Humanity and Self-cultivation Wei-ming Tu, Weiming Tu, 1998 This first paperback edition of a renowned collection of essays by noted scholar of Chinese history and philosophy Tu Wei ming includes a new introductory essay by Robert Cummings Neville Dean of A Korean Theology of Human Nature Jung-Sun Oh, 2005 This remarkable study articulates a Korean Confucian Christian theory of human nature encompassing the theory of justification sanctification and salvation by means of a reformed concept of filial piety The book presents the theological anthropology of Robert C Neville and the inclusive humanism of Tu Wei ming as critical guides for the creation of a comparative contemporary Korean theology

Confucian Thought Weiming Tu, Harvard-Yenching Professor of Chinese History Philosophy and Confucian Studies Tu Wei-Ming, 1985-01-01 Tu Wei ming is the foremost exponent of Confucian thought in the United States today Over the last two decades he has been developing a creative scholarly interpretation of Confucian humanism as a living tradition The result is a work of interpretive brilliance that revitalizes Confucian thought making it a legitimate concern of contemporary philosophical reflections Reading In-Between Nestor Medina, Alison Hari-Singh, HyeRan Kim-Cragg, 2019-02-18 This volume presents a tapestry of narratives in which the lived experiences of eight racially minoritized theologians and biblical scholars are woven together to present an interdisciplinary exploration of the direct impact that ethnocultural traditions have in shaping the way people read and interpret the biblical text Moving beyond traditional approaches to biblical hermeneutics steeped in Euro normativity Canadian scholars from Latino a Chinese Korean Indian Cree and AfriCaribbean backgrounds draw on their respective locations to articulate how their communities engage the Bible Together they show that ethnicity and cultural tradition enrich how different communities weave their life stories with the biblical text in hope of finding wisdom within it By focusing on questions rooted in their particular traditions these diverse hermeneutical engagements show narrative to be central to the interpretive task within diverse ethnocultural communities Natural Theology

Reconfigured Zhiqiu Xu, 2016-03-22 Classic natural theology in its logical rational Aristotelian presentation has encountered an impasse Since the Enlightenment nature has ceased to be a vital topic in theological discussions until a recent revival of interest stemming from ecological and feminist concerns Provocatively transcending boundaries between Philosophy and Theology ancient and contemporary East and West Natural Theology Reconfigured revitalises the validity and relevancy of Natural Theology a shipwrecked concept in the West with the aid of Eastern Confucian Axiology and American Pragmatism

Human Beings or Human Becomings? Peter D. Hershock, Roger T. Ames, 2021-02-01 Great transformations are reshaping human life social institutions and the world around us raising profound questions about our fundamental values We now have the knowledge and the technical expertise for instance to realize a world in which no child needs to go to bed hungry and yet hunger persists And although the causes of planetary climate disruption are well known action of the scale and resolution needed to address it remain elusive In order to deepen our understanding of these transformations and the ethical responses they demand considering how they are seen from different civilizational perspectives is imperative Acknowledging the rise of China both geopolitically and culturally the essays in this volume enter into critical and yet appreciative conversations with East Asian philosophical traditions primarily Confucianism but also Buddhism and Daoism drawing on their conceptual resources to understand what it means to be human as irreducibly relational The opening chapters establish a framework for seeing the resolution of global predicaments such as persistent hunger and climate disruption as relational challenges that cannot be addressed from within the horizons of any ethics committed to taking the individual as the basic unit of moral analysis Subsequent chapters turn to Confucian traditions as resources for addressing these challenges reimagining personhood as a process of responsive humane becoming and envisioning ethics as a necessarily historical and yet open ended process of relational refinement and evolving values Another Phenomenology of Humanity Xunwu Chen,2015-09-17 Another Phenomenology of Humanity A Reading of A Dream of Red Mansions is devoted to developing another version of phenomenology of humanity human nature human dispositions and human desires by taking A Dream of Red Mansions the crown jewel of Chinese culture as its main literary paradigm of illustration The version of phenomenology of humanity at issue is a synthesis of the Confucian Daoist Buddhist and Western existentialist phenomenological accounts of humanity for example what is humanity what make humans as human human nature human feelings human desires three core human existential interests and four basic problems of human existence The Early Confucian Philosophy of Agency Henrique Schneider,2024-02-02 Virtuous conduct is the philosophy of agency within Early Confucianism Drawing on the ideas of Confucius Mencius and Xunzi this book characterizes Early Confucianism as a progressive philosophy due to its human centered program for social reform its process view of self cultivation and its development Nondualism Jon Paul Sydnor,Anthony J. Watson,2023-09-05 The time has come for nondualism As a fundamentally unifying concept nondualism may seem out of place in an age of rising nationalism and bitter deglobalization but our current debates over tribalism and universalism all grant nondualism an informative relevance Nondualism rejects both separation and identity thereby encouraging unity in difference Yet nondualism as a word occupies a large semantic field Nondual theists advocate the unity of humankind and God while nondual atheists advocate the inseparability of all persons without reference to a divinity Ecological nondualism asserts that we are in nature and nature is in us while monistic nondualists assert that only God exists and all difference is illusion Edited by Jon Paul Sydnor and Anthony Watson and guided by scholars from different religions and specializations Nondualism An Interreligious Exploration explores the semantic field that nondualism occupies The collection elicits the expansive potential of the concept clarifies agreement and disagreement and considers current applications In every case nondualism is universal in its relevance yet always distinctive in its contribution The World's Religious Traditions Frank Whaling,2016-10-06 The aim of this book is to make a major contribution to the field of religious studies while at the same time paying tribute to the work of Wilfred Smith Although the basis of the chapters is provided by Smith's themes of faith and tradition and Smith's approach to the study of religion this book stands in its own right as a significant addition to both content and method in the global history of religions First published in 1984 it includes contributions by Geoffrey Parrinder Annemarie Schimmel George Rupp Ninian Smart and others

