Kierkegaard, Eve and Metaphors of Birth Alison Assiter, 2015-04-29 There has been a recent revival of interest in reading Kierkegaard as an ontologist as a thinker who engages with questions about the kinds of entity or process that constitute ultimate reality This new way of reading Kierkegaard stands alongside a revival of interest in ontology and metaphysics more generally This highly original book concentrates on the claim that Kierkegaard focuses in part on ontological questions and on issues pertaining to the nature of being as a whole Alison Assiter asserts that Being for Kierkegaard following Schelling can be read in terms of conceptions of birthing the capacity to give birth as well as the

Ending the Science Wars John D. Baldwin,2015-12-03 The science wars have been raging for decades raising many questions about the power of science Some critics claim that science, including social science, is merely a social construction that fallible humans have created with words and other symbols If this is true, is science as formidable a source of knowledge as most scientists claim Baldwin explains why the edifice of science has robust properties that make it one of the most useful forms of knowledge that humans have ever created although it is not perfect He trenchantly examines all sides of the debate and uses the philosophy of pragmatism to reveal the special characteristics that make science work as well as it does Ending the Science Wars shows how science is far better grounded than its critics claim The book not only helps resolve many current debates about science, it is a major contribution for explaining science in terms of a powerful philosophical system This makes the book valuable to scientists in all fields of research and intellectually challenging for science's critics An

with fairness and accuracy BOOK JACKET The Coming of God Jürgen Moltmann, Margaret Kohl, 2004-07-27 Winner of Grawemeyer Award In this remarkable and timely work in many ways the culmination of his systematic theology world renowned theologian Jürgen Moltmann stands Christian eschatology on its head Moltmann rejects the traditional approach which focuses on the End an apocalyptic finale as a kind of Christian search for the final solution He centers instead on hope and God's promise of new creation for all things Christian eschatology he says is the remembered hope of the raising of the crucified Christ so it talks about beginning afresh in the deadly end Yet Moltmann's novel framework deeply informed by Jewish and messianic thought also fosters rich and creative insights into the perennially nettling questions of eschatology Are there eternal life and personal identity after death How is one to think of heaven hell and purgatory What are the historical and cosmological dimensions of Christian hope What are its social and political implications In a heartbreakingly fragile and fragment world Moltmann's comprehensive eschatology surveys the Christian vista bravely envisioning our horizons of expectation for personal social even cosmic transformation in God Existentialist Background William Leon McBride, 1997 This collection of essays and reviews represents the most significant and comprehensive writing on Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors Miola's edited work also features a comprehensive critical history coupled with a full bibliography and photographs of major productions of the play from around the world In the collection there are five previously unpublished essays The topics covered in these new essays are women in the play the play's debt to contemporary theater its critical and performance histories in Germany and Japan the metrical variety of the play and the distinctly modern perspective on the play as containing dark and disturbing elements To compliment these new essays the collection features significant scholarship and commentary on The Comedy of Errors that is published in obscure and difficult accessible journals newspapers and other sources This collection brings together these essays for the first time The Contemporary Theory of Metaphor Ning Yu, 1998-01-01 This volume aims to contribute to the theory of metaphor from the viewpoint of Chinese in order to help place the theory into a wider cross linguistic and cross cultural perspective It focuses on metaphors of emotion the time as space metaphor and the Event Structure Metaphor Analytics and Intuition in the Process of Selecting Talent Jürgen Deters, 2022-11-07 Human decisions especially in management and personnel selection are based on making judgments about people analytically and intuitively Yet in business and scientific contexts judgments are expected to be based on a rational analysis rather than intuitions or emotions Intuition is often seen as something mystical that should not be trusted and thus eliminated from human decision making Our empirical and theoretical research shows that this is impossible when people are dealing with people Instead intuitions and emotions have significant power in the decision making process Neuroscience even shows that humans are incapable of switching off their emotions or intuitions when making decisions Therefore intuition and emotions as evolutionary achievements of human beings should be looked at more closely to use the wisdom they offer This book provides an insight into the current state of research on rational analytical procedures in personnel selection and complements this with research on intuitions and emotions in personnel diagnostics By integrating scientifically verifiable rational analytical decision making procedures with the inner experiential knowledge of people this book bridges two complementary ways of recognizing and making good decisions It demonstrates how intuitions are developed and used in different fields of practice and cultures and how scientific research results from rational analytical and intuitive emotional selection procedures are successfully integrated by practitioners
