Kiwi Afloat:

Kiwi Afloat Doris Coppel, 2005-01-01 Doris Coppel is an 82 year old Auckland native who's spent a lifetime in love with the water. Almost 20 of those years were spent exploring the English canals. This odyssey began in 1970 when Doris and her husband Alex realized their shared ambition. It was a cold rain thrashed February night in 1970 when my husband and I enjoying a cosy conventional winter's evening by a blazing fire somehow began discussing boats. You want a boat and I want a boat so let's have a boat. I can remember saying. What followed for Doris was a remarkable adventure, hilarious situations, colourful characters and beautiful settings. As Doris noted, As soon as you own a boat you become obsessed by boats. Kiwi Afloat is a testament to Doris's extraordinary obsession. Beautifully written, this book is a wonderful yarn for anyone with an adventuring spirit.

Darkness Comes Before the Dawn Terry Umphenour, 2013-03-22 Fifteen year old Karina's life has changed dramatically in the last year. After losing both her parents in an airplane accident, she is now living in a facility known for using adventure education to turn troubled adolescents into responsible adults. As Karina and other students enter Devils Icebox, a mazelike cave with a bad reputation for taking the lives of early explorers, they hope to experience a day of challenging spelunking. Instead, they soon are summoned by local authorities to rescue other spelunkers trapped inside before it is too late. As the thrill and excitement of cave exploration transforms into a living nightmare, Karina makes a fateful decision that results in the death of a child. In the aftermath, she seeks escape from the emotional trauma and nightmares that plague her by traveling to Hawaii where she hopes to heal while studying volcanoes. But when Karina connects with a terminally ill child whose last wish is to see a volcanic eruption, she has no idea her world is about to tumble toward disaster. In this captivating tale, a teenager puts her own life on the line in a perilous race against time and flowing lava in a desperate attempt to change a course of tragic events.
