and glaciers Looking at coastlines the tidal extremes of the Bay of Fundy are world renowned the structural complexity of the island of Newfoundland is less well known but produces an astounding variety of coastlines in close succession the arctic fjordlands of Baffin and Ellesmere islands and the extravagant raised beaches of Hudson Bay bear comparison with the classic fjords of

Norway and the Baltic Sea raised beaches As for wetlands there are distinctive Arctic Subarctic Boreal Eastern Temperate and Atlantic wetlands and their extent is second only to those of Russia In the Hudson and James Bay regions between 75 100% of the terrestrial surface is comprised of wetlands One of North America s largest river basins the Great Lakes St Lawrence basin has its source in Minnesota straddles the USA Canada border and debouches into Quebec as the St Lawrence River and evolves through its estuary into the Gulf of St Lawrence a journey of almost 5 000 km As far as meteorite craters are concerned 10% of the world s total are located in eastern Canada including some of the largest and most complex landforms They are preserved preferentially in the ancient Shield terrain of Quebec Finally the three million km<sup>2</sup> of permafrost controlled relief in eastern Canada serves as a reminder of the vulnerability of eastern Canada s landscapes to climate change Effects of warming are expressed through thawing of the permafrost disruption of transportation corridors and urban construction problems ever present geomorphic hazards      Animated Landscapes Chris Pallant,2015-08-27 Winner of the 2017 McLaren Lambart Award for Best Book on the Subject of Animation Studying landscape in cinema isn t quite new it d be hard to imagine Woody Allen without New York or the French New Wave without Paris But the focus on live action cinema leaves a significant gap in studying animated films With the almost total pervasiveness of animation today this collection provides the reader with a greater sense of how the animated landscapes of the present relate to those of the past Including essays from international perspectives Animated Landscapes introduces an idea that has seemed literally to be in the background of animation studies The collection provides a timely counterpoint to the dominance of character be that either animated characters such as Mickey Mouse or real world personalities such as Walt Disney that exists within animation scholarship and film studies more generally Chapters address a wide range of topics including history case studies in national contexts including Australia Japan China and Latvia the traversal of animated landscape the animation of fantastical landscapes and the animation of interactive landscapes Animated Landscapes promises to be an invaluable addition to the existing literature for the most overlooked aspect of animation      A Changing World Felix Kienast,Otto Wildi,Sucharita Ghosh,2007-03-16 Landscape Research has been established as an interdisciplinary field dealing with complex environmental processes at multiple spatial and temporal scales During the course of its history various societal technological and philosophical stimuli have shaped Landscape Research e g the declaration of Landscape Ecology in the 1930s and contemporary global technological and societal developments Modern landscape research presently uses mathematics statistics and advanced simulation techniques to combine empirical observations with known theories from ecology physics geography social science and so on Knowledge is thus updated and quantified via models that are used for estimation hypothesis testing prediction and assessment of scenarios Advances in the computational sciences e g fast computers and vast array of software space science e g remote sensing and biological sciences e g genetics as well as new perspectives in the social sciences play important roles Research findings are implemented in conservation management urban planning and global change mitigation strategies This book identifies emerging fields and new challenges that are discussed within the framework of the driving forces of Landscape Development Rather than offering a comprehensive overview of all fields of Landscape Research the book addresses hot topics emphasizing major contemporary trends in these fields

Landscape Ecology in Action A. Farina, 2012-12-06 In my office I am encased in bookshelves which hold an accumulation of literature on ecology that represents the papers and books over the last 50 years My students enjoy rummaging through this collection because it contains a record of the history of ecology and is full of surprises Some of the most recent material pertains to landscape ecology a subject that literally emerged fully active at the Veldhoven International Congress organized by the landscape ecologists of The Netherlands in 1981 The subject has developed quickly It has one or more journals which publish short works It has a series of text books And it has just begun a series on monographs One of the textbooks in landscape ecology is titled Principles and Methods in Landscape Ecology and was written by the Italian ecologist Almo Farina in 1998 My students like this text especially well because it is direct to the point and comprehensive Farina is on loan much of the time In the present volume Almo Farina again addresses the subject of Landscape Ecology but from a different perspective than he took in his textbook Landscape in Action focuses on the application of the principles and concepts to problem solving The two books make a pair with the first technical and conceptual and the second applied to problems of land and water at large scale

