Envisioning The Past:

Envisioning the Past Sam Smiles, Stephanie Moser, 2008-04-15 Envisioning the Past Archaeology and the Image is a groundbreaking collection of original essays that brings together archaeologists art historians and anthropologists to provide new perspectives on the construction of knowledge concerning the antiquity of man Covers a wide variety of time periods and topics from the Renaissance and the 18th century to the engravings photography and virtual realities of today Questions what we can learn from considering the use of images in the past and present that might guide our responsible use of them in the future Available within the prestigious New Interventions in Art History series published in connection with the Association of Art Historians Envision the Past ,2000 The Midland ,1917 Envisioning the Past University College, London. Institute of Archaeology, 2001 Announcing the Feast Jason McFarland, 2012-02-01 How does the entrance song of the Mass function within the Roman Rite What can it express theologically What should Roman Catholics sing at the beginning of Mass In this groundbreaking study Jason McFarland answers these and other important questions by exploring the history and theology of the entrance song of Mass After a careful history of the entrance song he investigates its place in church documents He proposes several models of the entrance song for liturgical celebration today Finally he offers a skillful theological analysis of the entrance song genre focusing on the song for the Holy Thursday Evening Mass arguably the most important entrance song of the entire liturgical year Announcing the Feast provides the most comprehensive treatment of the Roman Rite entrance song to date It is unique in that it bridges the disciplines of liturgical studies musicology and theological method Geoarchaeology Carlos Cordova, 2018-08-30 Geoarchaeology is traditionally concerned with reconstructing the environmental aspects of past societies using the methods of the earth sciences The field has been steadily enriched by scholars from a diversity of disciplines and much has happened as the importance of global perspectives on environmental change has emerged Carlos Cordova provides a fully up to date account of geoarchaeology that reflects the important changes that have occurred in the past four decades Innovative features include the development of the human ecological approach and the impact of technology on this approach how the diversity of disciplines contributes to archaeological questions frontiers of archaeology in the deep past particularly the Anthropocene the geoarchaeology of the contemporary past the emerging field of ethno geoarchaeology the role of geoarchaeology in global environmental crises and climate change Brussels and Europe Roel De Groof, 2009 Fifty years after the conclusion of the Treaties of Rome 25 March 1957 and the foundation of the European Economic Community Brussels has become a political world city and international capital with global influence The acta of the interuniversity and international colloquium held in Brussels on 18 and 19 December 2006 present a general outline of the research results and 26 contributions based on original research and divided into three parts The first part focuses on Brussels position in the world city network How has Brussels grown into the European and international capital we know today What exactly is its legal status as the European Capital Of course other aspects such as the relationship between the Brussels Capital Region and the Europe of Regions and the role of Brussels as the place for lobbying the European Union are also examined The second part focuses on the interaction between the European institutions and Brussels What are the socioeconomic demographic political and linguistic effects of their presence Finally a number of pressure points and areas of tension are analysed How is Brussels imagined or represented as the capital of Europe And what is the impact of the European presence on urban planning and security policy Back cover

Envisioning the Past Through Memories Davide Nadali, 2016-08-11 Memory is a constructed system of references in equilibrium of feeling and rationality Comparing ancient and contemporary mechanisms for the preservation of memories and the building of a common cultural political and social memory this volume aims to reveal the nature of memory and explores the attitudes of ancient societies towards the creation of a memory to be handed down in words pictures and mental constructs Since the multiple natures of memory involve every human activity physical and intellectual this volume promotes analyses and considerations about memory by focusing on various different cultural activities and productions of ancient Near Eastern societies from artistic and visual documents to epigraphic evidence and by considering archaeological data The chapters of this volume analyse the value and function of memory within the ancient Near Eastern and Egyptian societies combining archaeological textual and iconographical evidence following a progression from the analysis of the creation and preservation of both single and multiple memories to the material culture things and objects that shed light on the impact of memory on individuals and community

Nka , 1996 Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America National Academy of Sciences (U.S.), 2007 Playing with History John Butt, 2002-05-30 This challenging 2002 study examines and ultimately defends the case for historically informed musical performance Barbed Wire and Wayfarers Edwin Ford Piper, 1924 The Barbed Wire country lies west of the Missouri its years are the early eighties Wayfarers later in the same decade is about men walking through the settlement on the road to Denver The Black Hills Prefatory note An Ethnomusicologist's Last Lecture Steven Loza, 2023-12-07 An Ethnomusicologist's Last Lecture Music and Globalism Philosophy and Religion explores the frustration of many scholars and artists with the content and directions of studies on music which continue to be mostly based on Western thought methods theories and even the modes of communicating ideas and mostly through written published works Steven Loza argues that this pattern has pervaded both philosophy and ethnomusicology fields which should be much more globally based in terms of intellectual analysis culturally diverse points of view and the recognition of multiple ways of thinking and doing He criticizes what he perceives as an intellectual hegemony and biased approach to studying music including the standards to which academics are held responsible the manner in which we and our students have had to study music and the forms by which we are pressured to present our findings many times adapting theories and ideas that have nothing to do with the cultures we are examining through a one way microscope and often a distorted lens Loza takes the reader through an assortment of historical and contemporary global examples of musical expression creative artists and thinkers looking for ways that we can assess how music both reflects and enacts culturally diverse peoples beliefs thoughts and world views
