Expenditure Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Children, Schools and Families Committee, 2009 In its annual examination of the Department for Children Schools and Families DCSF spending the Children Schools and Families Committee predicts that future funding will be much tighter than at present and the rate of spending growth will be minimal come the next Spending Review The Committee is pleased that the Government has reaffirmed its commitment to capital investment in education but there is concern that the review of Building Schools for the Future will lead to the programme being curtailed To avoid doubt the Department should make a clear statement about the programme's future The Committee identifies key problems with the presentation of expenditure figures in the report including confusion about which expenditure streams or grants deliver which objectives and calls on the Department to rectify these problems in its next Annual Report To ensure real accountability staging points must be included for long term Public Service Agreement PSA targets In order to assess whether these targets have been met it is imperative that DCSF does not revise them at every three yearly spending review The Committee is disappointed that details on how DCSF achieved its efficiency savings are vague and it expects much more of the promised detail in the 2009 Departmental Annual Report Starting

Science...Again? Martin Braund, 2008-10-09 The structure of this book encourages active participation via reflective activity boxes which further allows for the engagement and consolidation of ideas Evidence based research is cited resulting in the author suggesting a number of practical activities to encourage progression and continuity in science ESCalate Why do pupils learning and motivation slow down markedly as they move from primary to secondary school Why is this situation worse in science than in any other curriculum subject This book combines reports of and reflection on best practice in improving progression and continuity of teaching and learning in science particularly at that transition stage between primary and secondary school Presenting the views of teachers and pupils on progression learning and application of science the book suggests practical ways of improving teaching and learning in science Each chapter includes examples of learning materials with notes on how these might be used or adapted by teachers in their own classroom settings Science teaching in secondary schools is often based on assumptions that children know or can do very little so the job in the secondary school becomes one of showing pupils how to start doing science properly as if from scratch The damage that this false view can do to pupils learning motivation and confidence is clear This book will help teachers to assess children's prior knowledge effectively and build meaningful and enjoyable science lessons
