Kickapoo Vocabulary Paul H. Voorhis, 1988 The Languages of Native North America Marianne Mithun, 2001-06-07

This book provides an authoritative survey of the several hundred languages indigenous to North America. These languages show tremendous genetic and typological diversity and offer numerous challenges to current linguistic theory. Part I of the book provides an overview of structural features of particular interest, concentrating on those that are cross-linguistically unusual or unusually well developed. These include syllable structure, vowel and consonant harmony, tone, and sound symbolism, polysynthesis, the nature of roots and affixes, incorporation, and morpheme order, case, grammatical distinctions of number, gender, shape, control, location, means, manner, time, empathy, and evidence, and distinctions between nouns and verbs, predicates and arguments, and simple and complex sentences, and special speech styles. Part II catalogues the languages by family, listing the location of each language, its genetic affiliation, number of speakers, major published literature, and structural highlights. Finally, there is a catalogue of languages that have evolved in contact situations. Lexical

Acculturation in Native American Languages Cecil H. Brown, 1999-02-04. Lexical acculturation refers to the accommodation of languages to new objects and concepts encountered as the result of culture contact. This unique study analyzes a survey of words for 77 items of European culture, e.g., chicken, horse, apple, rice, scissors, soap, and Saturday, in the vocabularies of 292 Amerindian languages and dialects spoken from the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego. The first book ever to undertake such a large and systematic cross-language investigation, Brown's work provides fresh insights into general processes of lexical change and development, including those involving language universals and diffusion. The Heartland Kristin L. Hoganson, 2019. In The Heartland, Kristin L. Hoganson drills deep into the centre of the country only to find a global story in the resulting core sample. Deftly navigating the disconnect between history and myth, she tracks both the backstory of this region and the evolution of the idea of an unalloyed heart at the centre of the land. A provocative and highly original work of historical scholarship, The Heartland speaks volumes about pressing preoccupations among them: identity and community, immigration and trade, and security and global power. Papers of the Forty-Second Algonquian Conference J. Randolph Valentine, Monica Macaulay, 2014-04-01. Papers of the forty-second Algonquian Conference held at Memorial University of Newfoundland in October 2010.
