Environmental Policy In An International Context Vol 1 Perspectives:

Environmental Policy in an International Context Andrew Blowers, Pieter Glasbergen, 1996-05-31 This volume examines the environmental issues currently under debate in the international arena. The text approaches the topic at a conceptual level and from an interdisciplinary viewpoint. It analyses the roles of key players in environmental policy: the nation state, non-governmental organizations and the business community. It continues with an examination of the importance of international relations, trade, east-west, north-south, and goes on to consider the prospects for sustainable development and social changes required for sustainable development to become a reality.

Environmental Policy in an International Context Peter Sloep, Andrew Blowers, 1996-03-29 Volume two considers major environmental issues using individual case studies from around the world as illustrations. These case studies explore the causes of international environmental issues and investigate the conflicts that hamper these solutions. The case studies address such problems as intensive farming, overpopulation, deforestation, climate change and waste disposal. Each case study also looks at policy and management of these international environmental issues. The case studies span the globe, encompassing the Western world as well as the former Eastern Bloc and developing countries in Africa and South East Asia. A critical and analytical look at contemporary environmental issues. Aimed to provide a body of knowledge to social and natural scientists. A multi-disciplinary approach.

Environmental Policy in an International Perspective Laura Marsiliani, Michael Rauscher, Cees Withagen, 2013-06-29 The volume contains papers presented at a conference on the International Dimension of Environmental Policy. It deals with two issues: international environmental agreements and environmental policies in open economies. Both issues are hot topics. The debate on how to cope with global climate change has become increasingly heated and controversial, and the relationship between trade and the environment is on the WTO agenda. The book contains review papers in which leading scholars in the field summarise the state of the art and original research extending the state of the art. Most of the papers are theoretically oriented, but some papers also present empirical results using new econometric methods and new data. The book contains material for those students of economics and researchers who wish to deepen their knowledge in the area of International Environmental Economics, but also for those who endeavour to break new ground in this important field of research.

Environmental Policy in an International Context: Vol. 1 Perspectives on Environmental Problems P.

GLASBERGEN, 1995 NGOs and Environmental Policies David Potter, 2005-06-28 Covering the work of non-governmental organizations in trying to change the environmental policies of governments and business organizations, this study looks at field research in Asia and Africa and relates it to theoretical issues in the academic field.

The Theory of Environmental Agreements and Taxes Martin Enevoldsen, 2005-01-01 Martin Enevoldsen's book is a pioneering work that compares the impacts of various non-regulatory environmental strategies in achieving measurable pollution reductions. Much has been written on the theoretical virtues and drawbacks of green taxation versus the adoption of voluntary agreements when it comes to effective implementation of environmental goals In convincing detail this book makes the case for the effectiveness of environmental taxation its barriers being primarily political in nature rather than economic Green taxes are highly controversial even in the most environmentally conscious nations particularly when they are regarded as a purely fiscal instrument The successful Danish CO2 taxation on industry which this study proves to be much more effective than the Dutch system of voluntary agreements or the Austrian laissez faire policies relied not only on the inducement of the CO2 tax itself all of the tax revenue was ploughed back into industry as subsidies for investments in advanced energy saving technologies Martin Enevoldsen s book is simply a must for political scientists environmental economists and environment policymakers Svend Auken M P and former Danish Minister for Environment and Energy Although there is a huge demand for accurate analysis of environmental policy outcomes in both the academic and policy making communities there is currently very little theoretical research on this issue This ambitious book redresses the balance by constructing a new theoretical framework at the crossroads between economics and political science to account for the effectiveness of environmental governance Drawing on insights from new institutional economics environmental economics collective action theory and social capital theory the author analyses how policy outcomes are influenced by institutional factors that constrain and empower the target groups of environmental regulation

The Mediterranean Russell King,Lindsay Proudfoot,Bernard Smith,2014-02-25 This book addresses contemporary geographical issues in the Mediterranean Basin from a perspective that recognizes the physical characteristics and cultural interactions which link the different Mediterranean states as a recognisable geographic entity Sixteen chapters each deal with a major geographical issue currently facing the Mediterranean each providing an invaluable summary of the extensive but widely dispersed literature relating to Mediterranean issues Particular emphasis is placed on the interaction between society and environment in terms of environmental management differential regional development and its associated political demographic cultural and economic tensions

