Human Ecology Fragments Of Anti Fragmentary Views Of The World:

Bioregionalism and Global Ethics Richard Evanoff, 2010-09-13 While a number of schools of environmental thought including social ecology ecofeminism ecological Marxism ecoanarchism and bioregionalism have attempted to link social issues to a concern for the environment environmental ethics as an academic discipline has tended to focus more narrowly on ethics related either to changes in personal values or behavior or to the various ways in which nature might be valued What is lacking is a framework in which individual social and environmental concerns can be looked at not in isolation from each other but rather in terms of their interrelationships In this book Evanoff aims to develop just such a philosophical framework one in which ethical questions related to interactions between self society and nature can be discussed across disciplines and from a variety of different perspectives The central problem his study investigates is the extent to which a dichotomized view of the relationship between nature and culture perpetuated in ongoing debates over anthropocentric vs ecocentric approaches to environmental ethics might be overcome through the adoption of a transactional perspective which offers a more dynamic and coevolutionary understanding of how humans interact with their natural environments Unlike anthropocentric approaches to environmental ethics which often privilege human concerns over ecological preservation and some ecocentric approaches which place more emphasis on preserving natural environments than on meeting human needs a transactional approach attempts to create more symbiotic and less conflictual modes of interaction between human cultures and natural environments which allow for the flourishing of both

Understanding Human Ecology Robert Dyball, Barry Newell, 2023-06-30 Understanding Human Ecology offers a coherent conceptual framework for human ecology a clear approach for understanding the many systems we are part of and for how we frame and understand the problems we face Blending natural social and cognitive sciences with dynamical systems theory this key text offers systems approaches that are accessible to all from the undergraduate student to policymakers and practitioners across government business and community In the first edition road tested and refined over a decade of teaching and workshops the authors built a clear inspiring and important framework for anyone approaching the management of complex problems and the transition to sustainability Fully updated for the second edition the book now goes further in using systems thinking principles to explain fundamental processes of change in social ecological systems Revised case examples provide a working application of these principles whilst a new discussion of the hierarchical structure of complex systems is included to guide practical policymaking This new edition is essential reading for students and scholars of human ecology environmental ethics and sustainability studies

Religion at Work in Globalised Traditions Anders Kaliff, 2014-03-26 Why do traditions disappear How is the disappearance of tradition also a vehicle for social change and re inventions of practices and new traditions Using case studies from one Sukuma area along the southern shores of Lake Victoria in Tanzania global processes of how religions work in practice are analysed by focusing on rainmaking witchcraft and Christianity Traditionally Sukuma society was culturally and cosmologically structured around the chief the ancestors and rainmaking Everything was dependent upon the rain Rainmaking as a ritual practice has disappeared and ancestral propitiations are declining while at the same time Christianity is spreading and witchcraft and witch killings are increasing Although Christianity as a religion may provide answers and hopes for life after death the religion provides few solutions in the here and now when it comes to poverty and suffering problems and challenges that have to be solved Witchcraft on the other hand does or is believed to do so and the increase in witchcraft is analysed in relation to the impacts of more than a century of globalisation from the missionaries and colonizers onwards With the declining ancestral tradition witchcraft and Christianity as religious practices supplement each other in the ways they are believed to work in providing answers solutions or divine interferences in different realms this world and the Otherworld Offering an approach going beyond structural functionalism on different premises the book s focus on religion at work will facilitate new understandings of how to study religion as it is perceived and believed in practice Religion, Space, and the Environment Sigurd Bergmann,2017-07-05 Religions often nurture important skills that help believers locate themselves in the world Religious perceptions practices emotions and beliefs are closely interwoven with the environments from which they emerge Sigurd Bergmann s driving emphasis here is to explore religion not in relation to but as a part of the spatiality and movement within the environment from which it arises and is nurtured Religion Space and the Environment emerges from the author s experiences in different places and continents over the past decade At the book s heart lie the questions of how space place and religion amalgamate and how lived space and lived religion influence each other Bergmann explores how religion and the memory of our past impact our lives in urban spaces how the sacred geographies in Mayan and northeast Asian lands compare to modern eco spirituality and how human images and practices of moving in with and through the land are interwoven with the processes of colonization and sacralising and the practices of power and visions of the sacred among other topics The Irish Language in Ireland Diarmait Mac Giolla Chríost,2004-03 This book comprises the first complete treatment of the Irish language in social context throughout the whole of Ireland with a particular focus on contemporary society The possibilities and limitations of the craft of language planning for the revival of the Irish language are outlined and the book also situates the language issue in the context of current debates on the geography history and politics of the nature of Irish identity A comprehensive multidisciplinary approach is adopted throughout Environmental Management for Sustainable Development Christopher J. Barrow,2002-01-08 Covers the full breadth of principles practice and policy issues concerned with environmental management providing a comprehensive resource and reference point for students and practitioners in this field Environmental Management Christopher J. Barrow,1999 Environmental Management covers all principles practice and policy issues concerned with environmental management providing a comprehensive resource and reference point for students and practitioners in the field Language and the City Diarmait Mac Giolla Chríost, 2007-06-29 This book shows the effects of globalization on language in social context identifying the city as the key site for the realization of these effects It challenges assumptions that hold sustainable linguistic diversity to be inherently non urban while regarding the city as an unproblematic site for understanding the social function of language

