Environmentally Devastated Areas In River Basins In Eastern Europe:

Environmentally Devastated Areas in River Basins in Eastern Europe Alfons G. Buekens, Vasily V. Dragalov, 2013-04-17
The fall of the iron curtain revealed widespread environmental and safety shortcomings in relation to industrial operations mining and other human activities. It was the purpose of this Advanced Research Workshop sponsored by NATO to bring together a group of eminent experts from East and West in order to present and analyse environmental data, assess environmental damage, establish priorities, strategies and methods of remediation and compare these with case studies from the Western World. In this volume a number of important contributions have been gathered that reflect the presentations and discussions held. Alfons Georges Buekens, Vasily Victorovich Dragalov. Water Pollution Issues and Developments Sarah V. Thomas, 2008 Pollution is an undesirable state of the natural environment being contaminated with harmful substances as a consequence of human activities so that the environment becomes harmful or unfit for living things especially applicable to the contamination of soil water or the atmosphere by the discharge of harmful substances. In addition to the harm to living beings both present or future and known or unknown pollution cleanup and surveillance are enormous financial drains of the economies of the world. This book focuses on issues and developments critical for the field.

Sustainable Development of the Lake Baikal Region Valentin A. Koptug, Martin Uppenbrink, 2013-04-17 Lake Baikal is the oldest largest and deepest lake in the world. Its unique animal life and the beauty of the surrounding landscapes are renowned. The book discusses the sustainable development of the lake and its use as a model for the rest of the world. It consolidates existing data on the current state of the environment and economy of the region, develops a system of indicators of sustainable developments, makes recommendations on additional components to the existing monitoring system and considers a legal framework and instrument for its implementation.
