

I Will Fight no More Forever

By: Chief Joseph

- I am tired of fighting.
Our chiefs are killed.
Looking Glass is dead.
Toohulhulsote is dead.
The old men are all dead.
It is the young men who say no and yes.
He who led the young men is dead.
It is cold and we have no blankets.
The little children are freezing to death.
My people, some of them,
Have run away to the hills
And have no blankets, no food.
No one know where they are-
Perhaps they are freezing to death.
I want to have time to look for my children
And see how many of them I can find.
Maybe I shall find them among the dead.
Hear me, my chiefs, I am tired.
My heart is sad and sick.
From where the sun now stands
I will fight no more forever.

Gustafson,2015 In this thought provoking book Scott Gustafson argues that economics performs the same function in contemporary American culture that religions did in past cultures He describes and analyzes the rituals pilgrimage sites myths prophets reformers sacraments and mission of economics to show how the economy operates as our de facto god Understanding how economics functions as a religion is the first step in addressing many of today s political and social problems Gustafson says Our inability to compromise on economic matters is much more intelligible when competing principles are understood as religious laws that cannot be violated At the Altar of Wall Street encompasses a broad sweep of history philosophy culture studies economic ideas and religion of course and offers insightful discussion of such topics as debt economic terrorism globalization and money as the economy s sacrament Crafting Peace Through Autoethnography Susan Mossman Riva,2025-06-20 In Crafting Peace Through Autoethnography Dr Riva shares her autoethnographic method that employs a transformational pedagogy for conflict resolution and peace studies She provides peace study scholar practitioners with a model that can be applied to traditional higher education classrooms as well as online learning platforms Indians on Display Norman K Denzin,2016-06-16 Even as their nations and cultures were being destroyed by colonial expansion across the continent American Indians became a form of entertainment sometimes dangerous and violent sometimes primitive and noble Creating a fictional wild west entrepreneurs then exported it around the world Exhibitions by George Catlin paintings by Charles King and Wild West shows by Buffalo Bill Cody were viewed by millions worldwide Norman Denzin uses a series of performance pieces with historical contemporary and fictitious characters to provide a cultural critique of how this version of Indians one that existed only in the western imagination was commodified and sold to a global audience He then calls for a rewriting of the history of the American west one devoid of minstrelsy and racist pageantry and honoring the contemporary cultural and artistic visions of people whose ancestors were shattered by American expansionism Always Already New Lisa Gitelman,2008-08-29 In Always Already New Lisa Gitelman explores the newness of new media while she asks what it means to do media history Using the examples of early recorded sound and digital networks Gitelman challenges readers to think about the ways that media work as the simultaneous subjects and instruments of historical inquiry Presenting original case studies of Edison s first phonographs and the Pentagon s first distributed digital network the ARPANET Gitelman points suggestively toward similarities that underlie the cultural definition of records phonographic and not at the end of the nineteenth century and the definition of documents digital and not at the end of the twentieth As a result Always Already New speaks to present concerns about the humanities as much as to the emergent field of new media studies Records and documents are kernels of humanistic thought after all part of and party to the cultural impulse to preserve and interpret Gitelman s argument suggests inventive contexts for humanities computing while also offering a new perspective on such traditional humanities disciplines as literary history Making extensive use of archival sources Gitelman describes the ways in which recorded sound and digitally networked text each emerged as local anomalies that were yet deeply embedded within the reigning logic of public life and public memory In the end Gitelman turns to the World Wide Web and asks how the history of the Web is already being told how the Web might also resist history and how using the Web might be producing the conditions of its own historicity Los Angeles Documentary and the Production of Public History, 1958-1977

Joshua Glick,2018-01-19 Los Angeles Documentary and the Production of Public History 1958 1977 explores how documentarians working between the election of John F Kennedy and the Bicentennial created conflicting visions of the recent and more distant American past Drawing on a wide range of primary documents Joshua Glick analyzes the films of Hollywood documentarians such as David Wolper and Mel Stuart along with lesser known independents and activists such as Kent Mackenzie Lynne Littman and Jes s Salvador Trevi o While the former group reinvigorated a Cold War cultural liberalism the latter group advocated for social justice in a city plagued by severe class stratification and racial segregation Glick examines how mainstream and alternative filmmakers turned to the archives civic institutions and production facilities of Los Angeles in order to both change popular understandings of the city and shape the social consciousness of the nation

Divine Violence and the Character of God Claude F. Mariottini,2022-02-01 There is much violence in the Old Testament both human and divine Christians and non Christians react differently to what they read about the God of the Old Testament Some people are so affected by the violence found in the Old Testament that they give up on God stop going to church and reading the Bible and eventually lose their faith Others are offended by divine violence and seek to find an alternative explanation for the violent acts of God in the Old Testament A popular alternative in the twenty first century is to return to the second century and adopt some form of Marcionism and make the God of the Old Testament to be a different God from the God revealed by Christ in the New Testament The purpose of this book is not a defense of God and his use of violence The author seeks to understand why God acted the way he did and to understand the reason for divine violence in the Old Testament Yahweh did use violence in his work of reconciliation However the use of violence was necessary when everything else failed Israel provoked God to anger When God brought judgment upon his people he did so with tears in his eyes