Sacred Landscapes in Antiquity Ralph Haussler, Gian Franco Chiai, 2020-07-31 From generation to generation people experience their landscapes differently Humans depend on their natural environment it shapes their behavior while it is often felt that deities responsible for both natural benefits and natural calamities such as droughts famines floods and landslides need to be appeased We presume that in many societies lakes rivers rocks mountains caves and groves were considered sacred Individual sites and entire landscapes are often associated with divine actions mythical heroes and etiological myths Throughout human history people have also felt the need to monumentalize their sacred landscape But this is where the similarities end as different societies had very different understandings beliefs and practices The aim of this new thematic appraisal is to scrutinize carefully our evidence and rethink our methodologies in a multi disciplinary approach More than 30 papers investigate diverse sacred landscapes from the Iberian peninsula and Britain in the west to China in the east They discuss how to interpret the intricate web of ciphers and symbols in the landscape and how people might have experienced it We see the role of performance ritual orality textuality and memory in people's sacred landscapes A diachronic view allows us to study how landscapes were rewritten adapted and redefined in the course of time to suit new cultural political and religious understandings not to mention the impact of urbanism on people's understandings A key question is how was the landscape manipulated transformed and monumentalized especially the colossal investments in monumental architecture we see in certain socio historic contexts or the creation of an alternative humanmade seemingly non natural landscape with perfectly astronomically aligned buildings that define a cosmological order Sacred Landscapes therefore aims to analyze the complex links between landscape religiosity and society developing a dialectic framework that explores sacred landscapes across the ancient world in a dynamic holistic contextual and historical perspective

Landscapes and Societies I. Peter Martini, Ward Chesworth, 2010-11-09 This book contains case histories intended to show how societies and landscapes interact The range of interest stretches from the small groups of the earliest Neolithic through Bronze and Iron Age civilizations to modern nation states The coexistence is of its very nature reciprocal resulting in changes in both society and landscape In some instances the adaptations may be judged successful in terms of human needs but failure is common and even the successful cases are ephemeral when judged in the light of history Comparisons and contrasts between the various cases can be made at various scales from global through inter regional to regional and smaller scales At the global scale all societies deal with major problems of climate change sea level rise and with ubiquitous problems such as soil erosion and landscape degradation Inter regional differences bring out significant detail with one region suffering from drought when another suffers from widespread flooding For example desertification in North Africa and the Near East contrasts with the temperate countries of southern Europe where the landscape effects of deforestation are more obvious And China and Japan offer an interesting comparison from the standpoint of geological hazards to society large unpredictable and massively erosive rivers in the former case volcanoes and accompanying earthquakes in the latter Within the North African region localized climatic changes led to abandonment of some desertified areas with successful adjustments in others with the ultimate evolution into the formative civilization of Egypt the Gift of the Nile At a smaller scale it is instructive to compare the city states of the Medieval and early Renaissance times that developed in the watershed of a single river the Arno in Tuscany and how Pisa Siena and Florence developed and reached their golden periods at different times depending on their location with regard to proximity to the sea to the main trunk of the river or in the adjacent hills Also noteworthy is the role of technology in opening up opportunities for a society Consider the Netherlands and how its history has been formed by the technical problem of a populous society dealing with too much water as an inexorably rising sea threatens their landscape or the case of communities in Colorado trying to deal with too little water for farmers and domestic users by bringing their supply over a mountain chain These and others cases included in the book provide evidence of the successes near misses and outright failures that mark our ongoing relationship with landscape throughout the history of Homo sapiens The hope is that compilations such as this will lead to a better understanding of the issue and provide us with knowledge valuable in planning a sustainable modus vivendi between humanity and landscape for as long as possible Audience The book will interest geomorphologists geologists geographers archaeologists anthropologists ecologists environmentalists historians and others in the academic world Practically planners and managers interested in landscape environmental conditions will find interest in these pages and more generally the increasingly large body of opinion in the general public with concerns about Planet

Earth will find much to inform their opinions Extra material The color plate section is available at <http://extras.springer.com>