The Policy Process in International Environmental Governance S. Aggarwal-Khan,2011-11-30 This book questions the practices in the policy processes of international institutions It looks at the formal and informal practices that are routinely undertaken as part of the structure of international policy processes and analyses how people behave and with what outcome for international environmental governance

Australia's Economy in Its International Context, Volume 2: 1956-2012 Kym Anderson,2012 This two volume collection brings together the first 56 Joseph Fisher Lectures in economics and commerce presented at the Adelaide University every other year since 1904 Funds for the Lectures together with a medal for the top accounting student each year were kindly provided by a 1 000 endowment to the University by the prominent Adelaide businessman Joseph Fisher in 1903 The Lectures address a wide range of Australian economic issues in addition to some international economic issues of national significance They have stood the test of time extremely well while also providing a reminder of the events and concerns that were prominent at different times during the past century the 21st Century Andy Blowers, Bob Evans, 2013-01-11 Provides a series of insights into the planning process introduces the key issues currently facing planning and offers prescriptions for the changes required as we move into the next millenium Leading experts outline the changing context for land use and environmental policy in Britain and explain why the existing processes and profession of town planning are likely to be unable to provide satisfactory policy responses in the future Key themes debated include widening the remit of traditional town planning giving land and buildings a community value acting for people rather than simply for the market promoting an equalization of environmental conditions and discouragement of motorization the need to anticipate long term global trends at the local and national level Contributors Andrew Blowers Bob Colenutt Richard Cowell Bob Evans Cliff Hague Peter Hall Susan Owens Eric Reade Yvonne Rydin Hitotsubashi Journal of Social Studies ,1995-12 Co-operative Environmental Governance P. Glasbergen, 2012-12-06 New philosophies of environmental management are being put to the test in many countries New ideas are needed to replace or at least flank the old command and control approach which has lost its credibility One of the most interesting new avenues is co operative environmental management whereby public and private parties work together to tackle a problem It is interesting because it seems to be well suited to handling complex environmental problems This kind of management makes use of the policy instrument known as the Environmental Agreement That tool is geared to the development of sustainable procedures for working out solutions The Environmental Agreement provides scope to deal with some essential characteristics of current environmental problems Indeed one of the most vexing aspects of environmental problems is uncertainty both in the ecological sphere and with respect to the economic effects of intervention In short this instrument takes the unknown into account Environmental Governance for Sustainable Development Uma Nabhi, 2023-04-10 This book studies the role of the United Nations Environment Programme UNEP as an advocate for greater environmental responsibility and analyses the major achievements and outcomes of two landmark conferences Stockholm 1972 and Rio 1992 which set the agenda for the future role of the UNEP It discusses the UNEP s evolution objectives and the problems of differing perspectives within its ability to deal with environmental challenges its skill in successfully carrying out the mandate and contributing to the pursuit of environmental security The book also looks at five developing countries of South Asia namely India Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka to study the role of the South Asia Co operative Environment Programme SACEP which plays an active role in the management of environmental issues and constitutes an important landmark in regional cooperation in South Asia The author evaluates the contributions of National Conservation Strategies not only in creating environmental awareness but also in strengthening environmental governance architecture by integrating Millennium Development Goals and Sustainable Development Goals into the development planning of these South Asian countries under study Drawing on in depth research and interviews this book will be of interest to students teachers researchers policymakers and strategic analysts working in the fields of environment studies sustainable development environmental science and policy environmental law and governance geography politics and international affairs Routledge Handbook of Ecological and Environmental Restoration Stuart K. Allison, Stephen D. Murphy, 2017-05-18 Ecological restoration is a rapidly evolving discipline that is engaged with developing both methodologies and strategies for repairing damaged and polluted ecosystems and environments During the last decade the rapid pace of climate change coupled with continuing habitat destruction and the spread of non native species to new habitats has forced restoration ecologists to re evaluate their goals and the methods they use This comprehensive handbook brings together an internationally respected group of established and rising experts in the field The book begins with a description of current practices and the state of knowledge in particular areas of restoration and then identifies new directions that will help the field achieve increasing levels of future success Part I provides basic background about ecological and environmental restoration Part II systematically reviews restoration in key ecosystem types located throughout the world In Part III management and policy issues are examined in detail offering the first comprehensive treatment of policy relevance in the field while Part IV looks to the future Ultimately good ecological restoration depends upon a combination of good science policy planning and outreach all issues that are addressed in this unrivalled volume Unravelling desertification M. Juntti, 2023-08-28 This book analyses processes of desertification from a social science perspective and unravels the policy related to drivers of desertification Desertification is addressed both as a concept surrounded by a multitude of different discourses and as a tangible unsustainable process that is connected to a complex set of policies and changing land management practices The focus is on Southern Europe where desertification has been a long standing problem in many areas and where in some places the loss of productive capacity has worsened considerably over the last few decades By focusing on four specific case study areas in Portugal Spain Italy and Greece the scope of the book will cover the human dimension of desertification exploring in particular how the framework of existing policies has affected land management decisions and desertification processes The emphasis will be on how policies may have contributed to desertification alleviation and mitigation as well as to a worsening of desertification processes By using an actor network approach the book specifically investigates the importance of networks of actors that shape the nature and direction of policies that affect desertification processes In this sense this book aims at providing a first glance into the complex policy economic and socio cultural networks that operate at the local regional and national levels in areas of Southern Europe affected by desertification and to analyse how these networks hinder or promote the implementation of policies aimed at alleviating the threat of desertification With its broad remit this exciting book will appeal to many different audiences not only including academics and students of various disciplines but also practitioners at the local regional Mediterranean and international e g EU spatial levels in a variety of fields such as environmental and agricultural policy making agricultural extension services farming organisations environmental NGOs media representatives and many other environmental stakeholder groups Society and Exploitation Through Nature Martin Phillips, Tim Mighall, 2014-06-06

