Human Rights In A Changing World:

Human Rights in a Changing World Antonio Cassese,1990-01-01 11 What should we do Health and Human Rights in a Changing World Michael Grodin,Daniel Tarantola,George Annas,Sofia Gruskin,2013-07-04 Health and Human Rights in a Changing World is a comprehensive and contemporary collection of readings and original material examining health and human rights from a global perspective Editors Grodin Tarantola Annas and Gruskin are well known for their previous two volumes published by Routledge on this increasingly important subject to the global community The editors have contextualized each of the five sections with foundational essays each reading concludes with discussion topics questions and suggested readings This book also includes Points of View sections originally written perspectives by important authors in the field Section I is a Health and Human Rights Overview that lays out the essential knowledge base and provides the foundation for the following sections Section II brings in notions of concepts methods and governance framing the application of health and human rights in particular the Human Rights based Approaches to Health Section III sheds light on issues of heightened vulnerability and special protection stressing that the health and human rights record of any nation any community is determined by what is being done and not done about those who are most in need Section IV focuses on addressing system failures where health and human rights issues have been documented recognized even at times proclaimed as priorities and yet insufficiently attended to as a result of State denial unwillingness or incapacity Section V examines the relevance of the health and human rights paradigm to a changing world underscoring contemporary global challenges and responses Finally a Concluding Note brings together the key themes of this set of articles and attempts to project a vision of the future Human Rights In A Changing World P Sukumar Nair,2011 Papers presented at the National Seminar on Human Rights in a Changing World held at Pandalam Human Rights in a Changing World Mehmet Okyayuz,Junxiang Mao,Letlhokwa George Mpedi,Peter Herrmann,2023-03-08 The book aims at presenting an updated version of the basic and general human rights debates While it is frequently suggested that Human Rights are universal and indivisible it is an undeniable fact that this is far from being true And if there was ever any justification for talking about an ending to history that narrative has definitely lost all justification in the light of recent developments In fact we are now witnessing a new harsh round of global system competition often at the edge of a global hot war now not anymore in a bipolar world but in a multipolar setting The book contributions include reflections on history and theory the reinterpretation of rights in different national contexts and or in relation to specific groups e g women and areas e g digitization The book is meant to be a food for thought at the end arguing in favour of the need to redefine Human Rights reflecting the changes since the inauguration of the UDHR Reclaiming Human Rights in a Changing World Order Christopher Sabatini,2022-10-07 Human rights and the international institutions that strive to protect them are under increasing attack from powerful actors on the global stage from recent political trends even within established democracies and from new technologies Together these threats have undermined what had been a fragile international consensus as recently as two decades ago about the importance of concerted international action to protect human rights and punish those who abuse them China Russia and other nondemocratic regimes have become increasingly bold in acting as if agreed upon international human rights standards no longer exist or at least do not apply to them More broadly domestic political movements based on nationalism religion and populism are challenging human rights norms on nearly every continent And new technologies including autonomous weapons systems and relentless digital surveillance have given national leaders new ways to control or even abuse their citizens with impunity This book examines these new challenges to international and regional human rights in Africa Europe Latin America and the Middle East It is the result of a year of workshops with human rights activists and young leaders from around the world with chapters written by a diverse group of leading scholars Beyond describing the challenges to human rights the book offers targeted practical recommendations for national and multilateral policymakers activists and scholars for concrete actions to protect human rights as well as improve public understanding of why doing so is essential Reclaiming Human Rights in a Changing World Order will interest scholars of international relations and human rights law domestic and international activists involved in human rights indeed anyone wanting to understand the implications for the liberal international order of the new geopolitical competition modern technology and political and social movements
