Human Rights M. G. Chitkara,1996 Human Rights in Pakistan M. G. Chitkara,1997 Human Rights Albert A. Zinnos,2007 Human rights refers to the concept of human beings as having universal rights or status regardless of legal jurisdiction and likewise other localising factors such as ethnicity and nationality For many the concept of human rights is based in religious principles However because a formal concept of human rights has not been universally accepted the term has some degree of variance between its use in different local jurisdictions difference in both meaningful substance as well as in protocols for and styles of application Ultimately the most general meaning of the term is one which can only apply universally and hence the term human rights is often itself an appeal to such transcended principles without basing such on existing legal concepts The term humanism refers to the developing doctrine of such universally applicable values and it is on the basic concept that human beings have innate rights that more specific local legal concepts are often based Within particular societies human rights refers to standards of behaviour as accepted within their respective legal systems regarding 1 the well being of individuals 2 the freedom and autonomy of individuals and 3 the representation of the human interest in government These rights commonly include the right to life the right to an adequate standard of living the prohibition of genocide freedom from torture and other mistreatment freedom of expression freedom of movement the right to self determination the right to education and the right to participation in cultural and political life These norms are based on the legal and political traditions of United Nations member states and are incorporated into international human rights instruments This new book brings together the latest book literature centred on this crucial topic Human Rights Janusz Symonides,2019-04-02 First published in 1998 this first volume of The Manual on Human Rights Education for Universities has been prepared in the hope that it will serve as a teaching aid for institutions of higher education as well as for UNESCO Chairs and focuses on new dimensions and challenges UNESCO s long experience in this field goes back to 1951 when the first guide for teachers on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was published This formed part of UNESCO s efforts to create a comprehensive system of human rights education embracing formal and non formal education Issues explored include peace the environment education discrimination and extreme poverty Human Rights and the Third World

Subrata Sankar Bagchi, Arnab Das, 2012-12-06 Human Rights and the Third World Issues and Discourses deals with the controversial questions on the universalistic notions of human rights. It finds Third World perspectives on human rights and seeks to open up a discursive space in the human rights discourse to address unresolved questions citing issues and problems from different countries in the Third World. 1 Whether alternative perspectives should be taken as the standard for human rights in the Third World countries 2 Should there be a universalistic notion of rights for Homo sapiens or are we talking about two diametrically opposite trends and standards of human rights for the same species 3 How far these Third World perspectives of human rights can ensure the protection of the minorities and the vulnerable sections of population particularly the women and children within the Third World 4 Can these alternative perspectives help in fighting the Third World problems like poverty, hunger, corruption, despotism, social exclusion like the caste system in India, communalism and the like 5 Can there be reconciliation between the Third World perspectives and the Western perspective of human rights

The Lhotsampa People of Bhutan Venkat Pulla, 2016-01-26 This book provides insight into one of the world's quietest human rights abuses. The story of the Lhotsampa people of Bhutan describes their journey of coping and resilience incorporating qualitative research undertaken in the refugee camps in Nepal and resettlement areas in Australia and elsewhere in the world.

Human Rights from a Third World Perspective José-Manuel Barreto, 2014-08-26 Globalization, interdisciplinarity and the critique of the Eurocentric canon are transforming the theory and practice of human rights. This collection takes up the point of view of the colonized in order to unsettle and supplement the conventional understanding of human rights. Putting together insights coming from Decolonial Thinking, the Third World Approach to International Law, TWAIL, Radical Black Theory, and Subaltern Studies, the authors construct a new history and theory of human rights and a more comprehensive understanding of international human rights law in the background of modern colonialism and the struggle for global justice. An exercise of dialogical and interdisciplinary thinking, this collection of articles by leading scholars puts into conversation important areas of research on human rights, namely philosophy or theory of human rights, history and constitutional and international law. This book combines critical consciousness and moral sensibility and offers methods of interpretation or hermeneutical strategies to advance the project of decolonizing human rights: a veritable toolbox to create new Third World discourses of human rights.

Transitional Justice in South Asia Tazreena Sajjad, 2013-08-21 Offering a comparative case study of transitional justice processes in Afghanistan and Nepal this book critically evaluates the way the local is consulted in post conflict efforts toward peace and reconciliation It argues that there is a tendency in transitional justice efforts to contain the discussion of the local within religious and cultural parameters thus engaging only with a static local as interpreted by certain local stakeholders Based on data collected through interviews and participant observation carried out in the civil societies of the respective countries this book brings attention to a dynamic local where societal norms evolve and realities on the ground are shaped by shifting power dynamics local hierarchies and inequalities between actors It suggests that the local must be understood as an inter subjective concept the meaning of which is not only an evolving and moving target but also dependent on who is consulted to interpret it to external actors This timely book engages with the divergent range of civil society voices and offers ways to move forward by including their concerns in the efforts to help impoverished war torn societies transition from a state of war to the conditions of peace

Overcoming Intractable Conflicts Miriam F. Elman,, Catherine Gerard,, Galia Golan,Louis Kriesberg, 2019-09-26 Despite considerable progress in research and practice in the constructive transformation of intractable conflicts beginning in the 1970s many terribly destructive conflicts have recently erupted New circumstances have emerged that have resulted in regressions The contributions in this book examine many of the new challenges and obstacles to the transformation of intractable conflicts It also offers an array of new and promising opportunities for constructive transformations The book brings together analyses of U S based conflicts with those from many regions of the world International intra state and local conflicts are explored along with those that have been violent and non violent The diversity in disciplines among the authors provides a wide range of theoretical approaches to explaining how a variety of intractable conflicts can be transformed Case studies of local national and transnational conflicts serve to illustrate this new landscape These analyses are complemented by conceptual discussions relating to new conflict systems actors dynamics and strategies Policy implications of findings are also presented

State and Capitalist Development in India Surinder Kumar,C S. Verma,Prashant K. Trivedi, 2023-12-01 This book seeks to encourage dialectical methods through the interaction of economic political and social factors to approach social analysis It examines various emerging issues in society in the era of globalization The issues raised in the critique will benefit scholars in comprehending social reality with a new perspective and approach This book will help policymakers look at more realistic conclusions for policy making This title is co published with Aakar Books Print editions not for sale in South

Asia India Sri Lanka Nepal Bangladesh Pakistan and Bhutan Development of a Primitive Tribe Bhagyalaxmi Mahapatra, 2011 Study conducted in the villages of Malkangiri District of Orissa India Deliberating Environmental Policy in India Sunayana Ganguly, 2015-11-06 As one of the world's largest and most bio diverse countries India's approach to environmental policy will be very significant in tackling global environmental challenges This book explores the transformations that have taken place in the making of environmental policy in India since the economic liberalization of the 1990s It investigates if there has been a slow shift from top down planning to increasingly bottom up and participatory policy processes examining the successes and failures of recent environmental policies Linking deliberation to collective action this book contends that it is crucial to involve local actors in framing the policies that decide on their rights and control over bio resources in order to achieve the goal of sustainable human development The first examples of large scale participatory processes in Indian environmental policy were the 1999 National Biodiversity Strategy Action Plan and the 2006 Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers Act This book explores these landmark policies exploring the strategies of advocacy and deliberation that led to both the successes and failures of recent initiatives It concludes that in order to deliberate with the state civil society actors must engage in forms of strategic advocacy with the power to push agendas that challenge mainstream development discourses The lessons learnt from the Indian experience will not only have immediate significance for the future of policy making in India but they will also be of interest for other countries faced with the challenges of integrating livelihood and sustainability concerns into the governance process