Language, Identity and Conflict Diarmait Mac Giolla Chríost, 2004-03-01 This innovative study of language and identity in recent and contemporary cases of ethnic conflict in Europe and Eurasia sets out a response to the limitations in the fields of linguistics and political science Using examples of language policy and planning in conflict situations it examines the functions of language as a marker of identity in ethnic conflict and the extent to which language may be a causal factor in ethnic conflict

The Guided Mind Jaan Valsiner, 1998 How is something as broad and complex as a personality organized What makes up a satisfactory theory of personality In this ambitious book Jaan Valsiner argues for a theoretical integration of two long standing approaches the individualistic tradition of personalistic psychology typified by the work of William Stern and Gordon Allport and the semiotic tradition of cultural historical psychology typified by the work of L S Vygotsky The two are brought together in Valsiner's theory which highlights the sign constructing and sign using nature of all distinctively human psychological processes Arguing that the individualistic and the cultural traditions differ largely in emphasis Valsiner unites them by focusing on the intricate relations between personality and its social context and their interplay in personality development The semiotic devices internalized from the social environment shape an individual's development and the flow of thinking feeling and acting Valsiner uses this theoretical approach to illuminate two remarkable and remarkably different phenomena letters from the mother of Allport's college roommate a key empirical case in Allport's theory and the ritual movements of a Hindu temple dancer Valsiner shows how both exemplify basic human tendencies for the cultural construction of life courses The Guided Mind shows the fundamental unities in the vastly diverse phenomenon of human personality

Freudian Fadeout Arij Ouweneel,2012-08-13 In Western culture the psychoanalysis that has guided popular psychology for almost a century is now on the retreat Better equipped with proven results cognitive and evolutionary psychology has driven psychoanalysis out of the spotlight In cultural and film studies however the debate between cognitive sciences and psychoanalysis remains contentious This volume explores this state of things by examining criticism of 18 films juxtaposing them with cognitive based films to reveal the flaws in the psychoanalytical concepts It pays particular attention to simulation theory the concept that narratives learned from films could work in human minds as simulations for solutions to particular problems By introducing the idea of narrative stimulation to film studies this work argues for a different method of film critique encouraging further research into this nascent field Science, Space, Society

Olaf Kühne,Karsten Berr,2022-09-23 This volume provides a basic introduction to the philosophy of science and its central concepts theories and philosophical scientific and spatial positions and approaches Transformation Processes in Europe and Beyond Florian Weber,Olaf Kühne,Julia Dittel,2024-07-05 Europe and the world in all their diversity and complexity have always been and continue to be in a state of change Recent geo political environmental social and economic developments demonstrate a world in constant flux These ever changing framework conditions require corresponding transformations in many different structures This anthology takes these observations as a starting point to illuminate theoretical perspectives methodological approaches and empirical insights related to recent transformation processes in Europe and beyond with a special focus in this respect on the USA In view of their comprehensive nature transformation processes cannot be analysed from a single perspective a uniform approach or theory would fail to address their complexity and contingency In this sense horizontal geographies serves as our theoretical framework The concept refers to comprehensive synthesizing regional analyses which collect structure and reflect on knowledge with diverse spatial social and cultural contexts The interdisciplinary and international authorship does justice to the idea of horizontal multi perspective geographies and considers a wide range of transformation processes in Europe and beyond The Closed Society and Its Ligatures—A Critique Using the Example of 'Landscape'

Olaf Kühne,Karsten Berr,Corinna Jenal,2023-02-18 In the face of great challenges utopian thinking is currently in vogue The fact that utopias with their ideas of an idealized target society are not compatible with the basic features of an Open Society was already pointed out by Karl Popper in his book Die Offene Gesellschaft und ihre Feinde The Open Society and its Enemies under the impression of National Socialism and Stalinism In the present book further forms of Closed Societies and the principal similarities and differences of their construction are examined This is done by drawing on Ralf Dahrendorf's concept of life chances in which he deals with the interaction of options and ligatures The ambivalence of Dahrendorf's understanding of ligatures since they restrict options on the one hand but also give them meaning on the other is resolved by a threefold differentiation into ethical and moral internally and externally directed and explicit and implicit ligatures While the former are capable of enabling life chances the latter tend to limit them Based on this the authors elaborate on the landscape side consequences of various closed societies and how ill suited they are for dealing with current challenges
