The Contemporary Political Play Sarah Grochala, 2017-03-23 What does it mean for a play to be political in the 21st century Does it require explicit engagement with events and situations with the aim of bringing about change or highlighting social wrongs Is it purely a matter of content or is it also a matter of structure The Contemporary Political Play Rethinking Dramaturgical Structure examines the politics of contemporary political drama It traces the origins of the contemporary British political play to the emergence of the idea of serious drama in the late 19th century through the work of Bernard Shaw and argues that a Shavian version of serious drama was inextricably linked to the social and political structures of British society at the time While political drama is still often thought of as adhering to a Shavian model in which social issues are presented through a dialectical structure Grochala argues that the different political structures of contemporary Britain give rise to formally inventive dramaturgies that are no less serious or political than their Shavian forebears Through analysing the experimental dramaturgies of contemporary plays by playwrights including Caryl Churchill Simon Stephens Anthony Neilson Debbie Tucker Green and Mark Ravenhill among others it offers a set of new principles for understanding how a play functions politically and reveals how today the dramaturgical structure of a play is as political as its content

The Story of Drama Gary Day, 2016-08-25 Tracing the history of tragedy and comedy from their earliest beginnings to the present this book offers readers an exceptional study of the development of both genres grounded in analysis of landmark plays and their context It argues that sacrifice is central to both genres and demonstrates how it provides a key to understanding the grand sweep of Western drama For students of literature and drama the volume serves as an accessible companion to over two millennia of drama organised by period and reveals how sacrifice represents a through line running from classical drama to today's reality TV and blockbuster movies Across the chapters devoted to each period Day explores how the meanings of sacrifice change over time but never quite disappear He charts the influences of religion social change and politics on the status and purposes of theatre in each period and on the drama itself But it is through a close study of key plays that he reveals the continuities centred around sacrifice that persist and which illuminate aspects of human psychology and social organisation Among the many plays and events considered are Aeschylus' trilogy The Oresteia Aristophanes' Women at the Thesmophoria Menander's The Bad Tempered Man the spectacles of the Roman Games Seneca's The Trojan Women Plautus's The Rope the Cycle plays and Everyman from the Middle Ages Shakespeare's King Lear and A Midsummer Night's Dream Middleton's The Revenger's Tragedy Jonson's Every Man in His Humour Thomas Otway's The Orphan William

Wycherley's The Country Wife Wilde's A Woman of No Importance Beckett's Waiting for Godot Tennessee Williams's A Streetcar Named Desire Suzan-Lori Parks's Topdog/Underdog Sarah Kane's Blasted and Charlotte Jones's Humble Boy A conclusion examines the persistence of ideas of sacrifice in today's reality TV and blockbuster movies     Refracting the Canon in Contemporary British Literature and Film, 2016-08-09 Contemporary works of art that remodel the canon not only create complex hybrid and plural products but also alter our perceptions and understanding of their source texts This is the dual process referred to in this volume as refraction that the essays collected here set out to discuss and analyse by focusing on the dialectic rapport between postmodernism and the canon What is sought in many of the essays is a redefinition of postmodernist art and a re-examination of the canon in the light of contemporary epistemology Given this dual process this volume will be of value both to everyone interested in contemporary art particularly fiction drama and film and also to readers whose aim it is to promote a better appreciation of canonical British literature     Boys' Life, 2001-07 Boys' Life is the official youth magazine for the Boy Scouts of America Published since 1911 it contains a proven mix of news nature sports history fiction science comics and Scouting     Addresses and Messages to the General Court Massachusetts Governor (1925-1929 : Fuller), 1928     From Jack Tar to Union Jack Mary A. Conley, 2017-03-01 Jack Tar to Union Jack examines the intersection between empire navy and manhood in British society from 1870 to 1918 Through analysis of sources that include courts martial cases sailors' own writings and the HMS Pinafore Conley charts new depictions of naval manhood during the Age of Empire a period which witnessed the radical transformation of the navy the intensification of imperial competition the democratisation of British society and the advent of mass culture Jack Tar to Union Jack argues that popular representations of naval men increasingly reflected and informed imperial masculine ideals in Victorian and Edwardian Britain Conley shows how the British Bluejacket as both patriotic defender and dutiful husband and father stood in sharp contrast to the stereotypic image of the brave but bawdy tar of the Georgian navy This book will be essential reading for students of British imperial history naval and military history and gender studies     Famous London Merchants Henry Richard Fox Bourne, 1869     Mr. William Shakespeare's Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies William Shakespeare, 1909     Life, 1883     Life John Ames Mitchell, 2025-07-09 Reprint of the original first published in 1883 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage     LITTLE KINGS Clinton Greene, 2025-04-11 Little Kings Raising Boys with Big Self Worth is a powerful guide for parents and caregivers who want to raise emotionally strong respectful and confident boys in today's complex world Parenting coach Clinton Greene offers a new vision of masculinity rooted in empathy effort and emotional presence not ego or control With practical tools and heartfelt insights this book helps you nurture boys who lead with character speak with courage and grow into men who know their worth From managing emotions and screen time to handling peer pressure and building responsibility each chapter explores
