Human Rights Conflict To Build Peace:

Reporting Human Rights, Conflicts, and Peacebuilding Ibrahim Seaga Shaw, Senthan Selvarajah, 2019-04-09 This book focuses on the reporting of human rights in broadly defined times of conflict. It brings together scholarly and professional perspectives on the role of the media in constructing human rights and peacebuilding options in conflict and post conflict environments drawing on case studies from Europe, Latin America, the Middle East, Africa and South Asia. It also provides critical reflections on the challenges faced by journalists and explores the implications of constructing human rights and peacebuilding options in their day to day professional activities. The chapters embrace a variety of theoretical, empirical and methodological approaches and will benefit students, scholars and media professionals alike. Protecting Human Rights and Building Peace in Post-Violence Societies Nasia Hadjigeorgiou, 2020-02-20 This book critically examines the relationship between protecting human rights and building peace in post violence societies. It explores the conditions that must be present and strategies that should be adopted for the former to contribute to the latter. The author argues that human rights can aid peacebuilding efforts by helping victims of past violence to articulate their grievance and by encouraging the state to respond to and provide them with a meaningful remedy. This usually happens either through a process of adjudication whereby human rights can offer guidance to the judiciary as to the best way to address such grievances or through the passing and implementation of human rights laws and policies that seek to promote peace. However, this positive relationship between human rights and peace is both qualified and context specific. Through an interdisciplinary and comparative analysis of four case studies, the book identifies the conditions that can support the effective use of human rights as peacebuilding tools. Developing these, the book recommends a series of strategies that peacebuilders should adopt and rely on. Winner of the Constantinos Emilianides Award in Law for 2020 joint conferment.

Research Handbook on International Law and Environmental Peacebuilding Daniëlla Dam-de Jong, Britta Sjöstedt, 2023-08-14 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 License. It is free to read, download and share on Elgaronline.com. This incisive Research Handbook addresses the growing recognition within the international law community that natural resource governance and environmental protection are crucial aspects of peace processes, both as a security imperative and as an opportunity for peacebuilding. Examining the impact of international normative and institutional frameworks on environmental peacebuilding, this Research Handbook features contributions from distinguished experts and global case studies on integrated legal approaches to the governance of natural resources.

Human Rights Gopal Bhargava, 2003 A violation of Human Rights is one of the most worrying problems of our times for the entire world civilisation. The discourse of international human rights has become a medium for the condemnation of local abuses regardless of how these abuses may otherwise be characterized or rationalised within domestic political schemes. There is a hope such conflicts one day will win peace within and without. Reinventing Development? Paul