The Non-Hierarchical Way from Yijing to Jeongyeok Young Woon Ko, 2023-01-09 The Non Hierarchical Way from Yijing to Jeongyeok A New Paradigm for East Meeting West examines the paradoxical structure of Yijing known as the Book of Changes a structure that promotes in a non hierarchical way the harmony and transformation of opposites Because the non hierarchical model is not limited to the East Asian tradition it is considered in relation to ideas developed in the West including Carl Jung's archetypal psychology Georg Cantor's Diagonal Theorem Rene Girard's mimetic desire and Alfred North Whitehead's process thought By critically reviewing the numerical and symbolic structures of Yijing Young Woon Ko introduces Kim Ilbu's Jeongyeok the Book of Right Changes and demonstrates that it intensifies the correlation between opposites to overcome any hierarchical system implied by the Yijing Both the Yijing and the Jeongyeok are useful textual sources for kindling a discussion about the Divine which is conceived in Eastern and Western philosophical theological traditions quite differently While the nontheistic aspects of the Ultimate feature prominently in Yijing Jeongyeok extends them to a theistic issue by introducing the notion of Sangjae the Supreme Lord which can lead to a fruitful dialogue for understanding the dipolar characteristics of the divine reality personal and impersonal Ko considers their contrast which has divided Eastern and Western religious belief systems to be transformational and open to a wider perspective of the divine conception in the process of change

Mencius, Hume and the Foundations of Ethics Xiusheng Liu, 2017-05-15 What is the most distinctive feature of human nature Does human nature play any significant role in explaining ethical objectivity How do we arrive at moral judgments What is the relationship between moral judgments and moral motivation In answering these questions this book defends a naturalist realist and internalist theory of the foundations of ethics This theory grounded on a particular concept of humanity combines insights from Mencius and David Hume The views of each show how important features left underdeveloped by the other can be supplemented and refined The unified theory that results is a robust contender among current ethical theories This illuminating book relating Chinese and Western philosophical traditions presents a unique account of the unity of the virtues in Mencius breaks new ground in Hume studies through its discussion of the concept of sympathy in Hume s theory and brings combined insights to bear on contemporary analytical theories of ethics

Self-Cultivation Philosophies in Ancient India, Greece, and China Christopher W. Gowans, 2021-08-27 Philosophies in several ancient traditions aimed to alleviate people s anxieties and improve their lives In contrast to the contemporay world in which philosophy is mostly an academic subject and personal concerns are commonly addressed by psychological therapies philosophy in these traditions often played a central role in programs that aspired to enable people to achieve a good life In this volume Christopher W Gowans argues that the idea of self cultivation philosophy provides a valuable approach for comprehending and reflecting on several philosophies in ancient India Greece and China Self cultivation philosophies put forward a program of development for ameliorating the lives of human beings On the basis of an account of human nature and the place of human beings in the world they claim that our lives can be substantially transformed from what is thought to be a problematic condition into what purports to be an ideal state of being Self cultivation philosophies are preeminently practical in their aspirations their purpose is to change human life in fundamental ways Yet in pursuing these practical ends these philosophies typically make significant theoretical as well as empirical claims about human nature and the world The book shows how the concept of self cultivation philosophy provides an interpretive framework for understanding comparing assessing and learning from several philosophical outlooks in India the Greco Roman world and China The self cultivation philosophies in India are those expressed in the Bhagavad Gita the Samkhya and Yoga philosophies of Isvarakrsna and Patanjali and the teaching of the Buddha and his followers Buddhaghosa and Santideva The philosophies originating in Greece with subsequent development in the Roman world are the most prominent Hellenistic approaches the Epicureanism of Epicurus Lucretius and Philodemus the Stoicism of Chrysippus Epictetus and Seneca and Pyrrho and the Pyrrhonism of Sextus Empiricus The self cultivation philosophies from China are the early Confucian outlooks of Confucius Mencius and Xunzi the classical Daoist perspectives of the Daodejing and the Zhuangzi and the Chan tradition of Bodhidharma Huineng and Linji Though these philosophies developed in very different traditions Gowans shows the connections between them in this compelling work of comparative philosophy accepted by non Western scholars in an attempt to emulate Western scientific practice the mainstream viewpoint is in a process of transformation to accommodate geographically relevant perspectives In this light Foundations of Chinese Psychology bridges the gap between western and eastern traditions and elaborates on theories based on local phenomena findings and experiences by research methods that are contextually appropriate Using a guiding principle of cultural psychology one mind many mentalities this book advocates the balancing of a global psychology concept without sacrificing that of a specific locality and people It analyzes the basics of Confucianism and compares them to Western ethical thinking arriving at a series of theories concerning social exchange face achievement motivation organizational behaviors and conflict resolution Beyond the specifics of a particular culture this book exemplifies the act of constructing autonomous social science that may be emulated in other non Western settings It also serves as an excellent guide for cross cultural research as well as a caveat on the limitations of presumptive individualism and exclusionary perspectives
