This book serves as a comprehensive introductory text to the field of HRD as well as an ideal platform for a more in-depth advanced study of the field. It is an invaluable resource for students of HRD or any reader interested in how HRD can play a major role in oiling the gears of innovation within an organization.

Private World(s) Joanna Ostrouch-Kamińska, Cristina C. Vieira, 2015-03-17 This book is the fourth production from the ESREA Gender network and the third in the ESREA Sense bookseries Once more there is an opportunity for readers to gain a better understanding of questions related to gender and adult learning from researchers deeply involved in this specific field of adult education The notion of informal learning has already been treated as a chapter in the 2003 book but it becomes central and relevant in this new book with the growing complexity of our society The editors emphasise private world s s in the book title but the content of the book proves that informal learning processes aside from the self are combined with contextual opportunities which have been chosen or not Their introduction covers the essential concepts of gender and informal learning The contributors enlighten the debate with their geographical diversity all over Europe but also with their diverse theoretical systems of references to the diverse social contexts that have been analysed The first part of this book entitled private spheres presents and analyses painful gendered discriminations and injustices We can t escape to the emotions it evokes from the soldiers after the war to men s breast cancer both relate to men and the specificity of their suffering This is an interesting and quite new opportunity to question gender In the second part related to minorities and activism we discover groups who learn through their organised fight against discriminations Emotions give way to a positive energy when we discover the strategies that feminists or migrants or also retired men find to question the society in which they live The authors show us not only what is learned by such communities but also what their environment can learn from them The last part of the book leads us to different contexts of informal learning mostly related to opportunities and obstacles in education and work situations Community training social work studies scientist s work and management school are the contexts chosen to clarify stereotypes and the discrimination along the lifespan for women From East to West and North to South of Europe it seems once more that the debate presents a lot of similarities This book can be considered as original in its area and useful mostly because it presents a mixture of sadness and hope within gendered learning processes In this book it seems that men take their place in the gender debate and its analysis with a new vision of the male realities More than anything else this book is a reminder of what has to be done in our society specifically in adult education to imagine and to create better pathways conditions and issues to respect all learners women as well as men Edmee Ollagnier Ex University of Geneva Switzerland

Streumer,2006-03-14 Work related learning can be broadly seen to be concerned with all forms of education and training closely related to the daily work of new employees and is increasingly playing a central role in the lives of individuals groups or teams and the agenda s of organizations However as this area of study becomes more prominent debates have opened about the nature of the field as well as about its configurations and effects For example some authors have a broad definition of WRL and define it as learning for work at work and through work ranging from formal through semi structured to informal learning Others prefer to use the concept of WRL mainly in connection to informal incidental learning processes during work leading to competent workplace learners Formal and informal learning are distinguished from each other with respect to the level of intention implicit non intentional incidental versus deliberative intentional structured Another point of discussion originates from the different theoretical backgrounds of the authors the learning theorists versus the organizational theorists The first group is mainly interested in the question of how learning comes about the second group is predominantly interested in the search for factors affecting learning