Gready,Jonathan Ensor,2005-10 This volume aims to identify what difference a rights based approach makes in practice and to contribute to a greater common understanding of what the rights based approach means These are urgent tasks given the amount of funding for and organizational investment in human rights Addressing the range of areas influenced by this approach the volume spans humanitarian relief development and conflict resolution It concludes that not only is human rights reinventing development but development is also reinventing human rights Media, Conflict and Peacebuilding in Africa Jacinta Maweu,Admire Mare,2021-03-29 This book explores the role and place of popular traditional and digital media platforms in the mediatization representation and performance of various conflicts and peacebuilding interventions in the African context The role of the media in conflict is often depicted as either good as symbolized by peace journalism or bad as exemplified by war journalism but this book moves beyond this binary to highlight the in between role that the media often plays in times of conflict The volume does not only focus on the relationship between mass media conflict and peacebuilding processes but it broadens its scope by critically analysing the dynamic and emergent roles of popular and digital media platforms in a continent where the semi literate and oral communities still rely heavily on popular communication platforms to get news and information Whilst social media platforms have been hailed for their assumed democratic and digital dividends this book does not only focus on these positive aspects but also shines a light on dark forms of participation which are fuelling racial gender ethnic political and religious conflicts in highly polarized and stratified societies Highlighting the many ways in which traditional digital and popular media can be used to both escalate conflicts and promote peacebuilding this volume will be a useful resource for students researchers and civil society groups interested in peace and conflict studies journalism and media studies in different contexts within Africa Governance, Natural Resources and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Carl Bruch,Carroll Muffett,Sandra Nichols,2016-04-07 When the guns are silenced those who have survived armed conflict need food water shelter the means to earn a living and the promise of safety and a return to civil order Meeting these needs while sustaining peace requires more than simply having governmental structures in place it requires good governance Natural resources are essential to sustaining people and peace in post conflict countries but governance failures often jeopardize such efforts This book examines the theory practice and often surprising realities of post conflict governance natural resource management and peacebuilding in fifty conflict affected countries and territories It includes thirty nine chapters written by more than seventy researchers diplomats military personnel and practitioners from governmental intergovernmental and nongovernmental organizations The book highlights the mutually reinforcing relationship between natural resource management and good governance Natural resource management is crucial to rebuilding governance and the rule of law combating corruption improving transparency and accountability engaging disenfranchised populations and building confidence after conflict At the same time good governance is essential for ensuring that natural resource management can meet immediate needs for post conflict stability and development while simultaneously laying the foundation for a sustainable peace Drawing on analyses of the close relationship between governance and natural resource management the book explores lessons from past conflicts and ongoing reconstruction efforts illustrates how those lessons may be applied to the formulation and implementation of more effective governance initiatives and presents an emerging theoretical and practical framework for policy makers researchers practitioners and students Governance Natural Resources and Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in this series address high value resources land water livelihoods and assessing and restoring natural resources War, Conflict and Human Rights Chandra Lekha Sriram, Olga Martin-Ortega, Johanna Herman, 2009-07-06 War Conflict and Human Rights is an innovative new inter disciplinary textbook combining aspects of law politics and conflict analysis to examine the relationship between human rights and armed conflict Making use of both theoretical and practical approaches this book examines the tensions and complementarities between protection of human rights and resolution of conflict the competing political demands and the challenges posed by internal armed conflict explores the scope and effects of human rights violations in contemporary armed conflicts such as in Sierra Leone Sudan the Democratic Republic of Congo and the former Yugoslavia as well as the Global War on Terror assesses the legal and institutional accountability mechanisms developed in the wake of armed conflict to punish violations of human rights law and international humanitarian law such as the ad hoc tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda and the International Criminal Court discusses continuing and emergent global trends and challenges in the fields of human rights and conflict analysis This book will be essential reading for students of war and conflict studies human rights and international humanitarian law and highly recommended for students of conflict resolution peacebuilding international security and international relations generally Chandra Sriram is Professor of International Law at the University of East London and Director of the Centre for Human Rights in Conflict Olga Martin Ortega is a Research Fellow at the Centre for Human Rights in Conflict at the University of East London Johanna Herman is Research Fellow at the Centre on Human Rights in Conflict at the University of East London Regulating Business for Peace Jolyon Ford, 2015-02-05 The first book to study how peace operations have engaged with business to influence its peace building impact in fragile and conflict affected societies The Law of Armed Conflict and the Use of Force Frauke Lachenmann, Rüdiger Wolfrum, 2016-12-22 This volume brings together articles on the law of armed conflict and the use of force from the Max Planck Encyclopedia of Public International Law the definitive reference work on international law It provides an invaluable resources for scholars students and practitioners of international humanitarian law giving an accessible thorough overview of all aspects of the field Each article contains cross references to related articles and includes a carefully selected bibliography of the most important writings and primary materials as a guide to further reading The

Livelihoods, Natural Resources, and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Helen Young, Lisa

Goldman,2015-04-10 Sustaining and strengthening local livelihoods is one of the most fundamental challenges faced by post conflict countries By degrading the natural resources that are essential to livelihoods and by significantly hindering access to those resources conflict can wreak havoc on the ability of war torn populations to survive and recover This book explores how natural resource management initiatives in more than twenty countries and territories have supported livelihoods and facilitated post conflict peacebuilding Case studies and analyses identify lessons and opportunities for the more effective design of interventions to support the livelihoods that depend on natural resources from land to agriculture forestry fisheries and protected areas The book also explores larger questions about how to structure livelihoods assistance as part of a coherent integrated approach to post conflict redevelopment Livelihoods and Natural Resources in Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in this series address high value resources land water assessing and restoring natural resources and governance Peace Watch ,2002 Transitional Justice in Peacebuilding Djeyhoun Ostowar,2020-11-22 This book explores the role of actors in determining transitional justice in peacebuilding contexts In recent decades transitional justice mechanisms and processes have been introduced to a variety of settings becoming widely regarded as essential elements in the peacebuilding toolbox While it has increasingly been suggested that transitional justice is imposed by neo imperial actors with little regard for the needs and cultures of local populations evidence suggests that dismissing these policies as neo imperial or neo liberal impositions would result in grossly overlooking their dynamics which involve a whole range of relevant actors operating at multiple levels This book interrogates this theme through empirical analysis of three sites of peacebuilding that have seen extensive international involvement Kosovo East Timor and Afghanistan It proposes a novel framework for analysing and approaching transitional justice in peacebuilding that disaggregates three broad sets of actors operating at different levels in relevant processes external actors international and regional levels transitional justice promoters local national international and transnational levels and transitional regimes national and local levels The book argues that transitional justice in peacebuilding must be conceived of as actor contingent and malleable due to the significance of agency and inter actions of key categories of actors throughout peacebuilding transition This book will be of interest to students and practitioners of transitional justice peacebuilding law and International Relations

Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Vincent Chetail,2009-03-26 Post Conflict Peacebuilding comes at a critical time for post conflict peacebuilding Its rapid move towards the top of the international political agenda has been accompanied by added scrutiny as the international community seeks to meet the multi dimensional challenges of building a just and sustainable peace in societies ravaged by war Beyond the strictly operational dimension there is considerable ambiguity in the concepts and terminology used to discuss post conflict peacebuilding This ambiguity undermines efforts to agree on common understandings of how peace can be most effectively built thereby impeding swift coherent action Accordingly this lexicon aims to clarify and illuminate the multiple facets of post conflict peacebuilding by presenting its major themes and trends from an analytical perspective To this end the book opens with a general introduction on the concept of post conflict peacebuilding followed by twenty six essays on its key elements including capacity building conflict transformation reconciliation recovery rule of law security sector reform and transitional justice Written by international experts from a range of disciplines including political science and international relations international law economics and sociology these essays cover the whole spectrum of post conflict peacebuilding In reflecting a diversity of perspectives the lexicon sheds light on many different challenges associated with post conflict peacebuilding For each key concept a generic definition is proposed which is then expanded through discussion of three main areas the meaning and origin of the concept its content and essential components and its means of implementation including lessons learned from past practice Building Peace

Laura J. Shepherd, 2018-10-11 Moving seamlessly from the global to the local from the politics of institutions to the theoretical apparatus through which we analyse peace and security governance the contributions to this volume draw attention to the operations of gendered power in peacebuilding across diverse contexts and explore the possibilities of gender sensitive sustainable peace The authors have wide ranging expertise in gendered analysis of the peacebuilding practices of international and national organisation detailed and complex qualitative analysis of the gendered politics of peacebuilding in specific country contexts and feminist analysis of the tools we use to think with when approaching contemporary debates about peacebuilding The volume thus serves not only as a useful marker of the development of feminist encounters with peacebuilding but also as a foundation for future scholarship in this area This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Peacebuilding Gender and Peacebuilding Maureen P. Flaherty, Thomas G. Matyók, Sean Byrne, Hamdesa Tusso, 2015-10-16 The twenty first century has brought with it a shift from the notion of human security being located in secure national borders to the need to secure the safety freedom and dignity of all Despite efforts to equalize women s status in the world evidenced by changes in many international projects requiring a gender focus women and men experience most of the world in very different ways according to gender Further the reality is that humans who do not all fall neatly into one of these categories male or female often find their lives further challenged In the 1980s Peace and Conflict Studies first began to acknowledge and study the different experiences males and females have during war and peace Since then there have been books about women and war women working at grassroots levels to build peace women and transitional justice women and peace education and women s views of human security All of these works have contributed to the discourse of our changing world This book brings together some of those themes and voices and adds more with the final product being more than the sum of its parts We add to the conversation a book that considers foundational fundamental issues that span from the interpersonal to the global Many of the chapters describe empirical research completed with author and community shared here for the first time Part One is a collection of case studies documenting challenges and responses to peacebuilding by women from various parts of the world Part Two focuses on Peace and Conflict Studies PACS as a discipline examining not only what is but also what should be taught This section critiques today s efforts at teaching Peace and Conflict Studies and provides suggestions of how this important work might be shared in more open and equitable ways Part Three enters territory found even less in the PACS literature In this section our authors confront patriarchy engage in a discussion about the contribution queer theory makes to PACS and tussle with the notion of inclusivity with considerations of both gender and disability It then ends with a discussion about the contribution feminist methodologies make to PACS

Liberal Peace and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding in Africa Patrick Tom,2017-01-27 The book makes theoretical and empirical contributions to recent debates on hybrid forms of peace and post liberal peace In applying concepts of power hybridity and resistance and providing different kinds of hybridity and resistance to explore post conflict peacebuilding in Sierra Leone the author makes an original contribution to existing literature by providing various ways in which power can be exercised not just between locals and internationals but also among locals themselves and the nature of peace that is produced This volume provides various ways in which hybridity and resistance can be manifested A more rigorous development of these concepts not only offers a better understanding of the nature of these concepts but also helps us to distinguish forms of hybridity and resistance that are emancipatory or transformatory from those that result in people accommodating themselves to their situation This book is an invaluable resource for scholars and students of peacebuilding peace and conflict studies International Relations and African Studies and practitioners of peacebuilding and post conflict reconstruction

From Conflict to Peacebuilding Richard A. Matthew,Oli Brown,United Nations Environment Programme,David Jensen,2009 Today s changing security landscape requires a radical shift in the way the international community engages in conflict management This report by the United nations Environment Programme aims to review the latest knowledge and field experience on the linkages between environment conflict and peacebuilding and to discuss the ways in which these issues can be addressed and integrated in a more coherent and systematic way by the UN Member States and other stakeholders involved in peacebuilding interventions and conflict prevention
