Assessments of Regional and Global Environmental Risks Alexander E.

Farrell, Jill Professor Jäger, 2010-09-30 As environmental challenges grow larger in scale and implications it is increasingly important to apply the best scientific knowledge in the decisionmaking process Editors Farrell and Jäger present environmental assessments as the bridge between the expert knowledge of scientists and engineers on the one hand and decisionmakers on the other When done well assessments have a positive impact on public policy the strategic decisions of private firms and ultimately the quality of life for many people This book is the result of an international interdisciplinary research project to analyze past environmental assessments and understand how their design influenced their effectiveness in bringing scientific evidence and insight into the decisionmaking process The case studies in the book feature a wide range of regional and global risks including ozone depletion transboundary air pollution and climate change Assessments of Regional and Global Environmental Risks offers several important contributions It provides a clear account of the choices faced in the design of environmental assessments and a clear description of the lessons learned from past assessments It illustrates why assessments are social processes not simply reports And while they identify no universal one size fits all design the authors find that to be effective environmental assessments must be viewed by those who produce and use them as being salient credible in their scientific support and legitimate or fair in design and execution

The Role of Ecological Chemistry in Pollution Research and Sustainable Development Ali Mufit Bahadir, Gheorghe Duca, 2009-08-03

Sustainable Development has become the leading concept of the 21 century It describes a development which agrees with the needs of the present generation but does not endanger the chances of the coming generations to satisfy also their needs Sustainable development has become an important general goal for all fields of life like economy ecology and social balance The development and shaping of our future has been discussed internationally like on the summits of the Conferences in Rio and in Johannesburg But this is also a topic on national base in various countries Leading authorities in various fields of economy and politics have also accepted this concept Although the concept of sustainable development has been generally accepted there are still problems how to achieve and evaluate these general goals It is clear that the definitions about the prime needs vary from man to man from country to country and from continent to continent But pollution does not respect national borders Therefore it is necessary to develop the politics of economy ecology and social demands by a synergistic way that they are strengthened by each other If it is not possible to stop tendencies which threaten the future quality of life the cost demands of societies will dramatically increase and negative tendencies will become irreversible