Balancing Water for Humans and Nature Johan Rockstrom, 2013-06-17 Balancing Water for Humans and Nature authored by two of the world's leading experts on water management examines water flows the blood stream of both nature and society in terms of the crucial links balances conflicts and trade offs between human and environmental needs The authors argue that a sustainable future depends fundamentally on our ability to manage these trade offs and encourage long term resilience They advocate an ecohydrological approach to land water environmental problems and advance a strong reasoned argument for viewing precipitation as the gross fresh water resource ultimately responsible for sustaining all terrestrial and aquatic ecosystem services This book makes the most coherent and holistic argument to date for a new ecological approach to understanding and managing water resources for the benefit of all Basing their analysis on per capita needs for an acceptable nutritional diet the authors analyse predictions of the amounts of water needed for global food production by 2050 and identify potential sources Drawing on small scale experiences in Africa and Asia they also cover the vulnerability of the semi arid tropics through a simplified model of green and blue water scarcity components Ethnobiology E. N.

Anderson, Deborah Pearsall, Eugene Hunn, Nancy Turner, 2012-02-14 The single comprehensive treatment of the field from the leading members of the Society of Ethnobiology The field of ethnobiology the study of relationships between particular ethnic groups and their native plants and animals has grown very rapidly in recent years spawning numerous subfields Ethnobiological research has produced a wide range of medicines natural products and new crops as well as striking insights into human cognition language and environmental management behavior from prehistory to the present This is the single authoritative source on ethnobiology covering all aspects of the field as it is currently defined Featuring contributions from experienced scholars and sanctioned by the Society of Ethnobiology this concise readable volume provides extensive coverage of ethical issues and practices as well as archaeological ethnological and linguistic approaches Emphasizing basic principles and methodology this unique textbook offers a balanced treatment of all the major subfields within ethnobiology allowing students to begin guided research in any related area from archaeoethnozoology to ethnomycology to agroecology Each chapter includes a basic introduction to each topic is written by a leading specialist in the specific area addressed and comes with a full bibliography citing major works in the area All chapters cover recent research and many are new in approach most chapters present unpublished or very recently published new research Featured are clear distinctive treatments of areas such as ethnozoology linguistic ethnobiology traditional education ethnoecology and indigenous perspectives Methodology and ethical action are also covered up to current practice Ethnobiology is a specialized textbook for advanced undergraduates and graduate students it is suitable for advanced level ethnobotany ethnobiology cultural and political ecology and archaeologically related courses Research institutes will also find this work valuable as will any reader with an interest in ethnobiological fields International Encyclopedia of Geography, 15 Volume Set Noel Castree, Michael Landscapes of Social Transformation in the Salinas Province and the Eastern Pueblo World Katherine A. Spielmann, 2017-10-31 In the 1100s most Pueblo peoples lived in small dispersed settlements and moved frequently but by the mid 1400s they had aggregated into large villages. The majority of these villages were still occupied at Spanish contact and conquest by which time most Pueblo peoples had completely transformed their perception and experience of village life. Other changes were taking place on a broader regional scale and the migrations from the Colorado Plateau and the transformation of Chaco initiated myriad changes in ritual organization and practice. Landscapes of Social Transformation in the Salinas Province and the Eastern Pueblo World investigates relationships between diverse regional and local changes in the Rio Grande and Salinas areas from 1100 to 1500 C.E. The contributing authors draw on the results of sixteen seasons of archaeological survey and excavation in the Salinas Province of central New Mexico. The chapters offer cross-scale analyses to compare broad perspectives in well-researched southwestern culture changes to the finer details of stability and transformation in Salinas. This stability, which was unusual in the Pueblo Southwest from the 1100s until its abandonment in the 1670s, provides an interesting contrast to migration-based transformations studied elsewhere in the Rio Grande region.

Social Strategies of Carnivorous Mammalian Predators Mridula Srinivasan, Bernd Würsig, 2023-09-18 The book offers a comparative look at the social strategies of five carnivorous social predators: four terrestrial and one marine.

that make them successful hunting units. The focus is on mammalian predators hunting largely mammalian prey. Each chapter, with separate authors devoted to a particular species, explores the versatile hunting techniques and social dynamics of these top predators as they attempt to survive, defend, and reproduce in challenging habitats. Each chapter also delves into how the social fabric and ecology of each species influence their ability to deal with natural and man-made threats and shifting baselines.