Society and Exploitation Through Nature offers an integrated approach to the environment linking the philosophical social and physical sciences to environmental problems and issues The text covers three main themes exploitation of nature and society the limits of exploitation through sustainability and managing environmental problems These themes are illustrated throughout the book with global case studies

Handbook of Water Resources Management: Discourses, Concepts and Examples Janos J. Bogardi, Joyeeta Gupta, K. D. Wasantha Nandalal, Léna Salamé, Ronald R.P. van Nooijen, Navneet Kumar, Tawatchai Tingsanchali, Anik Bhaduri, Alla G. Kolechkina, 2021-06-12 This book provides an overview of facts theories and methods from hydrology geology geophysics law ethics economics ecology engineering sociology diplomacy and many other disciplines with relevance for concepts and practice of water resources management It provides comprehensive but also critical reading material for all communities involved in the ongoing water discourses and debates The book refers to case studies in the form of boxes sections or as entire chapters They illustrate success stories but also lessons to be remembered to avoid repeating the same mistakes Based on consolidated state of the art knowledge it has been conceived and written to attract a multidisciplinary audience The aim of this handbook is to facilitate understanding between the participants of the international water discourse and multi level decision making processes Knowing more about water but also about concepts methods and aspirations of different professional disciplinary communities and stakeholders professionalizes the debate and enhances the decision making

Research in Education ,1972 Environmental Health Perspectives ,2007-08 Woven Together James S. Mastaler, 2019-04-17 Now more than ever it s critical that religious stories encompass a call to moral responsibility for the earth and to the global poor But the divorce between religious faith and science has left many people feeling unmoored and adrift at a time when we ought to be drawing closer to nature and each other It is a theological activity to see the world as it really is to look its suffering squarely in the face and tend to a wounded world The global poor especially women among them are some of the world s most disenfranchised people Their realities must inform the conversations about God and the world that people of faith are having in the church There is no salvation from the world only salvation with the world This means learning to live as a member of a community of mutual responsibility to look inward and ask ourselves how we might turn outward and live differently Concern for nature and social justice must become a central part of Christian moral life
