Koln Cologn:

Medieval Cologne Joseph P. Huffman, 2024-11-18 In Anglophone literature historical questions about urban socio economic political religious and cultural development have often been answered using Anglo French Anglo Low Countries and Anglo Italian paradigms and sources Medieval Germany has been largely overlooked seen as a peripheral and irrelevant anomaly Conversely scholars from the German Rhineland have mostly remained within the traditions of civic public history and Landesgeschichte As a result they rarely engage with the historical questions raised in wider European discourses This volume challenges these historiographical propensities by offering a fresh perspective on medieval urban Germany It aims to integrate Cologne and the Rhineland more accurately and equitably into the wider histories of medieval Europe The book engages with historical questions of wider relevance across both German and European medieval histories It invites all scholars and students of medieval Europe to utilize Cologne as a key source for their research and writing Flagellates Barry S. C. Leadbeater, John C. Green, 2002-09-11 The Flagellates presents a multidisciplinary view of the flagellates exploring both their unity in terms of their structure mechanisms and processes and their diversity in terms of biogeography niche colonisation and adaptations to their environment In addition evolutionary relationships amongst flagellates are explored This is the only book published on this subject and features the most up to date information available making it an essential read for any one interested in or working in this field The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Encyclopedia of Camps and Ghettos, 1933-1945: Volume I Geoffrey P. Schadeberg,2019-07-22 No detailed description available for Nilo Saharan Proceedings Humanism and Renaissance Civilization Charles G. Nauert,2023-04-21 The essays collected in this volume represent many years of Professor Nauert s research and teaching on the history of Renaissance humanism and more particularly on humanism north of the Alps Much of the early work involved the significant but often overlooked history of humanism at the University of Cologne notoriously the most anti humanist of the German universities Later essays deal with the most famous humanist of the early sixteenth century Erasmus of Rotterdam and natural philosophy a broad term covering many subjects now associated with natural science is the topic of three of the pieces published here Taken as a whole the book presents a detailed study of intellectual development among European elites Gothic Architecture Paul Frankl,Paul Crossley,2000-01-01 This magisterial study of Gothic architecture traces the meaning and development of the Gothic style through medieval churches across Europe Ranging geographically from Poland to Portugal and from Sicily to Scotland and chronologically from 1093 to 1530 the book analyzes changes from Romanesque to Gothic as well as the evolution within the Gothic style and places these changes in the context of the creative spirit of the Middle Ages In its breadth of outlook its command of detail and its theoretical enterprise Frankl s book has few equals in the ambitious Pelican History of Art series It is single minded in its pursuit of the general principles that informed all aspects of Gothic architecture and its culture In this edition Paul Crossley has revised the original text to take into account the proliferation of recent literature books reviews exhibition catalogues and periodicals that have emerged in a variety of languages New illustrations have also been included From a Far Distant Time & Place Thomas Peter Glass,2005-11-01 This book is the genealogical history of the ancestry of Jacob Stephen Gruben and Maria Emilie Krmer who came to the United States from Germany in the early 1880 s The book traces each of their ancestries back through German civil registration records and the earlier Catholic Church records to the 17th century The book includes information about the first generation born in the United States Similarly the book traces the family of Johann Gottfried Godfrey Nienhaus a nephew of Jacob Stephen Gruben who also came to the United States at about the same time The book contains information on the first generation of the Nienhaus family that was born in the United States The book is of wider interest because there is a discussion of the nature of and idiosyncrasies of the German civil registration and Catholic records available in the Dsseldorf Cologne area of Germany There is an extensive discussion of a method of determining a family line when faced with the sometimes scant information available in the early Catholic Church records There are large numbers of collateral relatives listed in the lines of descendants contained in the book with over 1800 people listed most of whom were born lived and died in the Dsseldorf Cologne area of Germany There is a surname index to the lines of descendants in the Gruben section and a surname index to the lines of descendants in the Krmer section of the book In the Wake of War Jeffry M. Diefendorf,1993-06-24 In 1945 Germany's cities lay in ruins destroyed by Allied bombers hat left major architectural monuments badly damaged and much of the housing stock reduced to rubble At the war's end observers thought that it would take forty years to rebuild but by the late 1950s West Germany's cities had risen anew The housing crisis had been overcome and virtually all important monuments reconstructed and the cities had reclaimed their characteristic identities Everywhere there was a mixture of old and new historic churches and town halls stood alongside new housing and department stores ancient street layouts were crossed or encircled by wide arteries old city centers were balanced by garden suburbs laid out according to modern planning principles In this book Diefendorf examines the questions raised by this remarkable feat of urban reconstruction He explains who was primarily responsible what accounted for the speed of rebuilding and how priorities were set and decisions acted upon He argues that in such crucial areas as architectural style urban planning historic preservation and housing policy the Germans drew upon personnel ideas institutions and practical experiences from the Nazi and pre Nazi periods Diefendorf shows how the rebuilding of West Germany's cities after 1945 can only be understood in terms of long term continuities in urban development Senate documents ,1891 Annual
