WPA, Writing Program Administration, 1991 Journal of Narrative Theory, 2002 Cultural studies critical theory poststructuralism feminist theory new historicism New Perspectives on Historical Writing Peter Burke, 2001-01-01 A new edition of this best selling collection of essays by leading experts on historical methodology Since its first publication in 1992 New Perspectives on Historical Writing has become a key reference work used by students and researchers interested in the most important developments in the methodology and practice of history For this new edition the book has been thoroughly revised and updated and includes an entirely new chapter on environmental history Peter Burke is joined here by a distinguished group of internationally renowned historians including Robert Darnton Ivan Gaskell Richard Grove Giovanni Levi Roy Porter Gwyn Prins Joan Scott Jim Sharpe Richard Tuck and Henk Wesseling The contributions examine a wide range of interdisciplinary areas of historical research including women's history history from below the history of reading oral history the history of the body microhistory the history of events the history of images and political history Studying Classical Judaism, 1991-01-01 What do we know about the history literature and religion of Judaism in its formative age How do we know it and why does it matter In Studying Classical Judaism renowned scholar and author Jacob Neusner addresses these and other important questions Applying many of the same methods Christian scholars use to study Christianity Neusner outlines what we now know about ancient Judaism He points out the core belief of normative Judaism and reveals the methodological underpinnings of the most cogent and up to date interpretations of the texts that determined classical Judaism Shadows in the Field Gregory F. Barz, Timothy J. Cooley, 2008-09-09 Ethnomusicological fieldwork has significantly changed since the end of the 20th century Ethnomusicology is in a critical moment that requires new perspectives on fieldwork perspectives that are not addressed in the standard guides to ethnomusicological or anthropological method The focus in ethnomusicological writing and teaching has traditionally centered around analyses and ethnographic representations of musical cultures rather than on the personal world of understanding experience knowing and doing fieldwork Shadows in the Field deliberately shifts the focus of ethnomusicology and of ethnography in general from representation text to experience fieldwork The new fieldwork moves beyond mere data collection and has become a defining characteristic of ethnomusicology that engages the scholar in meaningful human contexts In this new edition of Shadows in the Field renowned ethnomusicologists explore the roles they themselves act out while performing fieldwork and pose significant questions for the field What are the new directions in ethnomusicological fieldwork Where does fieldwork of the past fit into these theories And above all what do we see when we acknowledge the shadows we cast in the field The second edition of Shadows in the Field includes updates of all existing chapters a new preface by Bruno Nettl and seven new chapters addressing critical issues and concerns that have become increasingly relevant since the first edition New Perspectives on Sport and 'deviance' Tony Blackshaw, Tim Crabbe, 2004 This book awakens the sociology of sport to the possibilities of re imagining deviance and offers an evocative approach which will appeal both to academics and students alike
