New Zealand Journal of Geography ,1978      Terrain Evaluation Colin W. Mitchell,2014-09-25 Written from the point of view of the earth scientist this book acts as an introduction to terrain evaluation The emphasis throughout is on the physical rather than the economic social or legal aspects of the subject and topics covered include remote sensing and data processing technologies      Search ,1978      GEOGRAPHY - Volume I Maria Sala ,2009-07-17 Geography is a component of Encyclopedia of Earth and Atmospheric Sciences in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Geographical perceptions can be traced from very ancient cultures although geography as a science started its development during the eighteen century it was firmly established after the Darwinian revolution and many of its fundamentals appeared during the nineteenth century The history of geography is closely connected with the history of human society Geography embraces both the physical and human worlds and aims to bridge natural and human sciences For a geographer although the environment and its conservation is a crucial item it is also fundamentally concerned with the living standards of humankind Although its wide embrace may be seen as a weakness diversification is also strength and an attraction Approaches are multidisciplinary exploring the complex linkages between the cultural and the natural These favor cross cultural communication and mutual understanding at a global scale There is a geographical basis to most of the outstanding political problems and geographical reasons to explain them The subject matter of the geography theme is presented basically on how the subject matter is taught presently at the universities and following the many paths its practitioners are following in doing research It introduces modern subject matters and goes much further than a simple description of places and travels The theme has been divided into four main topics Foundations Physical Geography Human Geography and Technical matters The scope of the foundation topic is to present an overview of the basis of the geographical field its scope history methods and its importance in education The chapters included are Main Stages of the Development Theory and Methods and Geographical Education The Physical Geography topic includes the historical background of the geographical study of the Earth natural environment and the main fields cultivated by geographers It consists of eight chapters on basic research fields which are Geomorphology Climatology Hydrology Biogeography Soil Geography Coastal Systems Ocean Geography Mountain Geoecology and two chapters on environmental issues Natural Hazards and Land Degradation and Desertification In the Human Geography topic six chapters discuss the more current fields that is Population Cultural and Social Agricultural and Rural Industries and Transport Economic Activities and Urban Geography Three chapters present subjects developed more recently Medical Political and Tourism geographies Finally the Regional approach is presented as the most traditional and integrative field These volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs      Perspectives in Geomorphology Hari Shanker

Sharma, New Technical Books New York Public Library,1978 Fundamentals of Geomorphology Richard Huggett,2013-07-04 An engaging and comprehensive introduction to geomorphology exploring the world's landforms from a systems perspective that pays attention to the roles of geomorphic processes and historical events in understanding their development Geomorphology: Pure and Applied M.G. Hart,2020-05-11 This unique treatment of geomorphology first published in 1986 provides a comprehensive work to enable students to see the subject as a whole Taking the concepts that run through the subject and cut across its standard divisions the book summarises the history of intellectual debate in geomorphology and then describes modern developments both pure and applied Australian National Bibliography ,1977 The Lower Danube River Abdelazim Negm,Liliana Zaharia,Gabriela Ioana-Toroimac,2022-06-14 This book provides essential information and recent findings on hydro environmental issues in the Lower Danube River particularly its hydrological and hydromorphological processes physico chemical features climate and water related hazards and not only the biodiversity and quality but also the sustainable management and governance of its hydro environment Accordingly it presents a broad range of scientific information on the lower sector of the second longest river in Europe which holds major economic importance and has been severely impacted by human pressures especially since the second part of the last century The engineering works e.g dams reservoirs levees channelization etc on the Danube and its tributaries despite their benefits to society have altered its flow and significantly reduced its sediment load with consequences for hydromorphological processes and aquatic ecosystems These ecosystems have also been affected by pollution from various sources To promote sustainable management of the Danube River and its watershed several strategies and measures have been developed by a number of institutions from the European level to the national and regional levels commissions national authorities non governmental organizations etc Compared to the upper and middle sectors of the Danube the lower sector has received less attention in the international scientific literature in terms of hydro environmental issues The book fills this gap and provides current and original insights and findings from recent studies conducted by scientists from three countries drained by the Lower Danube River and its tributaries Bulgaria Romania and Serbia This unique book will be of great scientific interest to professional engineers policy planners and policymakers in the three countries mentioned above helping them to implement their own sustainable development plans It also offers a valuable resource for graduate students researchers and stakeholders Proceedings of the Royal Geographical Society of Australasia, South Australian Branch (Incorporated). Burt,A.S. Goudie,H.A. Viles,2022-10-20 Co published with British Society for Geomorphology

This volume is the fifth in the definitive series The History of the Study of Landforms or the Development of Geomorphology. Volume 1 (1964) dealt with contributions to the field up to 1890. Volume 2 (1973) with the concepts and contributions of William Morris Davis and Volume 3 (1991) covered historical and regional themes during the classic period of geomorphology (1890–1950). Volume 4 (2008) concentrated on studies of geomorphological processes and Quaternary geomorphology between 1890 and 1965. By the end of this period, process-based studies had become dominant. Volume 5 builds on this platform, covering in detail the revolutionary changes in approach that characterized the study of geomorphology in the second half of the twentieth century. It is divided into three sections: the first deals with changes in approach and method; the second with changes in ideas and the broader scientific context within which geomorphology is studied; and the final section details advances in research on processes and landforms. The volume's objective is to describe and analyse many of the developments that provide a foundation for the rich and varied subject matter of twenty-first century geomorphology.

Subject Catalog Library of Congress, History of Geomorphology and Quaternary Geology R. H. Grapes, 2008. These papers deal with various aspects of the histories of geomorphology and Quaternary geology in different parts of the world. They include the origin of the term Quaternary; histories of ideas and debates relating to aspects of fluvial geomorphology; glacial geomorphology and glaciation; desert dunes and the geology of Australia; peneplains in China; a palaeo Tokyo Bay in Japan; together with biographies of Charles Cotton Valerija Epulyt and Eslovas Pakuckas that highlight their respective contributions to the disciplines of geomorphology and Quaternary geology.
